Video Tape, Victory Bell Expands

Above: Under the watchful eye of Mr. Stroup, the video tape machine begins its first test run. Right: New faculty member Robert Conley, examines tools before distributing them to his classes.

Everett's Horizon

Important improvements and new innovations were stressed at Everett this year, enabling students to find a richer atmosphere in which to further their education.

A video tape machine was added to Everett's broadcasting system. The $4,000 instrument was provided by the Board of Education at no cost to the school.

Pep assemblies and games were enhanced with the presence of the "Victory" bell. The bell was given to Everett as a parting gift from the class of '67 in the hopes of creating school spirit and boosting morale.

For the first time at Everett, psychology was offered to second semester seniors. Mr. Wilson and Mr. Townsend taught the basics. Mr. Eric Pierson was added to the staff as a chemistry and physics teacher. The shop classes were taught by Mr. Robert Conley, and Mr. Lewis Leonard was added to the science department.

Mr. Pierson assists Ted Spencer in a chemistry experiment.

Psychology was added to Everett's curriculum this year. Mr. Wilson returns one of his little friends to its cage after completing a conditioning experiment.

The class of '67 has left but they remain in spirit as they proudly presented the "Victory" bell as a parting gift to the school.

Underclassmen Gain Knowledge of Life

Working hard to achieve the prize are Lynn Poetzinger, Barb Rice, and Sue Harmon. Below: Everett students combine patriotism with enthusiasm.

Through Their Own Personal Experiences

Walking lost in the halls, wondering how you ever made it to high school, and how you will ever make it through: this was the sophomore class. Shy at first, they soon found their place in Everett, and began their long vigil. Not to be outdone by the upperclassmen, they became actively engaged in all the school projects. Their participation in activities, and their fresh ideas helped enrich Everett's atmosphere.

For the junior class, it was another year of hard work and studying. They soon became accustomed to squeezing their homework and term papers between sports activities and club meetings. College meetings and counseling in preparation for the future became prominent, and they soon found that studying and good grades were the keys to a better education in college. While learning was of utmost importance, the junior class also enjoyed many of the recreational facilities at Everett. With other classmates, they learned the meaning of growing up through the sharing of experiences.

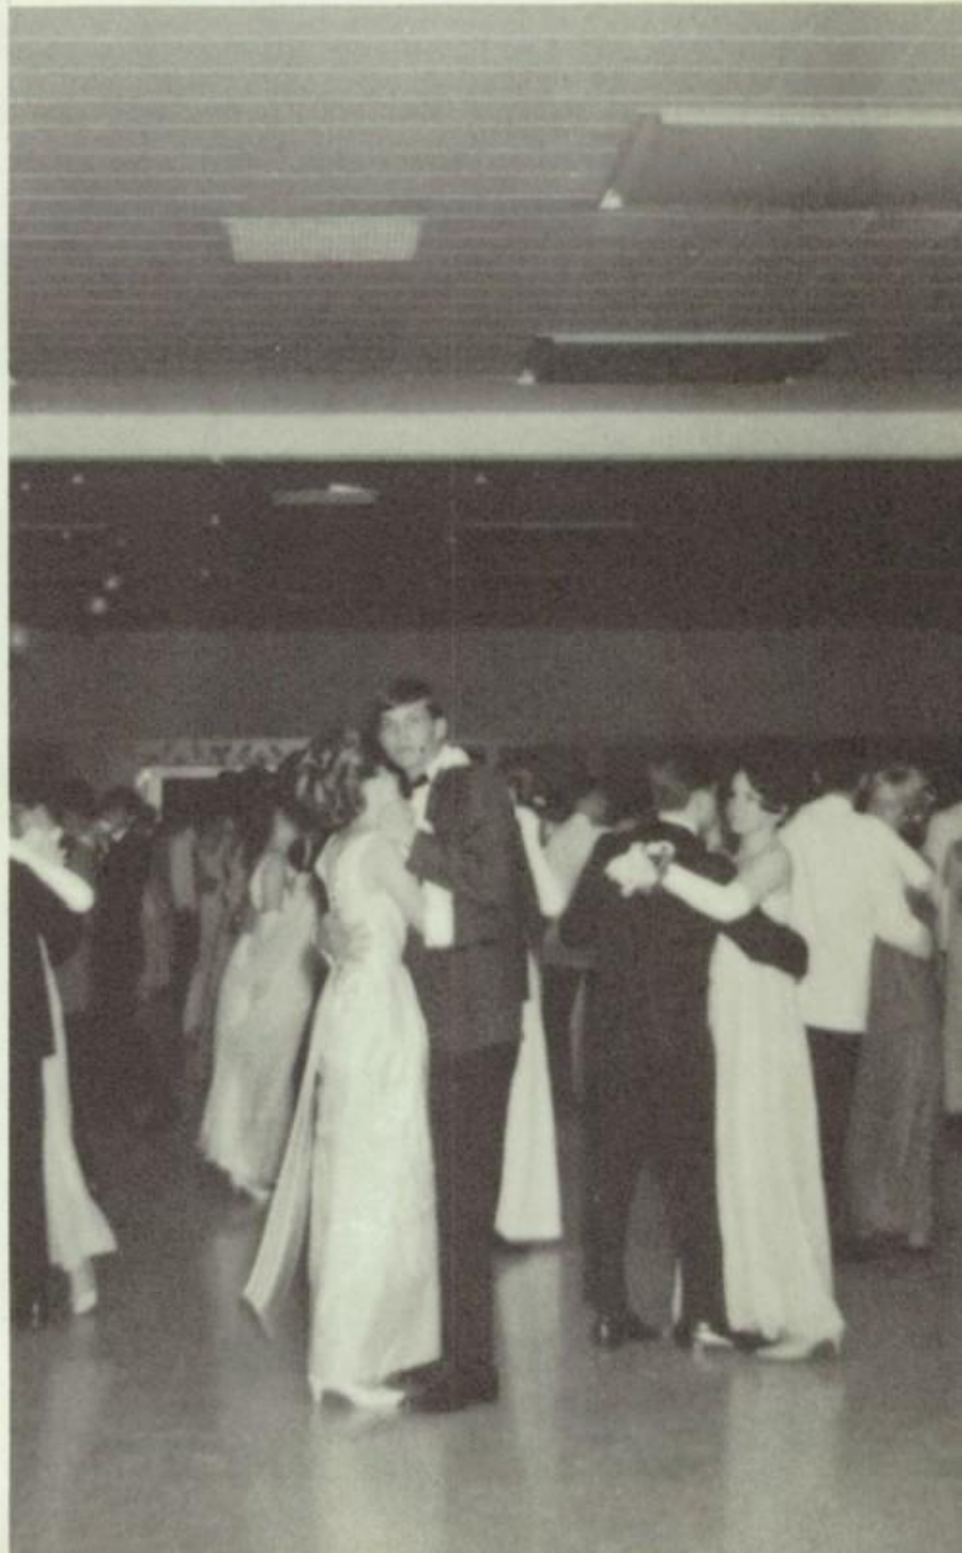

Sue Huyser and Claudia Smith gain experience and confidence while making a presentation to their class.

The Junior Prom was the highlight of the year for the class of 1969.

Juniors Karen May and Craig Johnson work with anticipation on Junior Prom decorations.

Rick Lilly and Mr. Delbridge express delight at the punch prepared by seniors Virginia Kennedy, Ann Adams, Cindy Belon, and Kris Beaudoin at the Faculty Tea.

Result of Three Hard Years

The year of 1968 was filled with time consuming activities, much of it originating within the student body. To the senior class, it was not just another year in high school, but the last. Not to be outdone by the underclass, they enthusiastically undertook many school and class projects.

All three classes found their time limited as the year progressed. Pep assemblies, fall and winter homecoming, the school musical "Carousel," and sports activities were entwined with homework, term papers, and final exams. To the seniors, these were just a part of the last year as they soon became involved in college applications and tests, the senior play, graduation announcements, measurements for gowns, and finally commencement.

Each event was transformed into a memory and the faces of friends became special as they represented the happy years of high school.

Senior Kris Soderberg stops to eat a hasty lunch between classes and cadet teaching.

Teachers and Students Mix Hard Work With

Juniors, with artistic abilities, assist in making junior prom decorations.

The school year of 1967-68 has passed, but while we cannot live it over, we have captured many thrilling moments in our memories.

The stadium, though now quiet, will always echo the cheers of excited students wishing the "Vikings" on to victory. The musical notes from "Carousel" and the tense anticipation of "The Ugly American" still hangs suspended in the air.

For those of us leaving for the last time, we take these memories and the ones accumulated in the past three years. Others will be returning to build their past and create their future.

Enjoyment Throughout Entire Year

Biology teacher Mr. Chuck Bowers, alias Charlie Brown, plays in the sand box during one of his more personal moments.

The faculty this year was as spirited as the student body. Each one brought out the true meaning of school to the students, and gave them the "golden opportunity" to life. But teachers are human beings and not just people who are put in front of a class to pound into each and every one, the basic fundamentals of life. They understand our problems and help us to better understand the world around us.

Besides directing us in our studies, many teachers became involved in extra-curricular activities of the school. Pep assemblies and games were enriched by the presence and participation of the faculty. The students were able to view their teachers as individuals, as each member revealed a little bit of their inner selves by sharing personal experiences.

Although we had a strong minded faculty, their physical weaknesses were many. During the year one faculty member twisted his ankle. Another caught her arm in a garage door while trying to beat the door down.

Enjoyment:

An Expression of Life

Stepping stones can be tricky, but Mrs. Kellerman masters the art with little difficulty.

Mr. Leyrer anxiously waits for runners of the Cross Country Team to appear.

Faculty cheerleaders cheer Mr. Cook on as he makes his grand entry to the fall pep assembly.

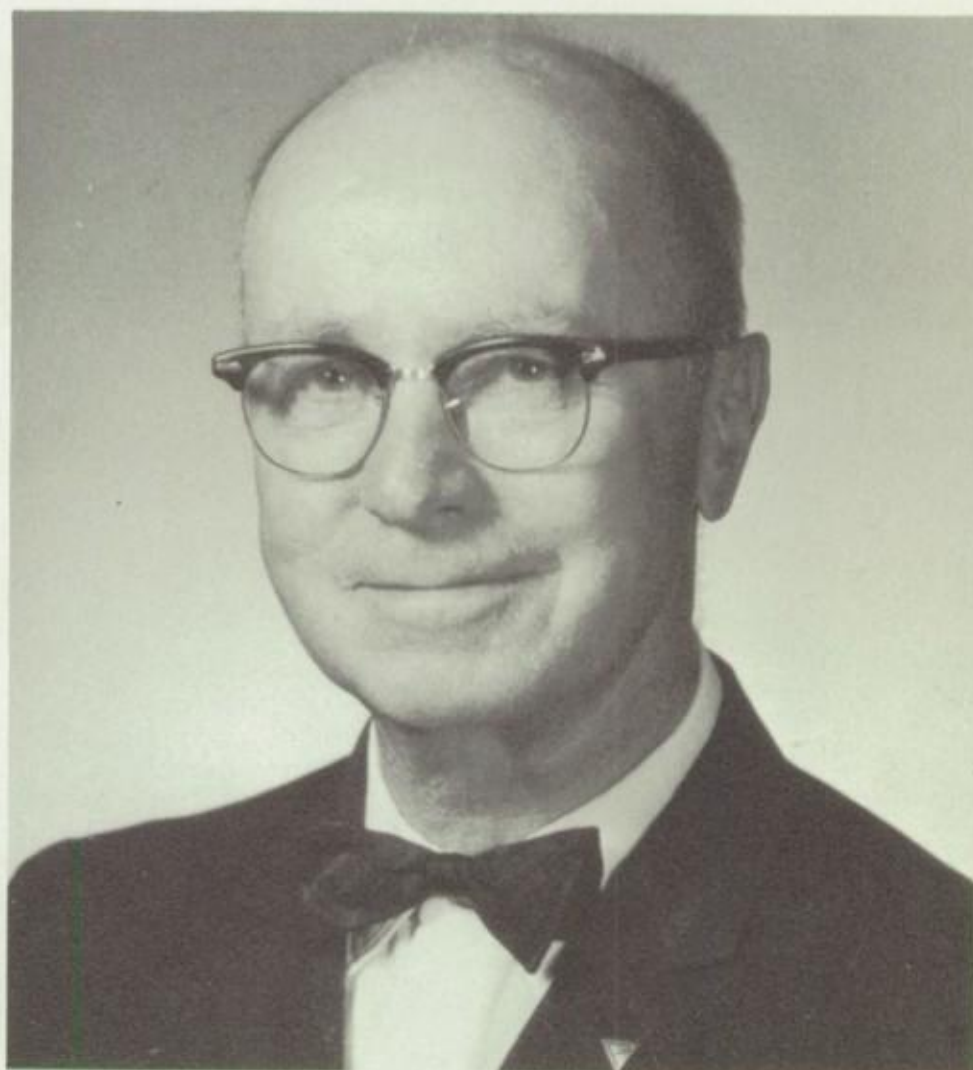

Mr. Bauer watches with hopeful intentions as a foul is called on one of his team members.

In Memoriam Lester T. Strickler

With the loss of Lester Strickler, Everett began the second semester with an air of sadness and a feeling of emptiness within its walls. Although his death was noted and felt by many, it was not announced until the next week, for it would have been his wish not to upset the student body during exams.

Mr. Strickler, who was the head of the science department for his twenty-three and a half years at Everett, taught physics and chemistry. While actively participating in the Masonic Lodge, where he was past master, he also found time to devote his energy to enrich Everett. Besides being in charge of the science department, he coached the first cross country team in 1946-47 and again in 1951. After moving to the new building, he became the manager of the large auditorium.

Dedicated to his profession, Mr. Strickler devoted himself to teaching young people, not only of science but also of life. He was rewarded as many students later felt that he alone had the greatest influence in preparing them for college. He has left an empty place behind him; one that shall always exist, and he shall be missed by all.

*Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,*

*But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep Turns again home.*

*Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;*

*For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.*

School Life: A Time for

Youth To Grow

Spirit, enthusiastic participation and fulfillment . . . the sources which make a student's life. Stretching with your last ounce of strength to squeeze one more activity into your busy schedule. School life . . . a time when memories are formed . . . remembering the pep assemblies which kicked off big games . . . walking down the lonely halls after school hours . . . skiing at Echo Valley with other members of Young Life . . . spending long hours in rehearsal for "Carousel" and "The Ugly American" . . . the beauty of fall and winter homecoming. High school . . . a time allotted to us in which we can grow . . . socially, spiritually and mentally. Memories of the past are still present, but so are thoughts of the future . . . exams and graduation . . . listening to pop music and thinking of California . . . or perhaps of college and going on with life. All these are formed in school . . . and expressed through hopeful expressions.

Student Council's Thanksgiving Project a

Slaves were auctioned to students during lunch hours to raise money for the Thanksgiving project.

Every organization needs some sort of leadership and this year the Student Council had an excellent executive board. Paul Gentilozzi, president, showed all the qualities of a good leader. He was the symbol of authority in the council, and yet he did not try to push beyond limits.

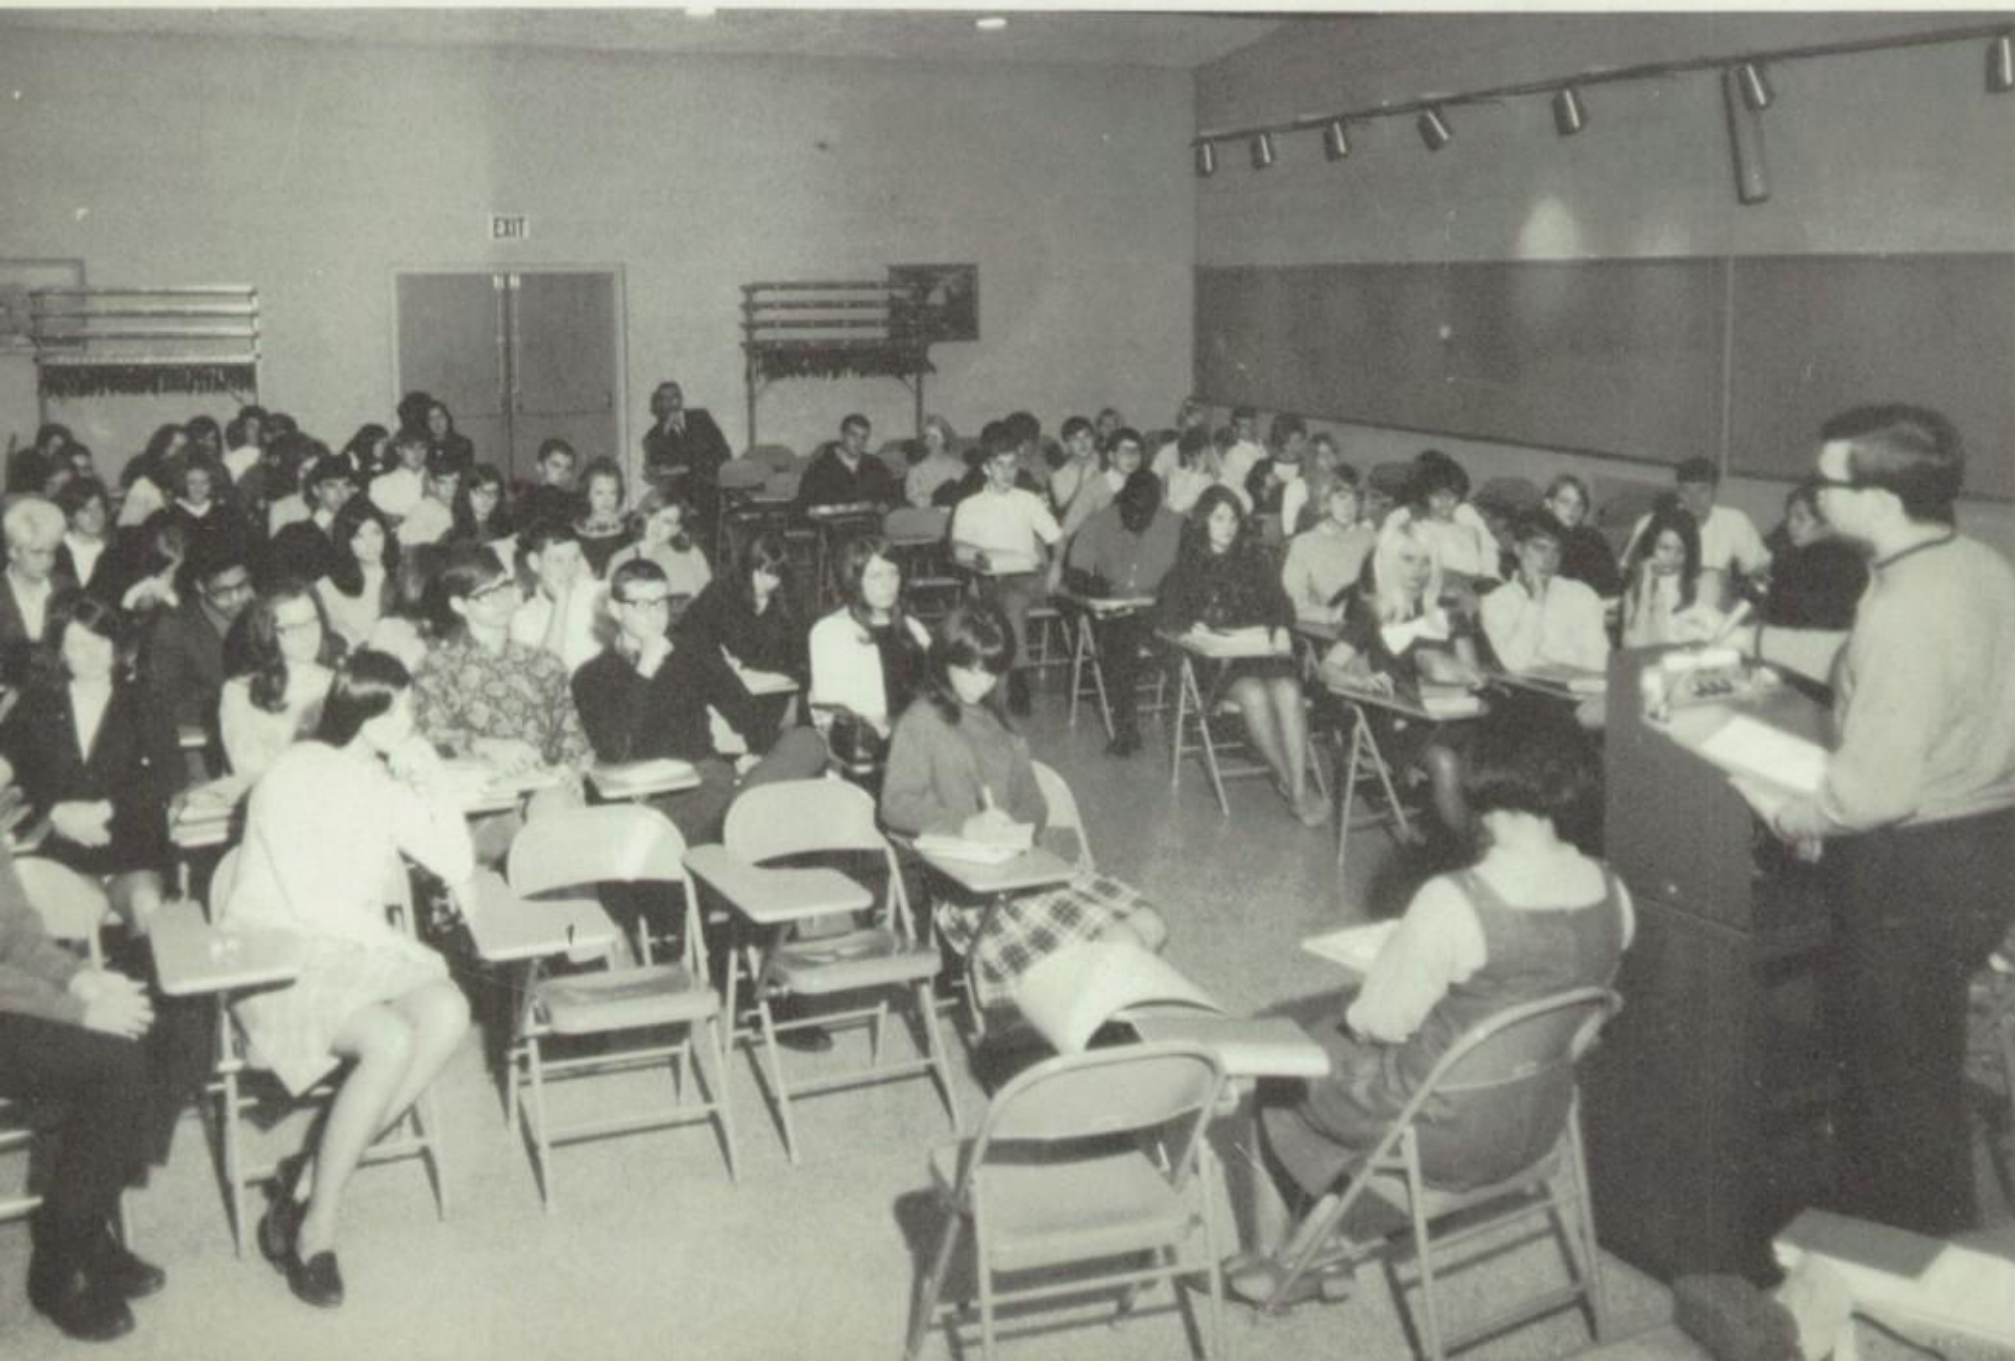

Vice-president Kathi Hall was ever-ready to assume Paul's position whenever necessary. She was the little girl with the big heart that brought pep and spirit to Everett.

Much hard work was put into the minutes Chris Beaudoin prepared each week after the meetings.

Being the Social Secretary for a school the size of Everett is a big job, but Linda Terry fulfilled this job fully with no complaints.

Representing the junior class on the executive board was Cindy White, treasurer. Her duties were performed with the utmost accuracy and neatness.

During the past year these five officers led Everett's Student Council through a number of projects. Among the accomplishments was the highly successful Thanksgiving project, the Toys for Tots program, the after-game dances and general school improvement projects.

doin, Kathi Hall, and Cindy White surround Paul at the front.

Archives Staff

Work in Anticipation of Another A+ Rating

Stacks of books piled high on the back table of 213 signified to all who entered, that the Archives staff was once again at work. To those who worked on the book, the hair-pulling moments and the short tempers of anxious section editors were compensated by the joys and rewards of the distribution day in June.

For the second year in a row, Mr. James Faulkner, advisor, opened his room during eighth hour for the Archives staff. The book was headed by Nancy Archambeau, editor-in-chief, Debra Hawks, associate editor, and Jane Klepac, assistant editor.

The section editors were: Jane Klepac, academics; Carol Weisenberg, activities; Sharon Harman, sports and organizations; Ruth Carr, assistant organizations editor; LoRae Hamilton, seniors; Kris Soderberg and Terri Swan, underclass; John Berg, advertising; and Ruthann Charles, senior directory. Assisting the editors were Beth Harkins, Cindy Becker, Sherry Volmer, Gail Fox, Julie Leyrer, Suzanne Harman, Tim Royer, Thay Beach, and Herb Baker.

Kris Soderberg and Ruth Carr size pictures to meet a first deadline.

Trying to meet an important first deadline are the Archives staff members busily working with their various projects of typing, writing, identifying pictures, and making decisions. Cathy Dean, Julie Leyrer, Pam Hooker, Cindy Becker, Thay Beach, Nancy Archambeau and Carol Weisenberg.

Viking and Business Staff Work To

Sharon Harman, Bob Jackson, Chris Fuhrmeister, Don Simmons and Paul Fuhrmeister read and check copy for publication in the Viking.

Much credit was awarded to Mara Alexander, editor-in-chief, of the Viking newspaper. Eight papers were published and read with enthusiasm by Everett students.

Kathie Henderson, the assistant editor, edited the eighth newspaper of the year with the help of Mara. Other staff members were: Chris Fuhrmeister, Sports Editor; Jim Hamilton and Sharon Harman, Sports Staff; Pat Henry, Exchange Editor; John Frye, Photography Editor; Charles Faulkner, Business Manager; Diane Metzger, Bookkeeper; and Steve Woodruff, Publicity Manager. Staff writers included: Charles Faulkner, Janis Flegler, Paul Fuhrmeister, Robert Jackson, Sharon Harman, Steve Vealey, and Ken Winter.

Advisor, Mr. James Faulkner was pleased with the papers during his second year as advisor of the journalism publications.

During the year four trips were taken by the staff. One was the Michigan State University Day during the spring. Conventions took place at the University of Michigan at the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association. The year was rounded out at the year-end party in Grand Ledge.

Winning the approval of local advertisers of the Archives are John Berg, Advertising Editor; Kit Langenbacher, Cindy Becker, and Sheryl Vollmer. Right: Advisor of the Archives and the Viking, Mr. James Faulkner, discusses paid receipts with Bookkeeper, Diane Metzger, during homeroom period.

The advertising section of the 1968 Archives was headed by a very competent junior, John Berg. John's staff consisted of Sheryl Vollmer, Kit Langenbacher, and Cindy Becker. The four industrious workers were rewarded for their running about town when twenty-five pages of advertising was turned in to the publishers.

Photographers also played a large part in the field of advertising by taking many of the candid pictures. This year's photographers were Chris Fuhrmeister, Ken Winter, Tim Royer, and Mike Hicks.

Keeping the Viking and Archives records straight was Diane Metzger. Diane, a senior, worked on the business staff in her sophomore and junior years.

Fine Arts Festival Highlight of Dance Club

Posing is no problem for Le Ruhf, Marilyn Culver, and Pat DeWald as they add to their dance.

Activities of the Dance Club this year were highlighted by their performance in the Fine Arts Festival on October 29, at the Lansing Civic Center. Other activities included the presentation of their first dance concert entitled "Midnight in Toyland," which was given for various charities such as orphanages and old folks homes. A number of field trips were also planned, one on November 29, to Dwight Rich Junior High School. The dance club also adds to the choreography of the musicals and the annual water show. Another big event for the dancers was the traditional G.A.A. Mother-Daughter Banquet held in May.

Creative Dance used body movement as a means of expression. A series of movements carefully transacted portrays a specific mood or feeling. A variety of the types of movement and levels is essential to a good creative dance.

On hand to advise and help the girls with any difficulties was their advisor Miss Lucille Fomenko. Miss Fomenko has taught at Everett for the past four years. Co-chairmen for the Dance Club this year were Sue Tower and Nancy Hannan.

Creative movements are portrayed by Diedre Bradley, Marilyn Culver, Nancy Hannon, Sue Tower, and Gayle Fox, as they practice for the Fine Arts Festival.

Gymnastic Club Holds Area Meet

If a person were to enter Everett High School through the front door he might be a witness to an invasion by shapely young figures dressed in black leotards near the girls physical education wing, heading towards the Activities Room. And if a person were to say "take me to your leader" he would be taken to Mr. Gordon Thomas and Miss Lucy Fomenko who were the advisors of the 1967-68 Gymnastics Club of Lansing Everett High.

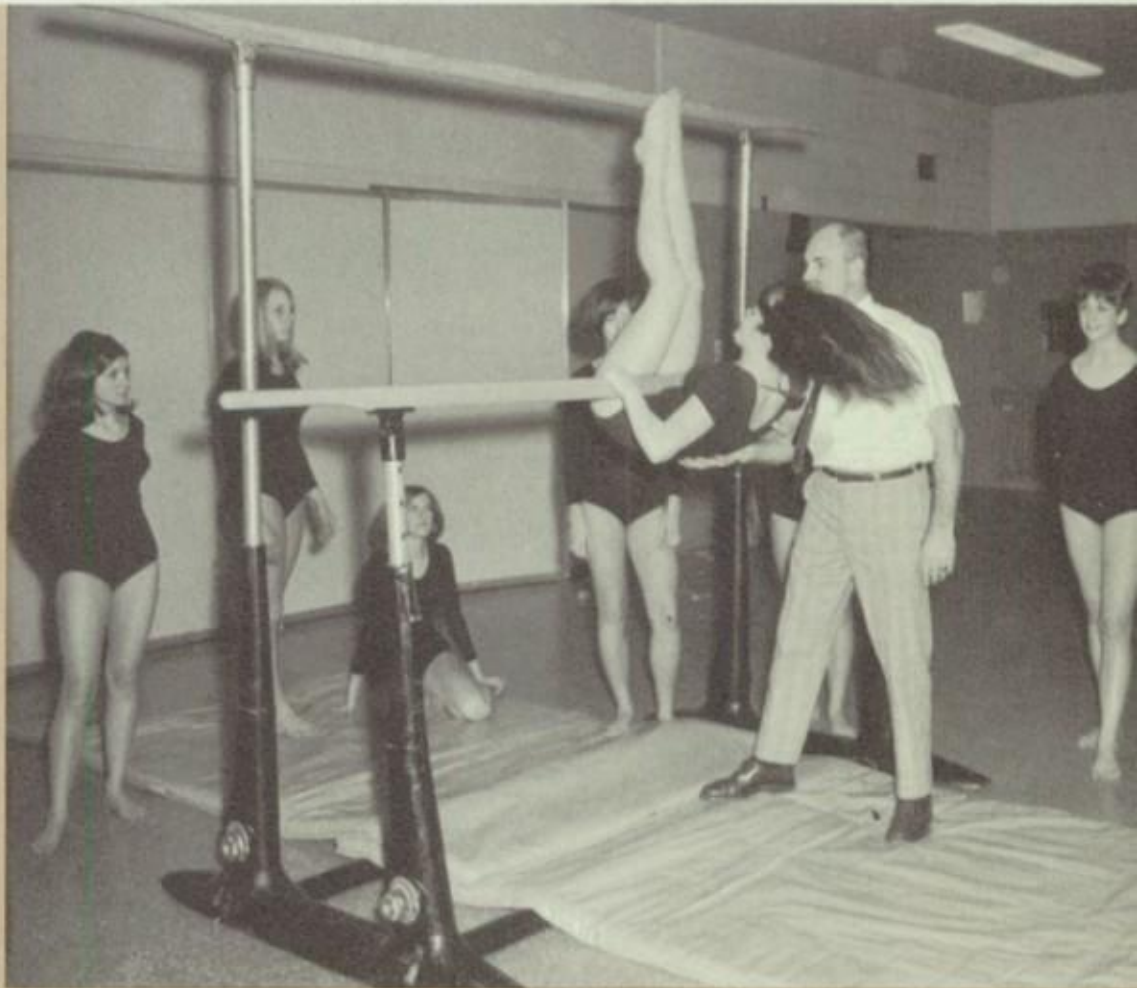

The Gymnastics Club has been designed to develop poise, rhythm, and muscular coordination for interested girls.

Floor exercises were a combination of ballet and tumbling performed to music. Vaulting was done over the "horse" and was similar to diving with its particular vaults. Vaulting was graded in much the same way as is diving by pool members. Various stunts combined with ballet were done on the balance beam and parallel bars.

Roses, Greens, Projects of Girls' League

Senior members of Girls' League and Miss Christensen, advisor, decorate the Christmas tree in Everett's social room.

Everett's Girls League represented the female population of the high school. Two representatives were elected from each homeroom in the fall and were asked to attend the meetings and keep their homeroom informed to the happenings of the Girls League.

Cheryl Lynch acted as president of the organization while Yvonne Van Derzee held the office of vice-president. Virginia Kennedy was secretary and Michelle Kennedy was treasurer. Miss Elfie Christensen, assistant principal, and advisor, helped with many questions and decisions that were made.

The Girls League sponsored the Hanging of the Greens the Friday night before Christmas vacation. The foyer was adorned with forest colored greens and red bows to add holiday spirit.

A red rose was presented to each senior girl by a younger girl of her choice at the annual Presentation of Roses held before the graduating ceremonies in June. At this assembly mothers, friends, and relatives of the girl's choice witnessed this ceremony on the stage in the auditorium.

Michelle Kennedy adds the finishing touch as she places a star at the top of the dazzling tree.

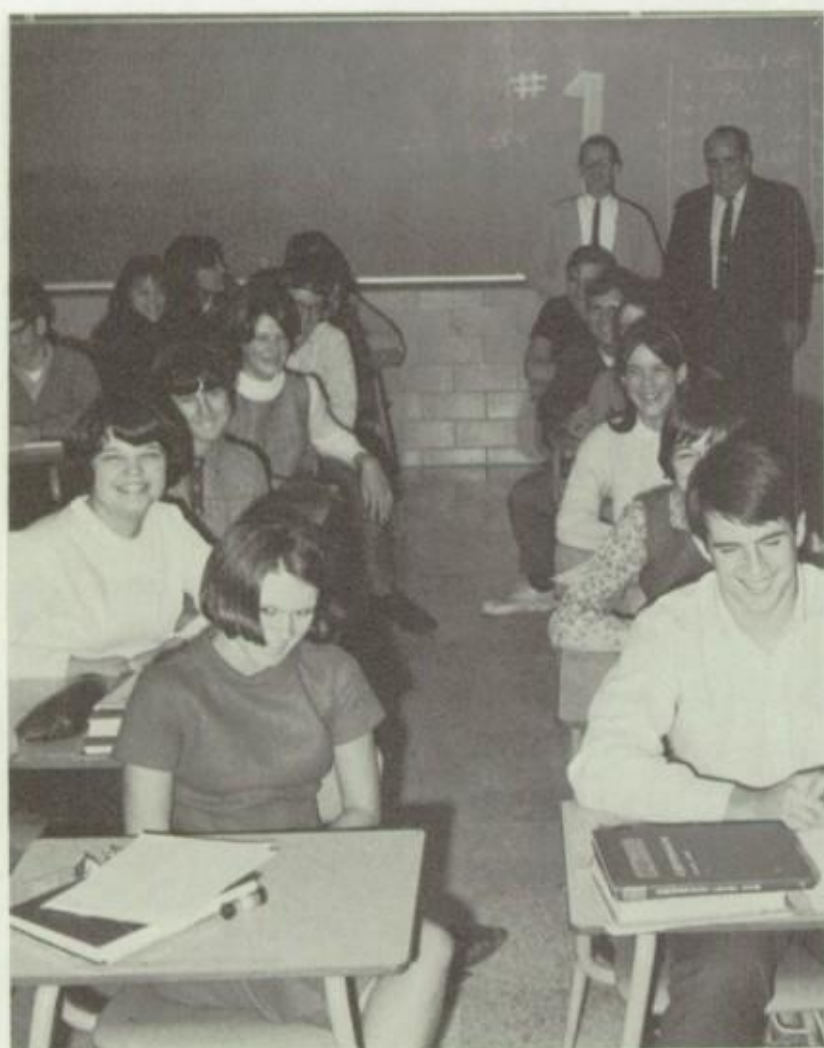

Lynn Pryor, Cheryl Lynch, and Yvonne Van Derzee hung greens on a window in the foyer.

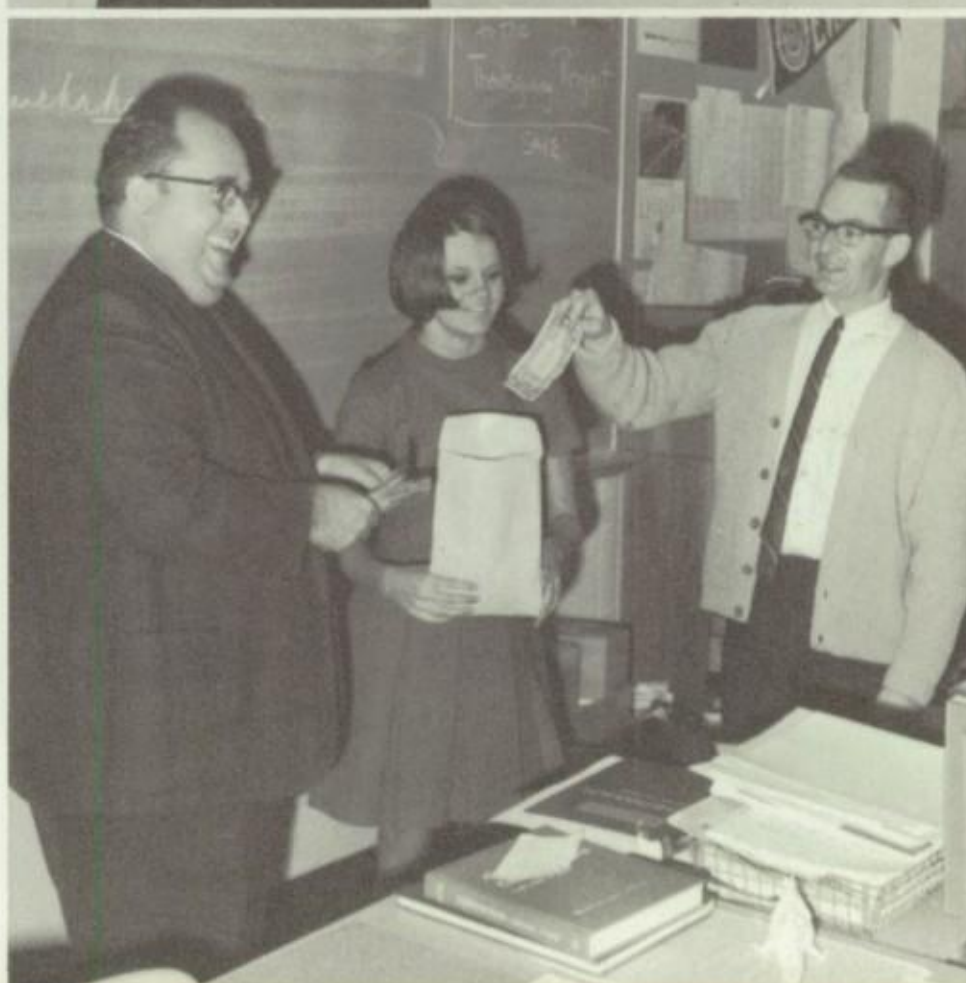

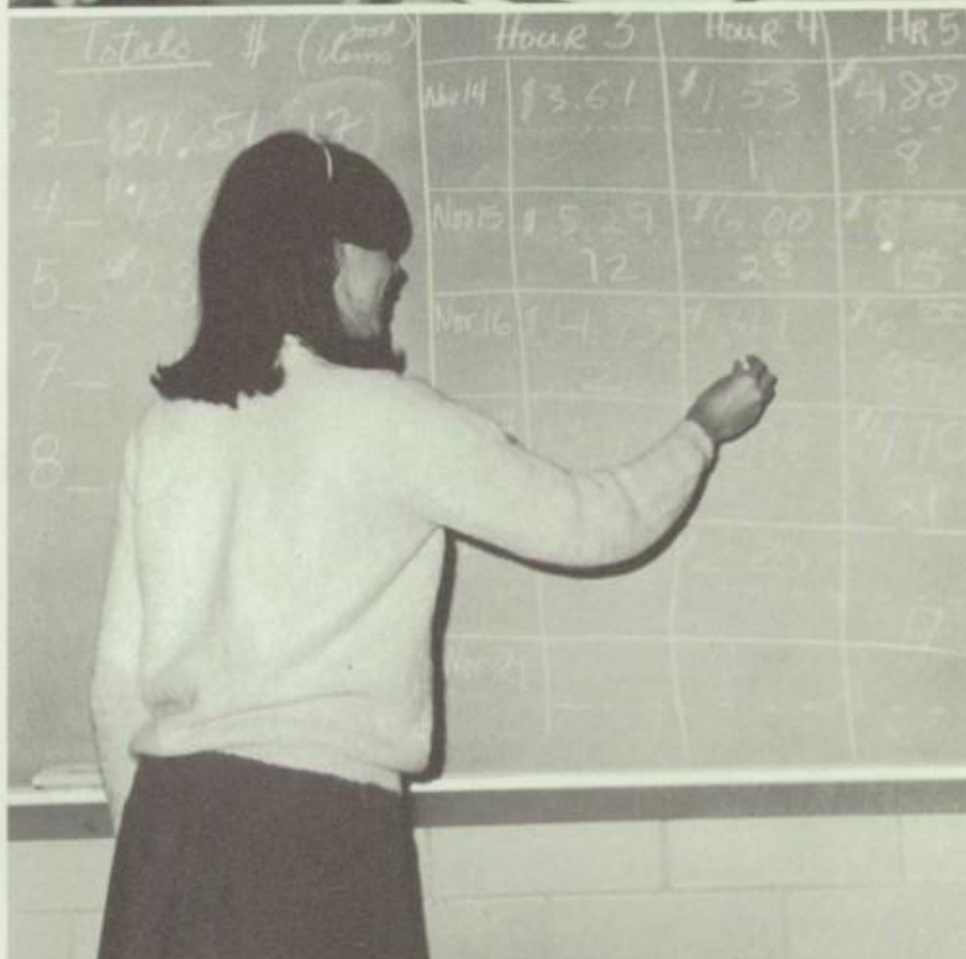

German Club Helps in Community

"Es ist eine wunderbare Gruppe," is the reply Mr. Humphrey gives when asked about the German Club of which he is the advisor. The main event of this year was the Thanksgiving Project which turned out to be a very prosperous event. Other activities for the 1967-68 school year, in addition to the Thanksgiving Project, were the hayride, annual Christmas party, Faschingsball, and polka party. They also attended travelogues on Austria, Germany, and Switzerland at M.S.U.

The club had a total of thirty members who met once a month at a member's home. The executive committee met twice a month to plan activities. The club officers were: President, Phil Rock; Vice President, Shane Bolley; Secretary-Treasurer, Carol Weisenberg; Refreshment Chairman, Linda Cole.

Catalina Club Presents 'Symphony of Sounds'

Seniors Jim King and Glenda Payne swim in a duet of "Snake Charmers" in the 1968 Catalina Club Swim Show, Symphony of Sounds.

The Catalina Club's annual swim show was not a money making project for the club but a time to demonstrate skill, provide entertainment, and allow the girls experience in the grace of synchronized swimming.

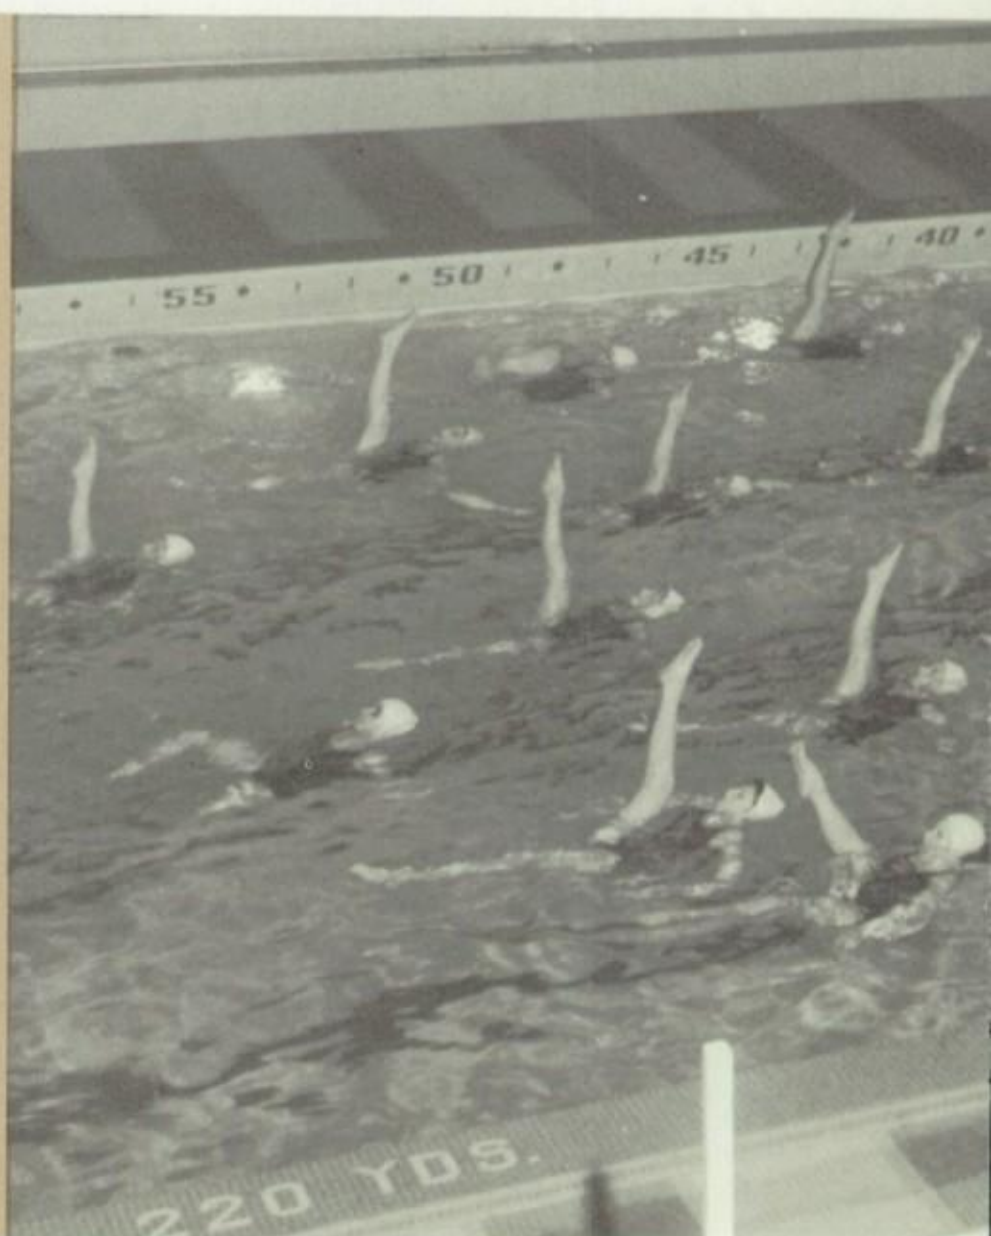

Meeting from two to five nights a week under the supervision of Miss Bonnie Kruger were thirty girls and senior Jim King who performed with Glenda Payne. Executives of the club were President Glenda Payne; Sharon Flachs, vice-president; and Cathy Henrys, secretary.

"Symphony of Sounds" was presented May 2, 3, and 4, 1968 with thirteen acts. Each performance was co-ordinated around a musical instrument. Swimming solos were senior Anne Adams and junior Lark Foster.

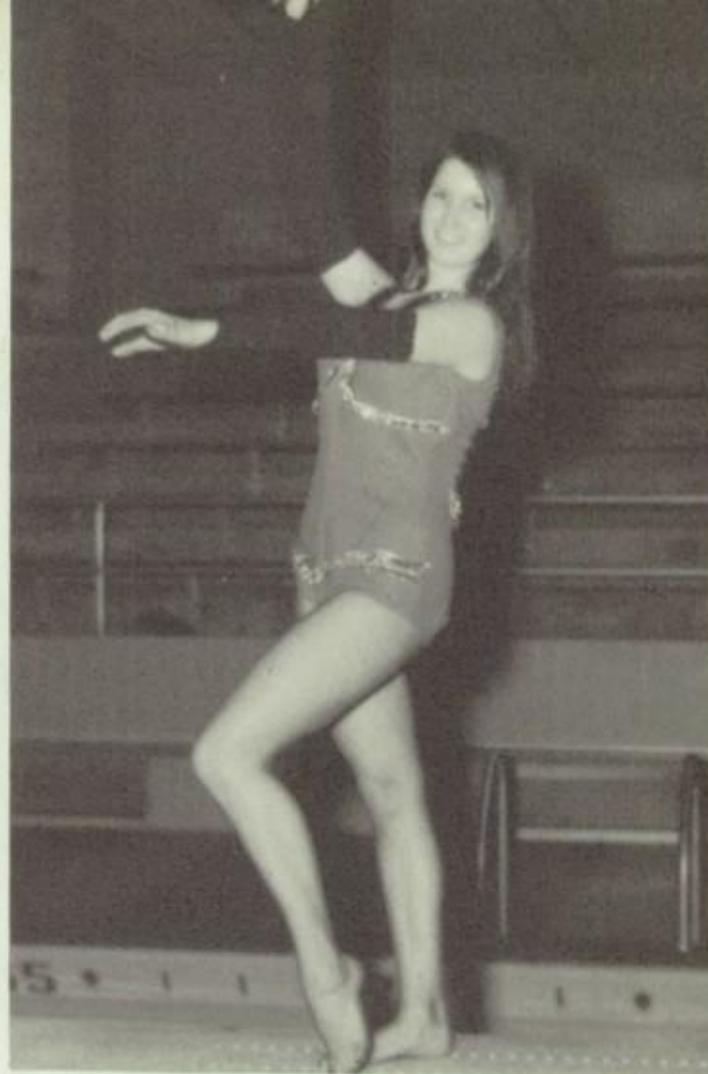

Miss Kruger stated that more work went into the swim show than anyone would ever realize unless they had been in the swim show. Miss Kruger added that the "Symphony of Sounds" was the best swim show presented at Everett.

FTA's Homecoming Mums, Toys for Tots, And Cadet Teaching Benefit Lansing

Senior Kris Soderberg assists an elementary student at Cavanaugh school in preparation for becoming a future school teacher.

The Future Teachers of America Club sponsored several worthwhile projects this year; the selling of mums for homecoming and the Toys for Tots drive at Christmas time.

Cadet Teaching was one of the major activities of F.T.A. It provided members with an opportunity to study the teaching skills at local elementary and secondary schools. The one credit class took the place of a study hall and a class to help teachers with pupils while they were able to work on another worthwhile project.

The meetings were led by President Sharon Corey. Other officers were: Vice-president: Cindy White, Secretary: Kris Soderberg, Treasurer: Marsha Green, and Historian: Karen Sparks. Mr. Neil Johnson with the help of Mrs. Judy Jones advised the F.T.A.

In the spring the club members attended the annual F.T.A. convention at Michigan State University. A picnic was attended by the members of the club from the three Lansing area high schools in the spring.

Sally Wauve and Mr. Johnson distribute mums previous to the Homecoming game.

Kris Soderberg and Barb Marlin supervise the handing out of the mums to Doug McGraw, Tom Majdeski, and Suzanne Harman.

Future Homemakers Learned Flower Arranging

Chloe Wells, Jan Norton, Rhonda Graves, and Donna Davis arrange flowers during a future Homemakers meeting.

Spring Fashions by Letts Fashions was an assembly produced and directed by the Home Economics Club. Members modeled the latest styles before an all-girl assembly during the homeroom and second hour class period.

During the year the club had regular resource speakers, a Community Service project and field trips to various Home Economics related businesses.

Advisors Mrs. Judy Woodland, Mrs. Linda Davis and Mrs. Audrey Reist explained the Home Economics Club was no longer affiliated with the Future Homemakers of America but were individual clubs by themselves.

Officers for this year were Chloe Wells, Jan Norton, Rhonda Graves, and Donna Davis.

New FOCUS Club Visited Detroit Area

A new club was added to the long list of Everett activities this year. FOCUS was sponsored by Mr. Harris Webster and Mr. Robert Townsend.

The club was made up largely of Sociology and Psychology students although it was open to the entire student body. They met only when a trip was being planned to discuss the details of the adventure and after the trip for a critique session. Plans were made for the club to go to Detroit to view the Governor's plan on poverty at Plum Street in the riot torn area of the city. The trip was to secure an understanding of what the Governor's plan on poverty was trying to bring about.

Plans for the trips were formulated by Mr. Webster, Mr. Townsend, and the Executive board consisting of Pamela Whitman, Sharon Harman, and Gretchen Freeman, all seniors.

Mr. Townsend and Mr. Webster lecture at a FOCUS meeting to plan for a field trip to Detroit's riot torn areas.

Third: Marcia Ryder, Jerri Aldrich, Debbie Newth, Kathy Livingston, Marilyn Culver, Janis Foster, Cheri Livingston, Cathy Henrys, Rob Carr, Mark Soderberg, Don Gibbs, and Pam Hooker.

Juniors, Seniors Merge To Form Hi-Y

Becky Storkamp, Becki Neuman, Glenda Payne, Greg Kent, and Bob Sealock, officers of the Hi-Y club, go over the meeting agenda.

Everett's Hi-Y brought both fun and excitement to its new and old members. Between taking a bus to away football games to jumping on a trampoline and swimming at the YMCA the club has thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

This year they molded the senior and junior sections into one. Bob Sealock, president, announced the officers this year were: Vice-president Greg Kent; Secretary Becky Newman; Glenda Payne, treasurer; and Chaplain Becky Storkcamp.

The purpose of the club was "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, a high standard of Christian Character".

Other activities were Christmas parties, a Grayling Winter Sports Trip with skiing and tobogganing for two days, and a canoe trip in the spring. A few of the members participated in the Youth Legislature at the State Capitol in the fall.

All of the Hi-Y members looked forward to the student exchange program at Norway High School in Norway, Michigan where they attended classes, basketball games, and dances at the local teen center. Students from Norway also visited Everett for one week.

Skiers Enjoy Traverse City Weekend

From novices to experts, members of the Everett Ski Club made enjoyable use of Michigan's snow white winter. Under the supervision of Mr. David Miller officers, Burt Watkins, President; Pam Hutcheson, Vice President; Mary Todd, Secretary; and Vaughn Gamet, Treasurer; were able to plan many weekend ski trips as well as the annual Colorado trip during Spring Vacation.

Even before snow began to grace the slopes, members were busy building the treasury. Bake sales and a Ski Club dance showed profits.

Burt Watkins, Pam Hutchenson, Mr. Dalrymple, Mary Todd, Barb Clark and Mr. Miller watch as Vaughn Gammet demonstrates the use of the bongo board as exercise.

Scuba Members Plan Higgins Lake Trip

Everett Scuba Club was in its third year of existence. The club was a ten week course in skin and scuba diving. A member must first pass a swimming qualification test which showed his aptitude in the basic skills of swimming. If he passed, he was then taught skin diving with mask, fins, and snorkel. Later tanks were used.

The club planned two field trips and one fund raising project of selling Everett T-shirts. The thirty members planned to attend Higgins Lake and Traverse City with their advisors Mr. Medler and Mr. Bowers.

Mr. Jerry Medler and Mr. Chuck Bowers discuss the requirements of Scuba Club with interested candidate members.

Latin Club Hosts Annual Banquet

Rounding out the list of activities of the Latin Club was the National Junior Classical League at M.S.U. The event, held in August, 1968, was in Michigan for the first time. It attracted thousands of students and advisors from the entire United States, Everett included.

Other highlights were the J.C.L. state convention in Ann Arbor, and the 1967-68 Roman Banquet in early December. The feast featured an entire Roman menu served in courses, and games. Special guests were members of the language department and faculty. Club members were also entertained with film strips, speakers, and other activities.

Funds were raised primarily by the sale of sweaters. Other various means were employed, including bake sales.

Officers for the year were Dale Lietzke, First Consul; Carol Weisenberg, Second; Janice Isatala, Scriba; Nancy Grosvenor, Quaestor; and Sandy Smith, Historica.

International Club Hosts Exchange Students

Standing: Kris Soderberg, Barb Marlin, Jon Hendra, Pat Huebner, Seated: Mara Alexander, Barb Farr, Nancy Jones, Ingrid Worgul, and Janet Frew look on as Mr. Webster points out the area of the world to be discussed.

The purpose of the International Club was to meet with and help foreign exchange students. Mr. Harris Webster coordinated the discussions of foreign customs and affairs.

Meetings were held once a month with Pat Huebner as general chairman. The agenda was planned as follows: Travel Seminar, getting acquainted with foreign exchange students, a banquet featuring foreign foods, and an exchange weekend.

The exchange weekend entailed students outside the Lansing area visiting Everett students families, friends, and attending Friday classes.

French Club Hosts Mardi Gras Party

Mardi Gras festivities are traditionally the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday, however, the Everett, Eastern, and Sexton French clubs gathered in Everett's activities room at 7 p.m. Wednesday, February 28 for the celebrations.

Masked figures played games and sang French folk songs amid balloons and streamers. A king and queen reigned over the party. Cake, punch, and mints were served.

Each school presented two acts in French as entertainment. Everett performed a comic skit. The actresses were: Mary Lee Adrion, Paula Bonham, Paulette Burgess, and Marlene Cullers. "Dominique" and the popular "L'amour est bleu" were sung by Paula Bonham, Paulette Burgess, Sunshine Jones, and Michelle Swabash accompanied on guitars by Chuch Dart and Ralph Long.

French club officers were: Paula Bonham, president; Kathy Miles, vice president; Nancy Backus, secretary; and Gary Everett, treasurer. Advisor was Mrs. Carol Brown.

Junior Jane Klepac with other French Club students try a traditional French folk dance at the Mardi Gras festivities held in Everett's Activities room.

Paulette Burgess, Mrs. Carol Brown and Sue Horner receive awards from the Everett French Club members after refreshments at the Mardi Gras.

Michelle Swabash, Paulette Burgess, Paula Bonham, and Sunshine Jones entertain the group by singing the popular song "L'amour est bleu" as Ralph Long accompanies the group on the guitar.

New Thespians Must Serve Apprenticeships

Members portray fear and hilarity before the audience.

To become a Thespian one must have first served an apprenticeship. This involved earning ten points which was usually done by some active participation in a dramatic event. Attending plays, working on stage crew, and participating in speech activities were also a part of the apprenticeship.

Initiation as a full-fledged member was a formal occasion in the fall and spring. The spring initiation also marked the Awards Presentation.

Richard Scovel has excelled in his acting and singing parts in last year's Music Man and the 1968 performance of Carousel. Featured in Everett's Chorale were Richard, Glen Coleman, Bob Pickett, Mike Tillman, Rick De Block, Linda Husch, and Sylvia Husband.

Under the direction of Mrs. Jan Harris the group planned a trip to Detroit to view a play.

Becoming a Thespian was an honor which students worked hard to attain. In addition to becoming a member of the individual troupe, the student also becomes a national member.

Young Life Everett's Most Popular Group

Playing "Wells Fargo" at Poxson Park, arriving at Majdeski's house five minutes early and still having to sit on the floor, eating Sloppy Joes at Stan and Marge's house, saving all falls for the ski weekend at Sugar Loaf, and taking the long train ride back from Colorado.

It was all part of the Young Life chapter at Everett. Students from all area high schools were invited to the Thursday night meetings held at various Young Life members' homes at 7:30.

At the meetings everyone sang. Sometimes Jeff Campbell, president, led the songs under the watchful eye of Vice-president John Blanchard. If things got out of hand the "bouncers" Shelly Woodward and Larry Martin attempted to quiet the group. Chris Beaudoin and Marty Bass had unfathomable imaginations as secretaries of the meetings.

A ski trip to Park Place Motor Inn, Traverse City, with skiing at Sugar Loaf and Holiday took place January 5-7.

Basically, Y. L. was an information group that dealt with Christianity and living a meaningful daily life. Young Life was organized in October, 1964, Stan Voth was the Y. L. director for the Lansing area high school students, and who, in addition was the State Y. L. Director and also met with a group of Michigan State University students.

Changes in 1967-68 Take Place in Library

As all things change, so has the library changed in the past few years. The library was no longer a place for merely checking out and returning books.

Although the checking of books was a large job for Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Daniels, and Mrs. Sharp, they also involved themselves in a variety of activities. The librarians handled audio-visual aids, pamphlets, magazines, articles, maps, and college information.

For many students the library became a place where they were able to study and research for materials to aid them in their courses at Everett. The library was a great help to all who used it, and was thought of highly by the students and faculty.

Mrs. Cross and Mrs. Sharp assist Sue Johnson in the library.

Art Club Co-hosts Fine Arts Festival

Sophomore Diane Reck was stopped in action as she steps from one bucket of "slip" to another in preparation for an art project.

Art has begun to play an ever increasing function in today's society and Everett's Art Club proved no exception to the rule. With a gain in membership and an abundance of talent, the Art Club was capable of great accomplishments.

This year it was again the honor of the Everett Art Club to co-host the annual Fine Arts Festival. Members were given a chance to display their talents to the Lansing public.

Lansing citizens were not the only ones to benefit from Everett's talent. Through various profit projects our Art Club was able to purchase the new paintings that now hang throughout the school.

Leading the Art Club in their projects were: President Nancy Courney, Vice-president Linda Hoeppel, Secretary Diane Dietrich, and Treasurer Annette Gibbs, under the guiding hand of Mr. Howard Neely.

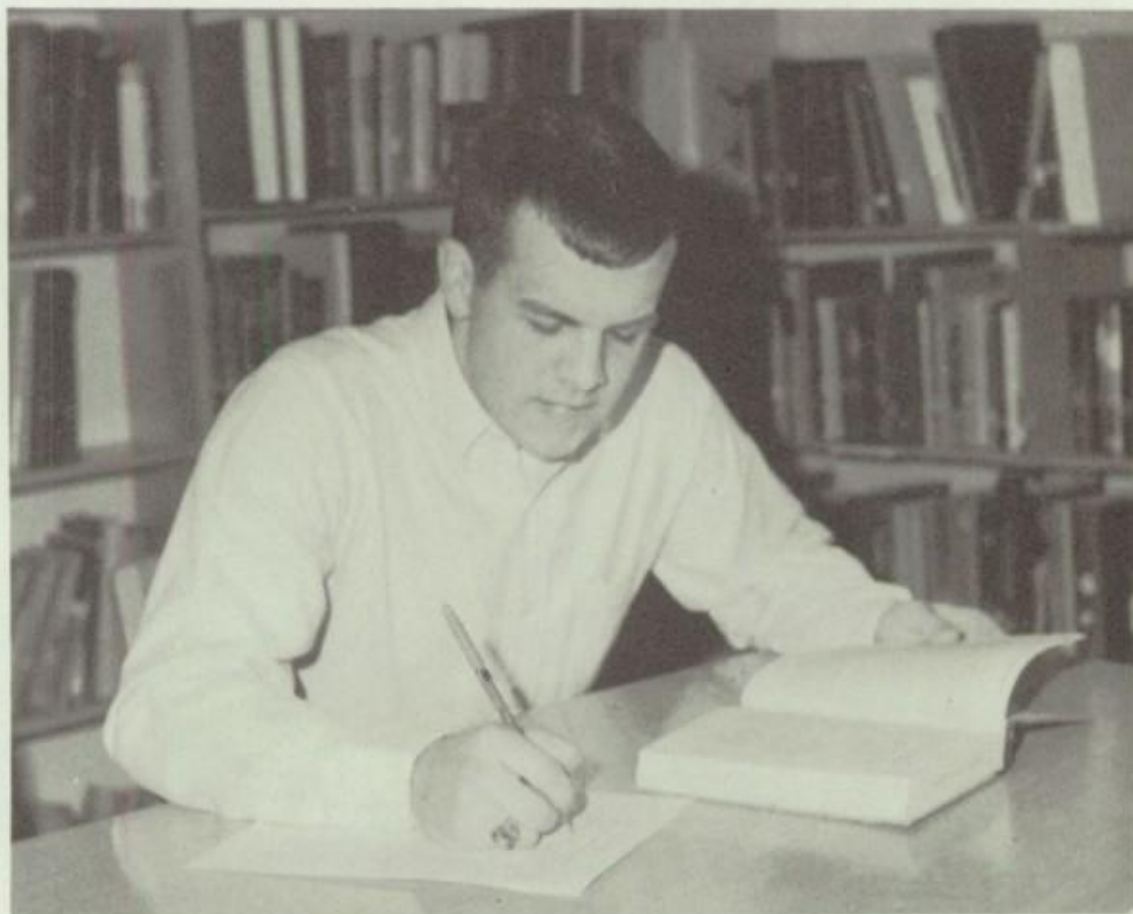

Original Oratory, Declamation, and Readings

All Part of Forensics

Forensics was the spring semester speech activity, the complement to Debate in the fall. Whereas Debate was a team effort, competition in Forensics was an individual effort. Divisions of Forensics consisted of: Original Oratory, Declamation, Serious Interpretative Reading, Humorous Interpretative Reading, Extempore Speech, and Radio News. Together these various events provided the participant with opportunities to develop their competition abilities in written composition and persuasion. Contestants also learned how to analyze an oral interpretation of a work of literature. Forensics tournaments were held in March. Mrs. Judy Bisson assisted the team during her first year teaching at Everett.

Debators Strong in

VARSITY DEBATE TEAM. Standing: Jim Frew and Ed Moyer, negative. Sitting: Lynn Wasserman and Ken Winter, Affirmative.

Two sophomore varsity debators plus one new coach equals one rebuilding year. This was the formula that Everett debators used to make a partially successful 1967-68 debate season.

From September to January Everett debators debated on the proposition "Resolved: That Congress Should Establish Uniform Criminal Investigation Procedures." Supreme Court decisions to criminal arrest procedures were tossed back and forth between affirmative and negative teams under this year's proposition.

Returning affirmative debators Ken Winter and Lynn Wasserman combined with sophomore varsity team members Jim Frew and Ed Moyer to make a strong showing under the debate spotlight.

Future strength for next year's varsity was made evident by Everett's junior varsity team. Members included: John Berg, Doug Jones, Jim Hamilton, and John Walters.

Chorale's 'Sing-in' a Tremendous Success

"What the World Needs Now" sung by the Everett Choir, was the opening number of the Annual Chamber of Commerce meeting held January 17, at the Civic Center.

The Everett Choir was well known through the city and state. In a program given for all Lansing area fifth and sixth graders, the Everett Choir joined Sexton's Choir in a performance with the Lansing Symphony Orchestra. An exchange program with the Livonia Bentley Choir was also a highlight for the choir.

Of course, the biggest event for the choir was the annual operetta. This year's production was "Carousel." Doug Schram and Maryanne Kuhn played the leading parts on March 29, April 1, and 2.

The results of the summer practices of the Everett Chorale were exhibited early in September as they performed at the Michigan State Kiwanis Governors Banquet held at the Civic Center. Formally dressed, the sixteen voiced Chorale presented a medley of songs from the show "Roberta" at the Annual Big Brothers Banquet held January 10.

Other activities for the Chorale included a welcome presentation at the sophomore orientation, ushering and singing at the "Fat Bob" Concert, the Sing-in and the Christmas assembly.

Vi-Kings and Vi-Queens Sing

New outfits were the tune of the year for Everett's Vi-Kings and Vi-Queens. Under the direction of their competent director Mr. Tom O. Thompson, the glee clubs earned their outfits from the proceeds of the "Fat Bob" Concert, and the "Sing-In".

The State Contest was a major goal for the Vi-Kings this year. Placing fifth in competition last year the boys worked hard to raise their rating this year. Appearances for the year included the Christmas Assembly, the half-time show at the Capitol's basketball game, junior high assemblies in February, and of course, the State Male Concert, as well as the District Contest. They sponsored a basketball game between the WJIM radio staff and the Everett faculty on January ninth. A ski trip was also planned for fun.

This year, for the first time, the Vi-Queens were all in one class. The sixty voice singing group wore their new jumpers and blouses to compete in the District Contest in Mason. A canoe trip was also planned for the girls.

Football, Concerts, Assemblies, Parades

All Activities of the Everett Band Members

Band members huddle together in their section while they cheer on the football team on a cold Friday night.

The Lansing Everett High School 1967-68 marching band was led by Drum Majors David Schaberg and Shane Bolley. They were joined by the Majorettes Karen Sparkes and Nancy Grosvenor.

Spirit at the football games was held high, as the band assisted the cheerleaders by performing at halftimes.

The band presented the student body with two concerts, the Winter Concert on January 18, and a Spring Concert on May 14. Regular and pep assemblies were also enlivened by the band's performances.

The Pep band, which consisted of twenty members played at all of the home basketball games. Playing in community functions and Veteran and Memorial Day parades were some other activities in which the band participated.

Officers this year were: president, Dennis Dail; vice president, Paul Weidner; secretary, Jeri Lyn Blizzard; and treasurer, Jim Boomer.

Mr. Clemens, the band director, also taught theory and ensembles.

There were many impromptu practice sessions before the first game.

Orchestra Performs in Spring Concert

Under the direction of Mr. Leroy Clemens, Everett's orchestra participated in many activities during the school year of 1967-68. On January 18, 1968 they presented a Winter Concert and with the band and art department presented a Spring Art's Festival May 14, 1968.

The Solo Ensemble Festival of Everett took part in at Waverly High School on February 10, 1968 qualified the orchestra to play in the State Festival.

Under the direction of Mr. Duane Smith and Mr. Eugene Rebeck, the orchestra also participated in the Lansing Junior Symphony.

Officers of the 1968 orchestra were: President Phil Rock, Vice-President Nancy Grovesnor, Secretary Nona Barclay, and Treasurer Jeni White.

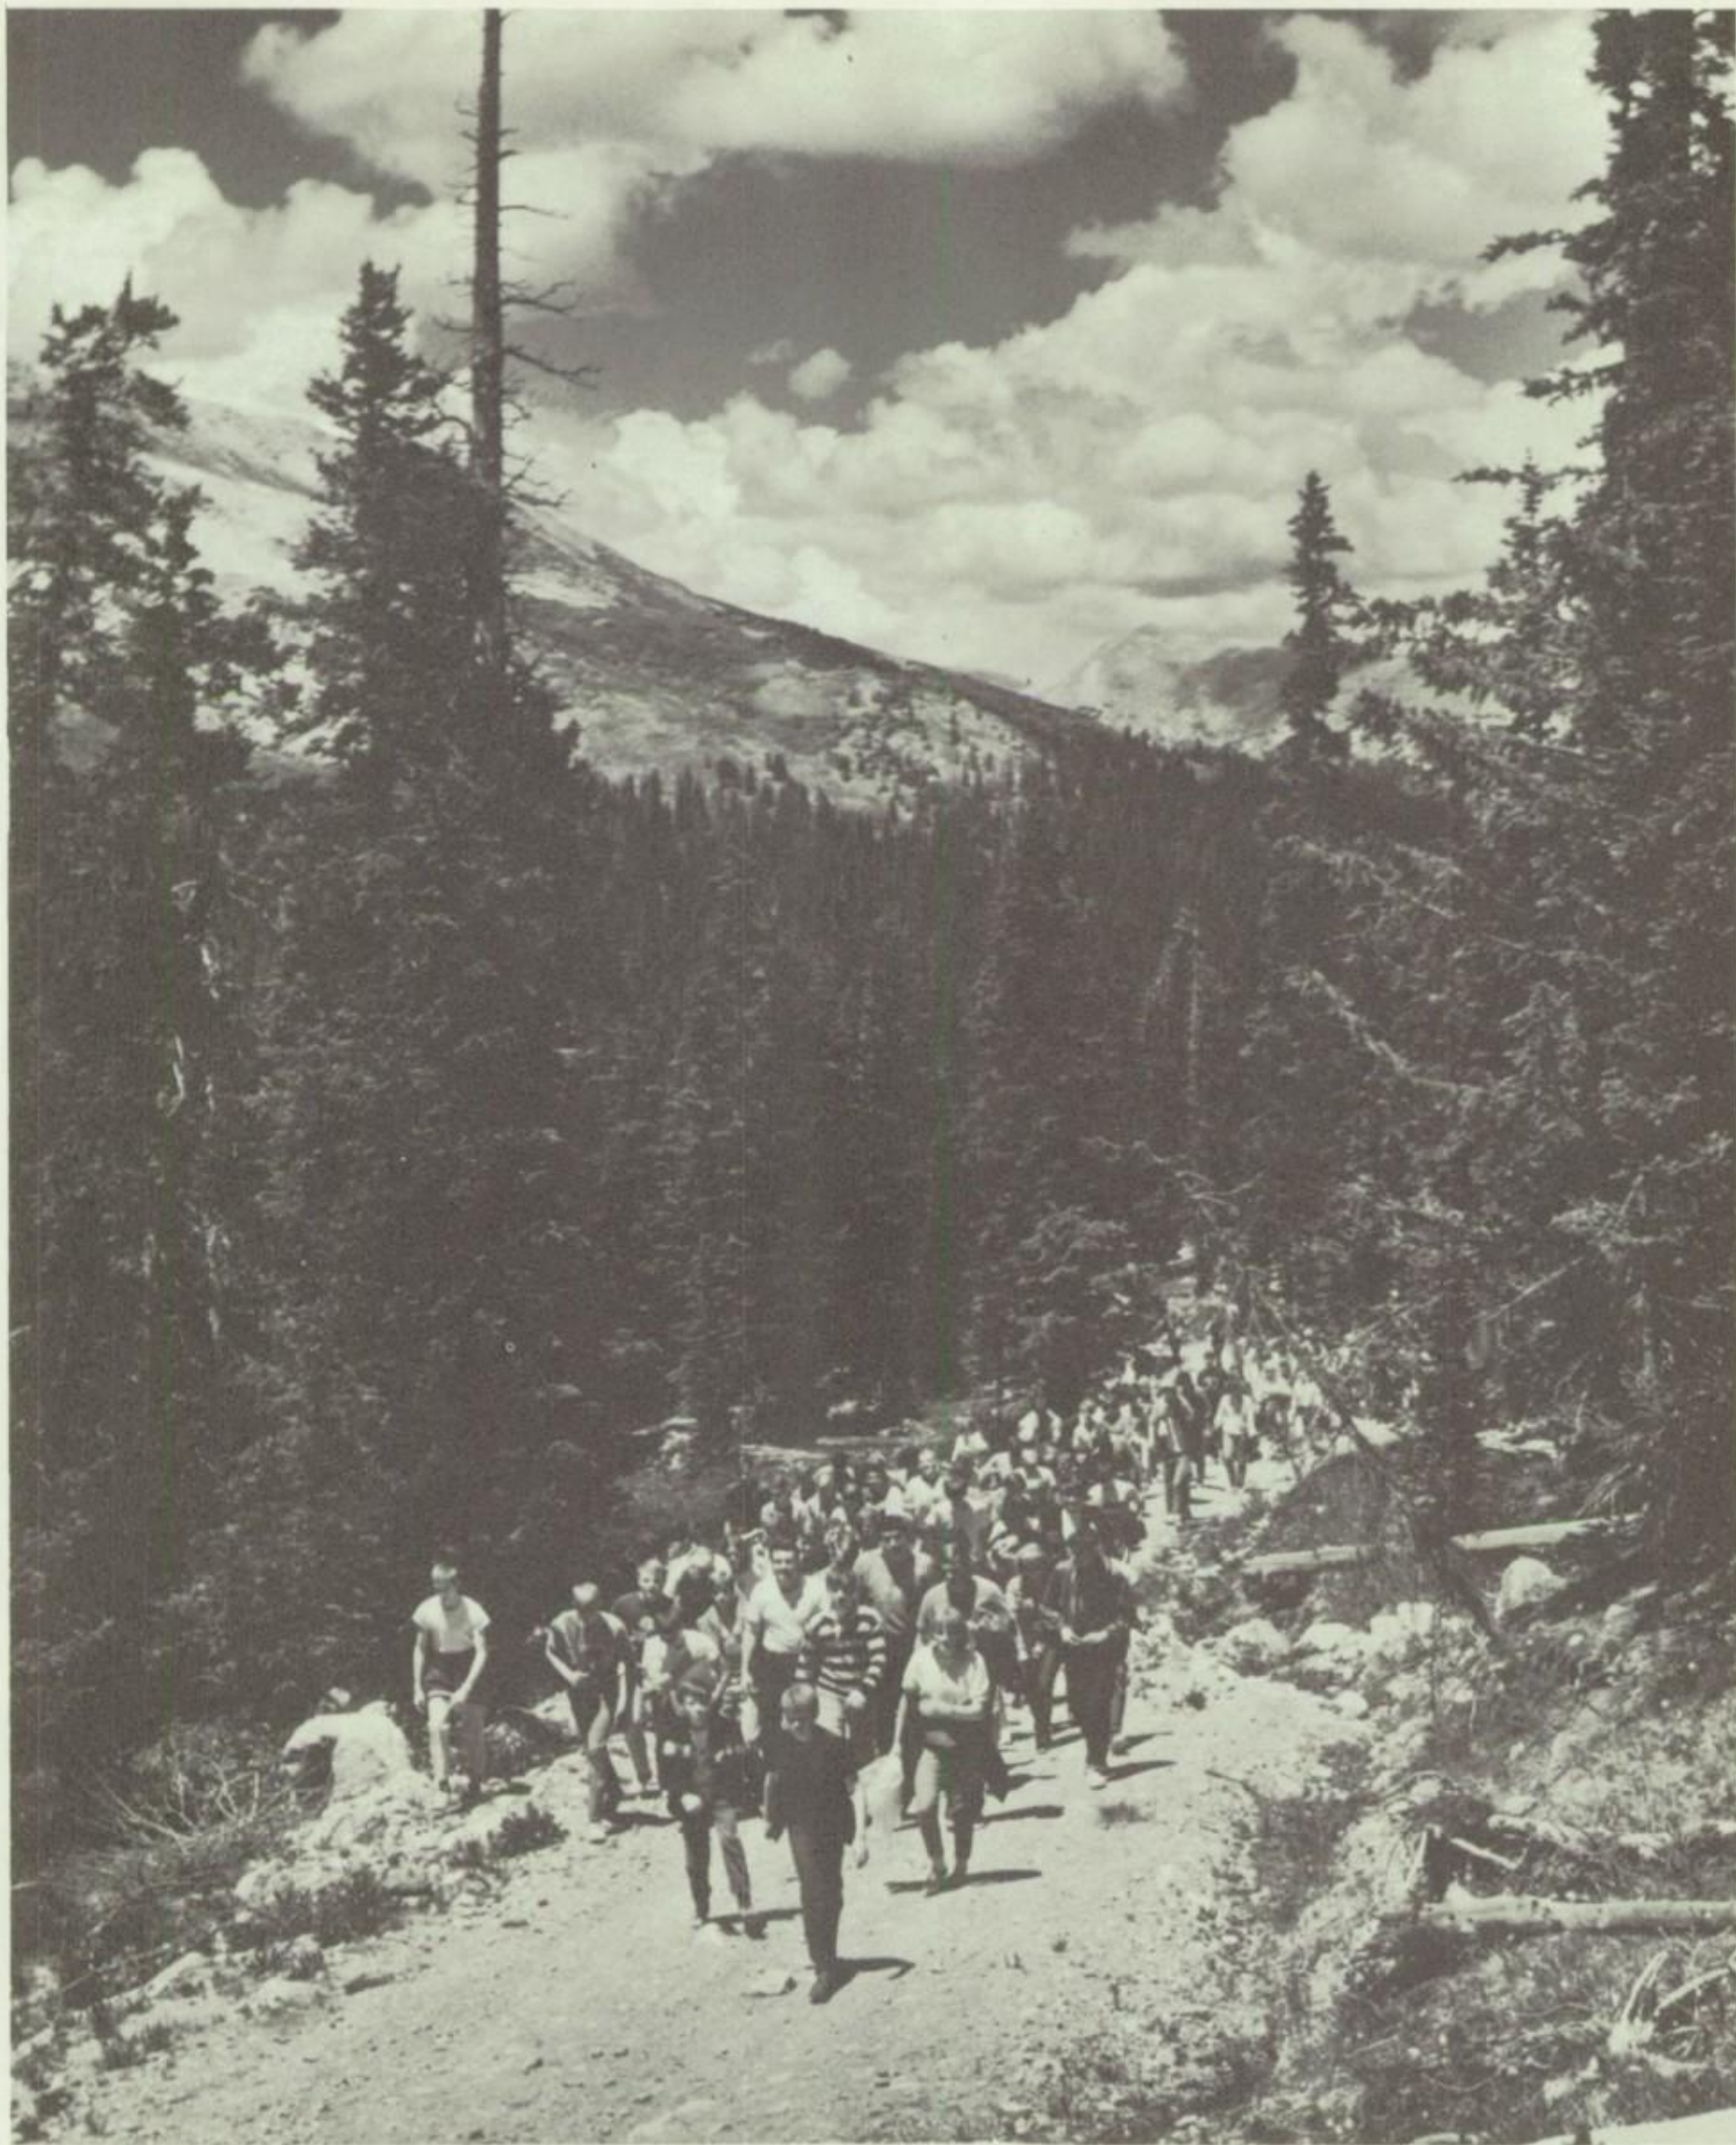

Representatives to the orchestra council were: Senior Linda Cole, Junior Paula Ban, and sophomore Karen Woodward and Karen Moore.

And All Cry: 'Go, You Mighty Vikings!'

Students fill the Everett stadium for the first of many assemblies of the 1967-68 year.

One of the most anticipated events of the new school year at Everett is the first outdoor pep assembly. This year was no exception as 2400 students, and teachers, jammed the Centennial Field stadium early in September.

The cheerleaders were on hand and also Aries the Viking to help lead rousing cheer after cheer. Perhaps the most favorite chant was that led by Mr. Bauer, which is now almost a tradition here at Everett. The fight song was sung with vigor and the football team was sparked to victory over Jackson in the kick-off game of the year.

Mr. Bauer prepares for the infamous "Yea team!," the most spirited cheer in the school.

The Junior Varsity cheerleaders take charge to lead students and teachers in the Victory cry.

Counselors Help With Future, Jobs, School

A place for personal guidance, the counseling center also offered the student information on colleges, work programs and helped the individual student with his plans for high school and the future. A new phase of the counseling program was group college discussions. A group of students interested in the same college were brought together for information on the college. In this manner, more students were informed of the advantages of that particular college.

The head of the counseling department was assistant principal Miss Elfie Christensen.

Everett Displays Various, Interesting Displays

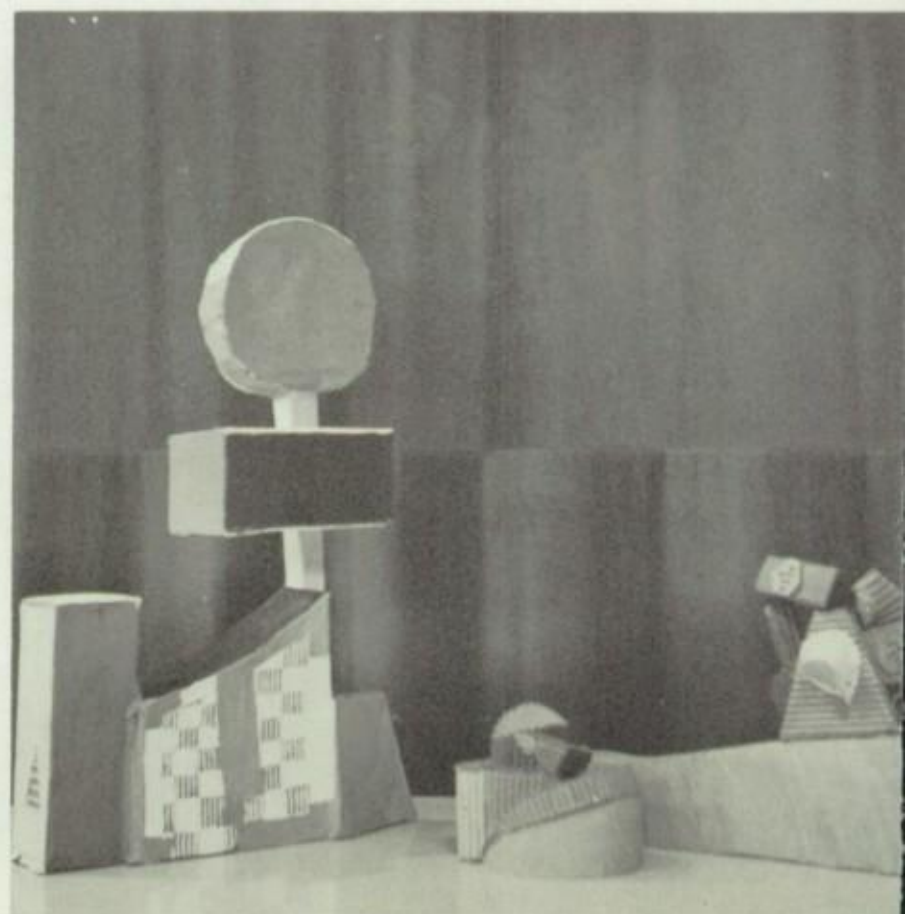

The goals and talents of Everett students were expressed in many displays throughout the school during the year. Everything from art exhibits to Ski Club was found in the showcases.

Many of the display cases offered helpful information to students, such as colleges and scholarships, job opportunities, and important meetings. Others had the sole purpose of entertainment or enjoyment. Throughout the year, activities were announced and ideas presented by way of the cases.

Art students were given a chance to present their handiwork and various clubs were honored with presentations representing them. In this way, the Debate team of 1966-1967 was honored when they won the championship of the South Central League.

Thanksgiving Project a Continued Success

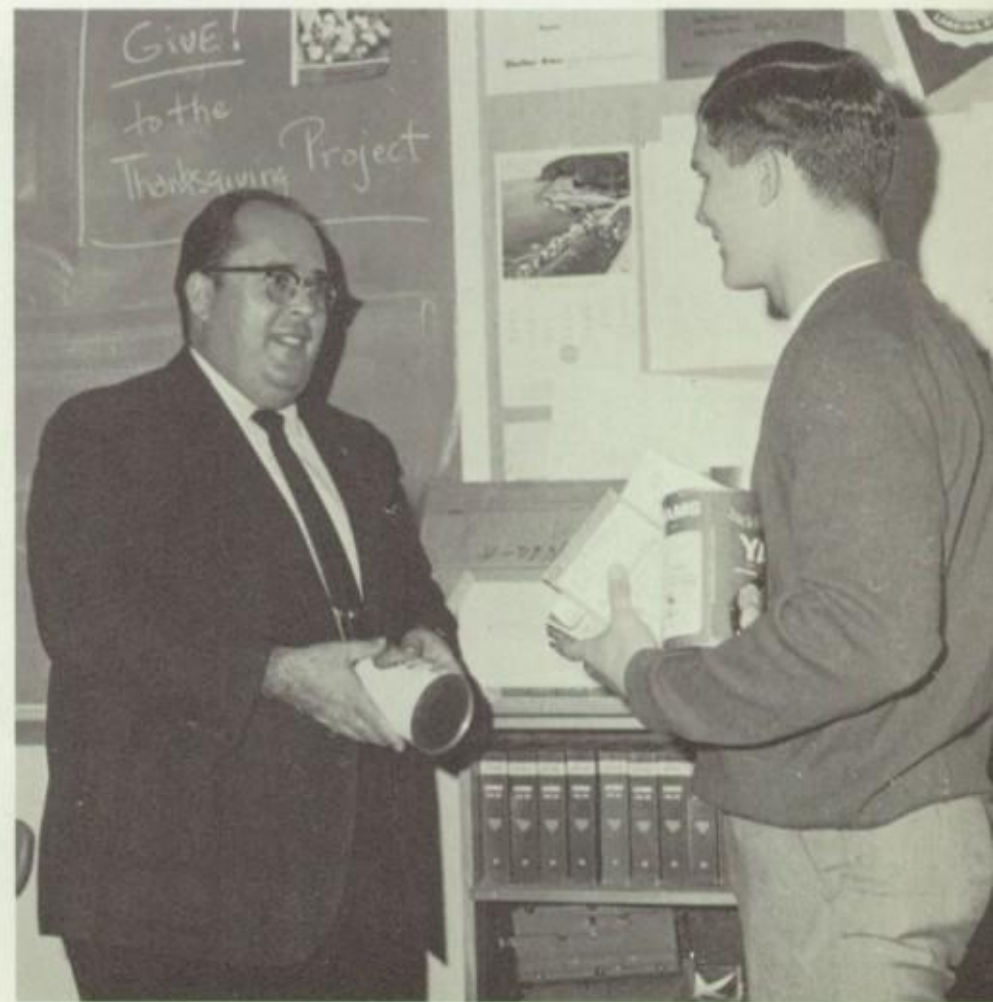

Rick Lilly instructs Judy Puffer in the art of packing boxes effectively.

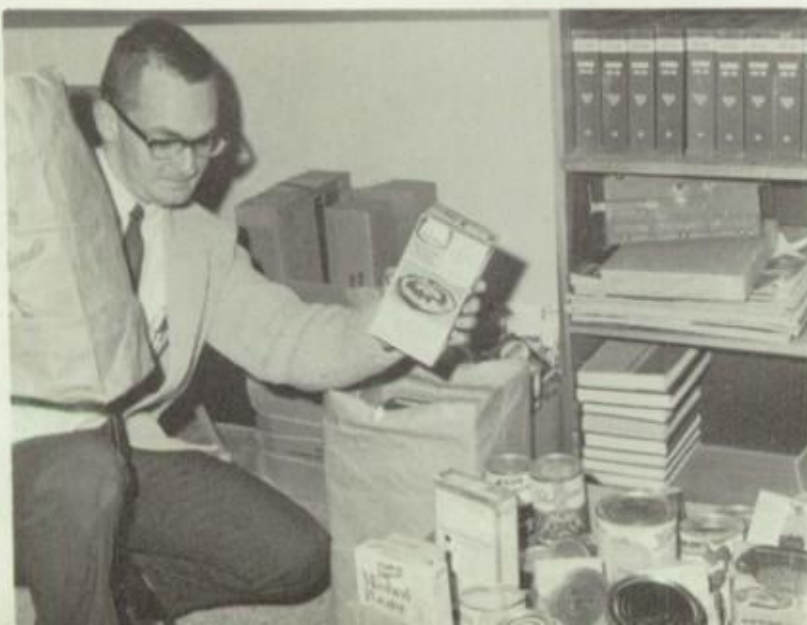

Changes were made in the carrying out of the annual Thanksgiving Project this year. The project was sponsored by the Student Council under the leadership of Mr. Webb, advisor. A total of 159 families were presented boxes of food for a hearty Thanksgiving meal.

Money and cans of food were donated by students and the community. Proceeds were also collected from noon dances and a "slave sale." Mystery prizes were given to homerooms who had made the greatest contributions. Also presented with a prize were the German classes, who made a special effort in the project.

On the last day, many students pitched in to pack boxes and delivered them. Many letters of thanks were received showing genuine appreciation.

John Frye prepares to spins disk on his morning radio show.

Among many new things in the television and radio department this year was a new advisor, Mr. James Stroup. Mr. Stroup brought with him several ideas for expanding the influence and use of the WEHS facilities. Two new television channels, 2 and 8, were added to the existing channel 4.

Interviews with the people of Everett were the prime source of material for the WEHS early morning show. Students were given the opportunity to air their gripes and discuss issues that pertained to Everett.

The radio DJ's were John Frye, Randy Kamm, Al Kaufman and Gary Dachtler. They played records in the morning before school, read the daily menus and related a few of the upcoming activities around the school.

Class discussions and speakers were also aired in order that other classes could benefit from the program offered.

Expansions, Additions Broaden WEHS Scope

Students Give Time, Energy to Community

Everett students help unload bread boxes in the Muscular Dystrophy Bread Drive.

Activities in the community took up part of the time of busy Everett students. The first of such activities was the ALSAC drive in September. The drive, which collected more than $15,900, was in support of the ALSAC foundation, a non-profit organization founded by Danny Thomas for the sole purpose of raising funds for the support and maintenance of St. Jude's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee. The prime concern of St. Jude's is leukemia and other children's diseases.

Lansing area teens, including Everett, participated in the March of Dime's Teenage Program (TAP) in early December. The proceeds from the event went to the March of Dime's Fund and was used for expenses in fighting birth defects. The program was coordinated by Dan Klco of O'Rafferty with Mr. James Klass and Mrs. Fred Towns serving as advisors. Judy Puffer was the chairman from Everett.

Johnson, Schram Were '67 Football Royalty

Snow, slush and bad weather failed to dampen the spirit of the 1967 Football Homecoming. In a special assembly held in the gym, the courts and royalty were announced. Spectators were told to imagine a lush, green park in springtime and all watched as mother Linda Terry related several storybook rhymes to baby Jon Brown. Little Jack Horner announced sophomore court, Barb Rice and Gary Wickman. Miss Muffet's spider came out of hiding to announce juniors Marcia Dail and Carl Strickland, and Simple Simon revealed the senior court, Chris Beaudoin and Larry Martin. With the help and magic of Cinderella, the 1967 Football Homecoming King and Queen, Chuck Schram and Linda Johnson, were announced.

Time, Work, Fun Make Up Parade of Floats

Stiff fingers and wet faces were a common sight among those participating in the creation of class floats. With nippy weather and snow hampering the busy students outdoors, they took to garages to complete their class representations.

The senior float, entitled "Hats Off to Victory," displayed a football helmet and mortar board, symbolic of their graduation in June. The chairman was Jane Van Ness.

"Defeat is for the Birds," the junior entry, won the Homecoming competition. Led by Sherran Lilly, the juniors were sorry to see their float wilted the day before Homecoming when a sudden snowstorm caught the structure unprotected.

The sophomores presented the traditional Viking ship in white with a scarlet sail inscribed with an ornate "E". "Sail to Victory," under the direction of Sue Harman, was complete with shields which originally the Vikings hung on the sides of their boats.

Students Take Time Out for Enjoying Trips

The highlight of the year for forty-one Everett students was their exciting trip to Stratford, Ontario, Canada. They were a part of some two hundred students from the Lansing area who attended the festival production of Shakespeare's Richard III, on October 6, 1967.

At 7 a.m. the students, accompanied by Mrs. Kellerman and Mrs. Havens, boarded the train to begin their long journey. Upon arriving in Stratford, they explored the small town and the unique theater where they would soon watch the play. After an excellent performance, dinner was eaten at the Victoria Inn and the students returned home.

Archives editors, the advisor, and parents of the editors visited Detroit in spring to see the Archives being published.

While there they viewed pieces of the finished book, learned about shade coloring, the general quality of the book, and the press sheets. Not only was the trip educational, but the editors were able to see their own work going to press.

A trip to Ann Arbor for the MIPA convention was sponsored by the University of Michigan and was also in the spring. The one day convention was for the current editors and the staff editors for the 1968 Viking and Archives.

'Communistic Take-over' Theme in Ed Hillendale (Jerry Morey) pensively studies the palm of the Princess.

The evenings of November 17 and 18 brought with them the presentation of "The Ugly American" by the 1968 Senior class. A great success, the play was the story of an American couple in a small southeast Asian country, vainly trying to prevent the prospective take-over by Communists. Set in the present, Homer and Emma Atkins attempt to reach the common people of the small Sarkhanese villages and convince the American representatives to do the same. Meanwhile, working against them are Deong, who once saved Homer's life, and his counterparts.

Climactically, the decision of whether or not to approve Homer's plans comes to a head and the continuation of his mission is in the hands of the deciders.

After competitive try-outs, the leads were given to Sue Graham, as Emma Atkins, and Kerm Day, as Homer Atkins. Diong was portrayed by Tom Pick.

Directing the play was Mrs. Janet Harris, with student director, Dottie Kill. These people, combined with all others who worked backstage, produced an excellent production.

To begin the new stream of assemblies presented to the student body was Mr. Robert Hammond, a representative of the Michigan Alcohol Association with a talk entitled "A New Look at the Old Sauce."

A mock court trial was demonstrated by members of the Ingham County Youth Court, coordinated by Miss Marie Ellen Schon. Miss Schon, an Everett alumna, explained the purpose and function of the court during the case of "People Against Paul Gentilozzi," in which our Student Council president played a young driver accused of careless driving.

An exchange of choir assemblies brought the Livonia Bentley High School to Everett. Among the selections featured were "Another Summer Gone" and a comical version of "The Modern Choir". The Everett choir also sang.

Bach was the specialty of Mr. Kenneth Goddman who returned to Everett after two years to delight our audience with his selections on the organ.

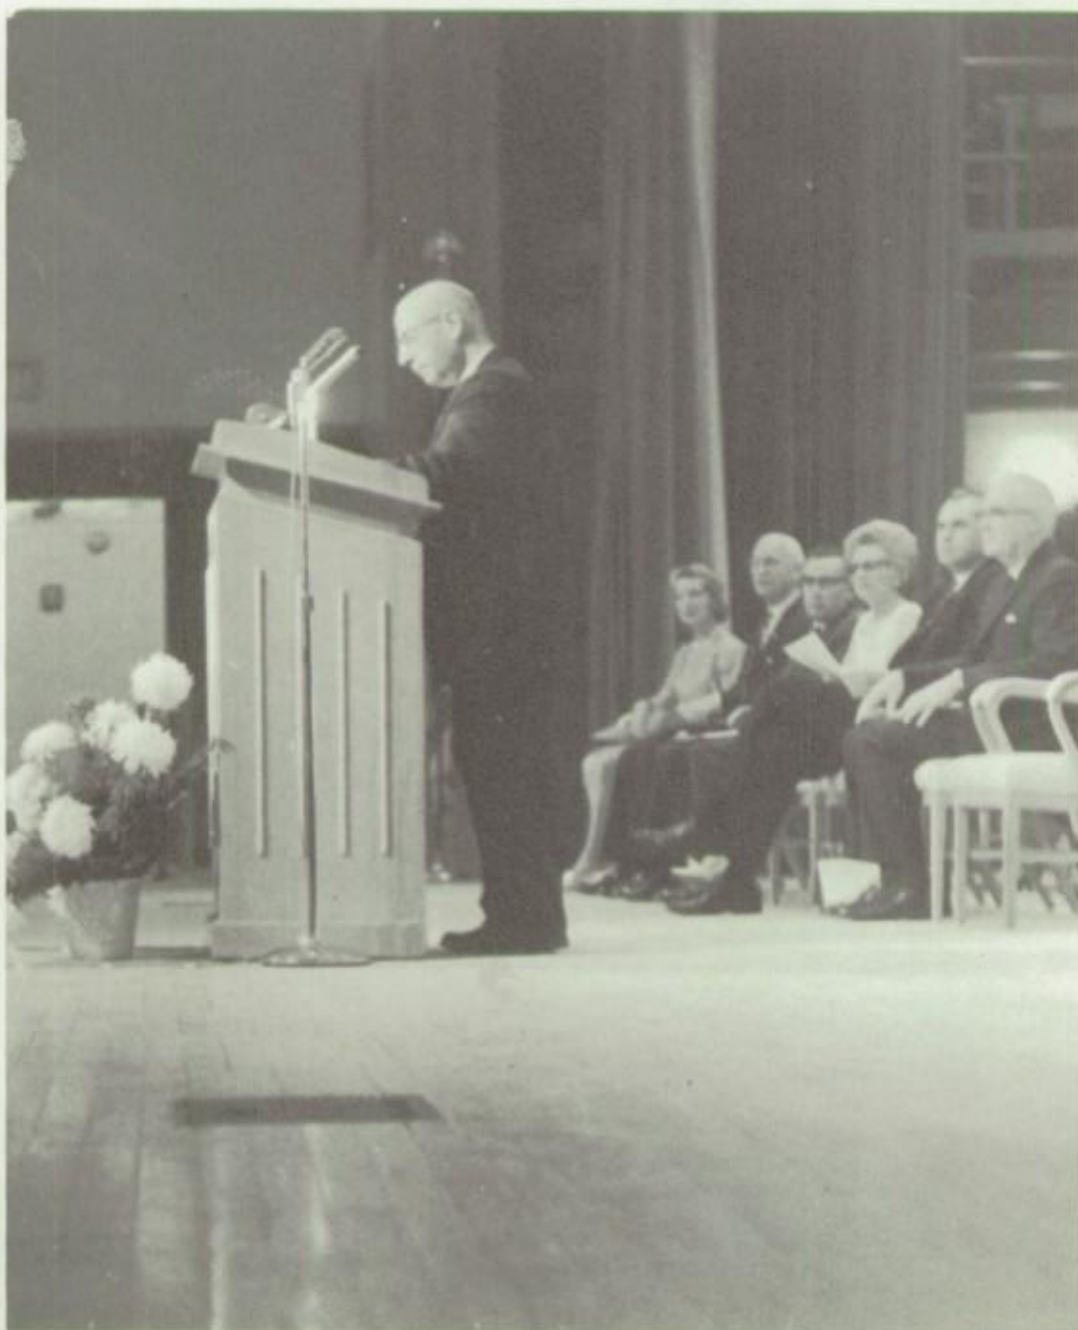

An annual Christmas assembly was presented by the Everett choir. There were several selections by the choir, Boy's Glee, Girl's Glee, and the Chorale. The band also played a medley of songs.

For all assemblies the band played selections before the assembly and the Star Spangled Banner.

Enthusiasm and dexterity were exhibited by Kenneth Goodman on the organ.

From Everett in 1968 Youth Talent

The Youth Talent Exhibit for 1968 was held from March 31 to April 7 in the Lansing Civic Center. Sponsored by The State Journal, Lansing Parks and Recreation Department, and Oldsmobile Division of General Motors, the exhibit was open to students in grades 6 through 12 who lived or attended school in the circulation area of the Journal.

Each entry had to be the individual work of the exhibitor, with no group entries accepted. An exhibitor could enter an exhibit in any one of 21 classifications, such as ceramics, creative writing, handicrafts, musical composition and arrangement, and biological science.

Entries were judged by independent adult experts. The State Journal awarded prizes to those exhibits that the judges felt were most outstanding in their particular area.

The owners of the two top exhibits in the Senior Sciences division received an all-expenses paid trip to the National Science Fair held in Detroit, Michigan, from May 15 to May 18.

Cheerleaders Spark Spirit, Boost Morale

"We've got the school, we've got the pep, we've got the cheerleaders to make it best!"

The newly added cheerleading squads have boosted the number of Everett cheerleaders to 24 for the 1967-68 school year. The Varsity Reserves and the Junior Varsity Reserve were added to the original squads. The main function of the Varsity Reserve was to lead cheering at wrestling meets and to substitute for the Varsity in case of illness or suspension from the squad. With the permission of the Varsity cheerleaders, the Reserves led cheers in front of the parents section of the stadium bleachers.

The Varsity cheerleaders were: Sue Demorest (captain), Marcia Dail (co-captain), Diane Dunn, Sherran Lilly, April Thomas and Linda Thomas. The Varsity Reserves were: Marcia Meyers (captain), Judy Puffer (co-captain), Janet Riley, Harva Saunto, Michele Swabash and Shelley Woodward.

The Junior Varsity cheerleaders were: Ann Gorman (captain), Sue Cole (co-captain), Kaye Fairchild, Sheila Hardesty, Debe Nation and Theresa Van Stratt. Reserves were: Barb Rice (captain), Linda Dabney (co-captain), Sue Harman, Michele Pickett, Sue Howell and Dori Lee.

The 1968 Winter Homecoming Court: Queen, Linda Terry; King, John Wheeler; sophomore court, Linda Clark and Jeff

Burger; junior court, Sally Wauvle and Mark Rittenger; and senior court, Sharon Kot and John Blanchard.

Terry, Wheeler Triumph Over Royal Court

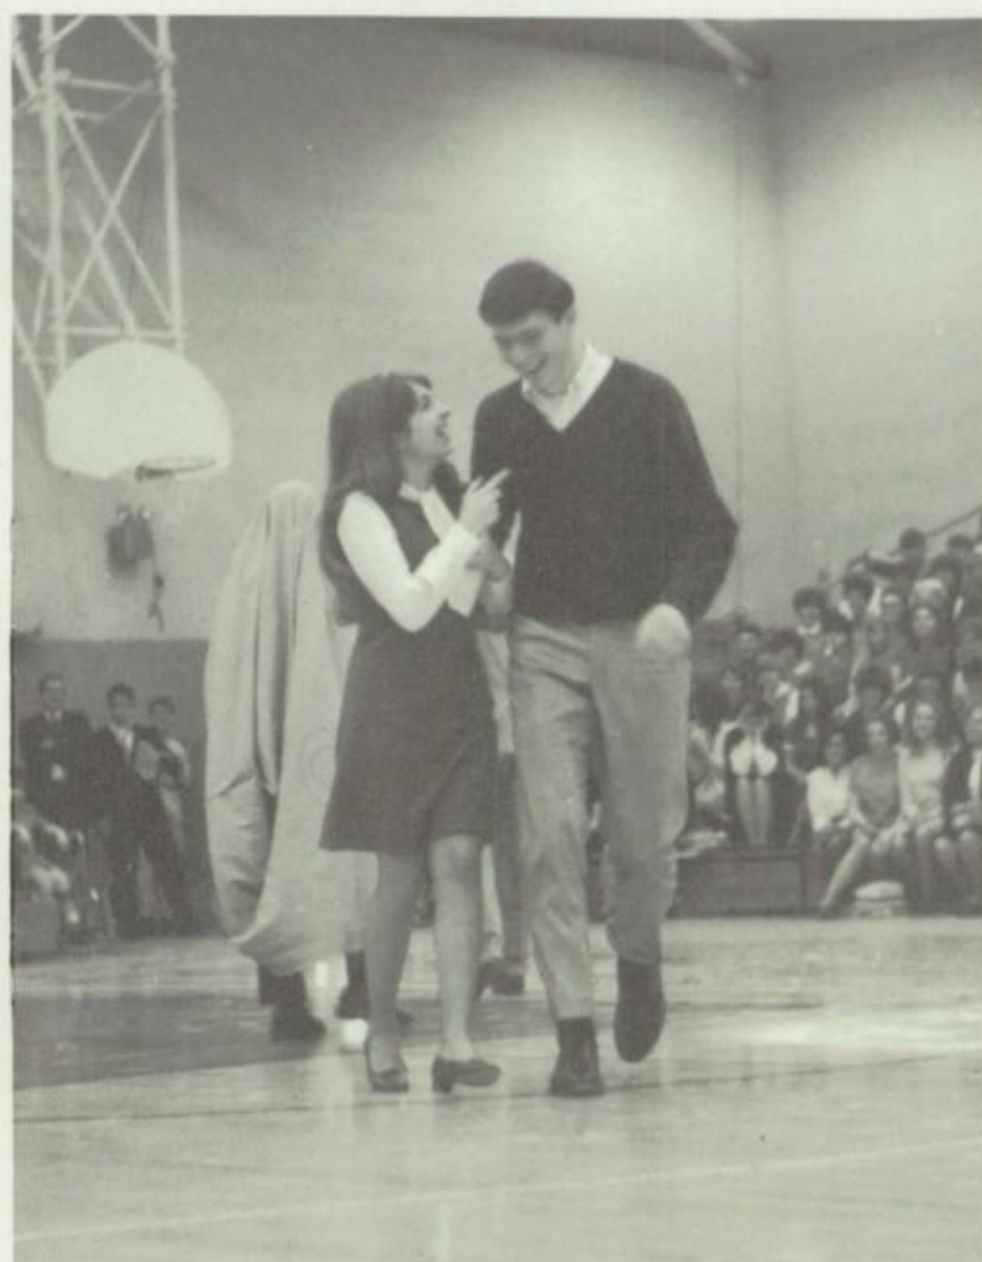

John Wheeler and Linda Terry reigned over the Everett-Jackson Parkside Winter Homecoming basketball game. They were attended by John Blanchard and Sharon Kot, senior court; Sally Wauvle and Mark Rittenger, junior court; and Linda Clark and Jeff Burger, sophomore court.

Festivities began with Spirit Week, during which Jackson Parkside was hung in effigy on Mourning Day. All students were to wear black and white.

Spirit Day finished the fun. Students wore red and white and yelled enthusiastically at the pep assembly. Spirit signs designed and hung by the classes were judged. The triumphant class received $25 and the spirit jug.

On hand were Pam Dail and Tom Campbell, 1967 Senior Class officers, to present a large bell from their senior class to the school.

The king and queen were crowned at the dance held after the game.

The triumphant queen, Linda Terry, is led from her seat by king John Wheeler.

by Top Ten Winners, All Everett Students

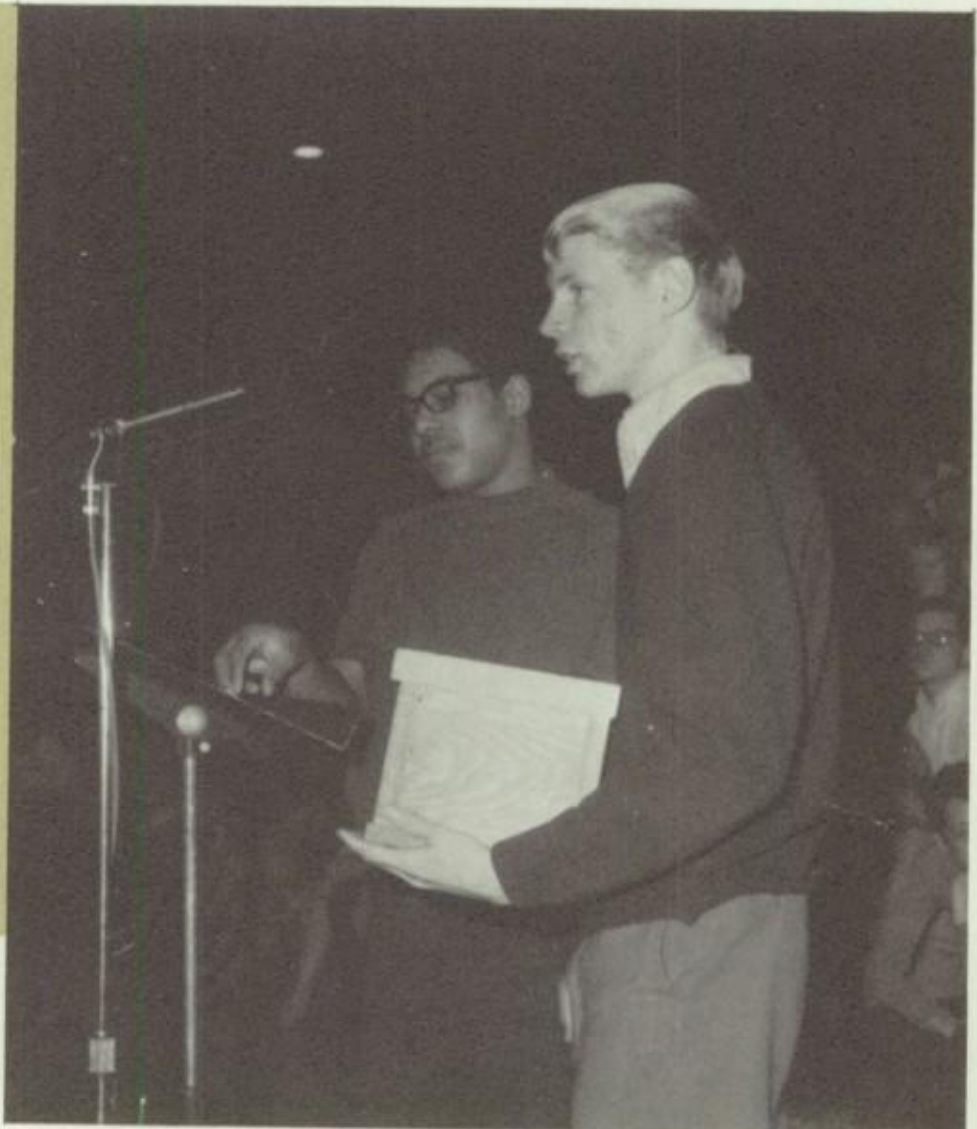

The 1968 Magazine Campaign was officially "kicked off" by a pep assembly held on February first in the auditorium.

The main goal for this year's campaign was a Viking statue to be placed on top of the school. The other projects were a baseball scoreboard, band uniforms, and equipment for the TV Tech room.

Top Ten winners were Paula Bonham, Dan Caterino, Sue Jackson, Glenda Orlor, Joyce Leute, Robert Rouse, Dan Walkington, Janet Lee, Scott Warren, and Jim Heriford.

Among the prizes offered were a portable TV, stereo unit, portable typewriter, skis, and a tape recorder.

Small prizes were offered for those persons who sold a single subscription. Among those offered were big "E" charms, pennants, pencils, and pens.

Time and Training a Large Part of Co-op

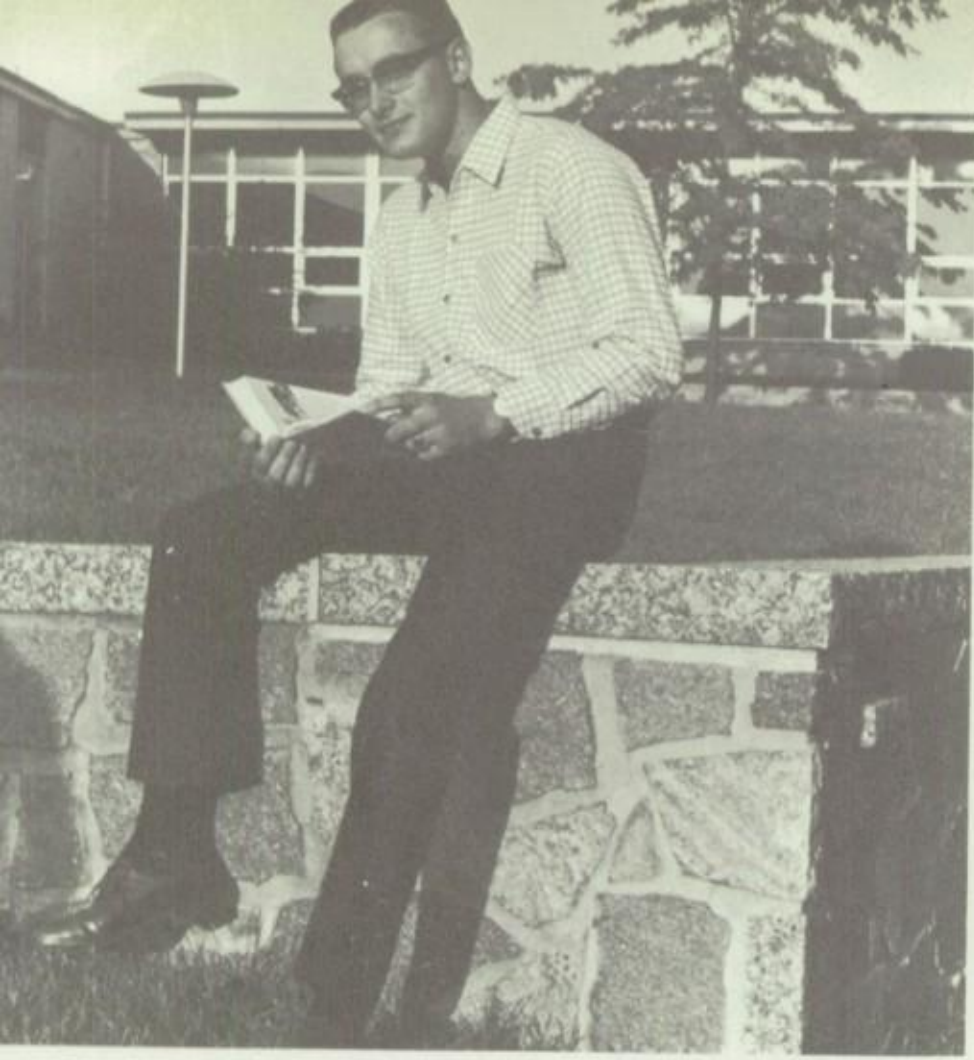

Stocking shelves was only a part of the job for Larry Keyes and Bob Adrian at Denstaedt's.

Co-op made it possible to place students in business or industry over an entire year, and provided the experience of on-the-job training which school did not provide.

The placement of students in the co-op program depended on various factors. The best qualified students were always placed first — those with good scholastic records, good attendance records, with skills which employers required, and those who showed responsibility, integrity, dependability, and maturity in their school work.

The cooperative training jobs fell into three general categories: Distributive which consisted of selling, clerking, wrapping, stocking, display work, and gas station attendants; Office which consisted of employment in insurance companies, banks, school offices, professional offices, retail store offices, and all other clerical jobs; and the third, Industrial which consisted of auto mechanics, appliance repairmen, printers, meat cutters, beauty operators, food trades, hospital employees, draftsmen, and other trades too numerous to mention.

Coordinators for the cooperative program were Distributive, Mr. Parks; Office, Mr. Gundry; and Industrial, Mr. Dalrymple.

Enjoying a Michigan afternoon, Joachim ponders while reading a book for Advanced Composition.

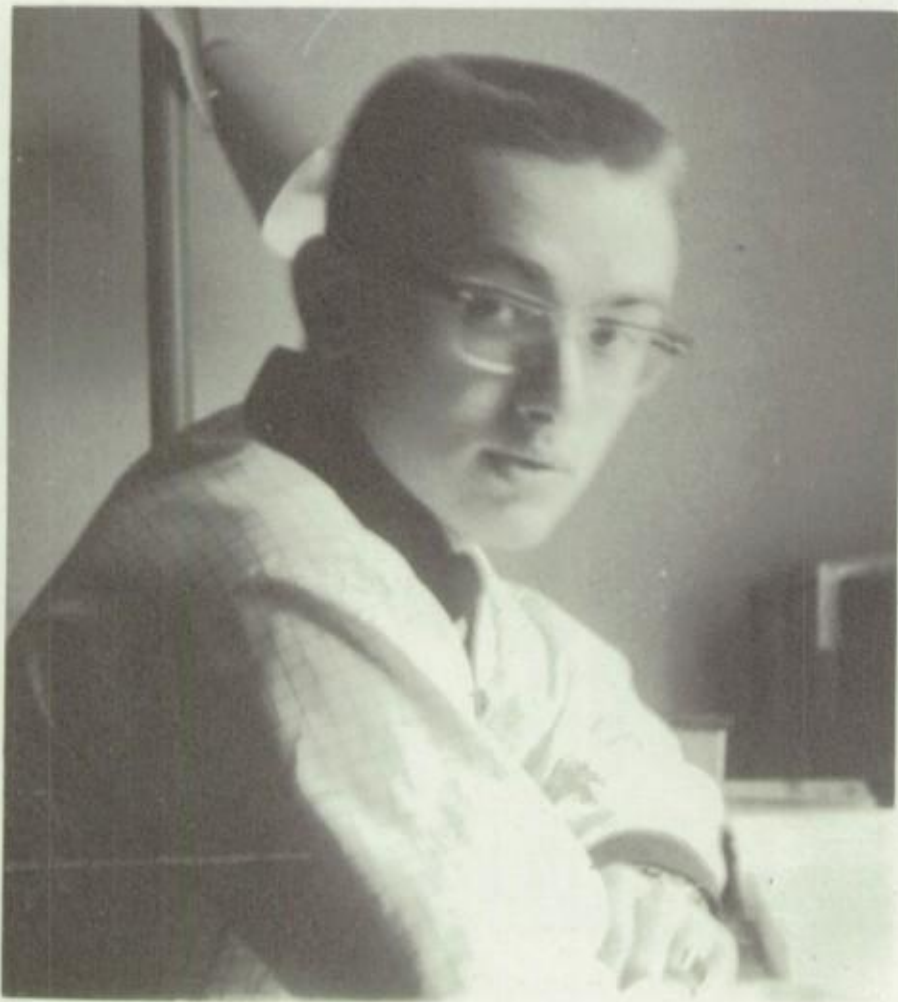

Joachim Bloch, from Hamburg, Germany, was an important element of school at Everett to everyone who knew him. Besides being a semi-official member of the International Club, he attended meetings of the German Club. In Germany, outside activities such as youth groups and working as a life-guard for the German Life-Saving Society, took up most of Joachim's off time. In working with youths, he had his own group of boys and girls between the ages of fifteen and seventeen.

His academic schedule included Advanced Art, Advanced Composition, U. S. History, Comparative Government, and French, which was his favorite class.

When asked what he thought about America as a whole, he replied that he liked "the people, especially the young people; their frank way of life (although sometimes it is too leisurely) and their living standard."

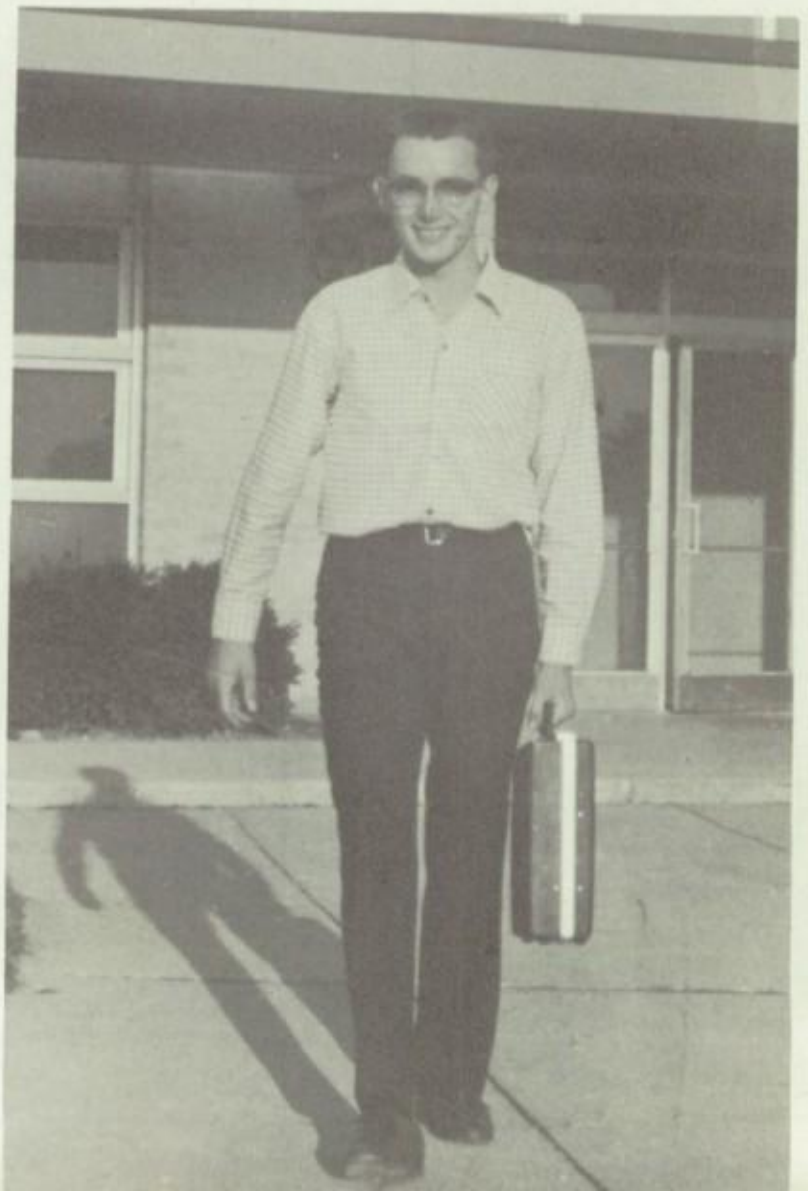

Joachim expressed a real pleasure in attending our school, stating that it is very modern and nice. But he commented that it was a little bit too crowded, and the five minute breaks between the periods weren't very long.

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 28, 29, 30, Everett High School's auditorium rang with the glorious tunes of Rogers and Hammerstein as the vocal music department presented "Carousel".

"Carousel" is the story of a carefree carnival barker, Billy Bigelow, who falls in love with and marries a small town girl, Julie Jordan. Just before their first child is born Billy loses his job and robs a local mill owner. To avoid getting caught he commits suicide.

When his daughter is ready to graduate from high school, Billy realizes that she is about to make the same mistake he did and is granted one day to return to Earth and help her.

Student director for the production was Jennie Rotier and the student producer was Sue Deason. In charge of the production were Mr. Tom Thompson and Mrs. Janet Harris. After stiff competition, male leads were given to Doug Schram and Richard Scovel. Female leads were given to Marianne Kuhn and Linda Terry.

Orchestra, Band Demonstrate Timely Skills

The band, under the direction of Mr. Clemens, earns well-deserved praise for a magnificent performance during the Spring Concert.

Two concerts were presented by the Everett High School Orchestra and Band during the year. The first was a Winter Concert held in January. Among the numbers by the Orchestra were "The Impresario" by Wolfgang Mozart and selections from "The Sound of Music." The band performed "A Kingston Trio Folk Song Overture" and "Divertimento for Band" by Vincent Persichetti, along with various other numbers. The highlight of the concert was the "Concert Digest," a humorous presentation with a narrator.

On May 14, the two musical sections presented a joint Spring Arts Festival. The main event of this concert was a "Bach Double Concerto," featuring a double solo of violins with the orchestra. The soloists were seniors Steve Parham and Linda Cole.

Tuning up is an important asset of preparation, and Linda Cole sets forth accordingly.

Paris, the South, Are Scenes for Proms

The Eiffel Tower of Paris was the local point of attention for the Junior Prom, "Enchante en Paris". Other various decorations were scenes of Paris, with the refreshment area as a sidewalk cafe. Pictures were taken against a miniature Eiffel Tower with a star-studded sky.

After a misunderstanding between the ticket sellers and management, approximately 150 couples attended.

The Michael Keen Quintet presented their own arrangements of French songs for the prom.

The deep South was the setting for the 1968 Senior Prom. With "Gone With the Wind" as the theme, 100 to 200 couples danced among willow trees, park benches, and a garden setting. The feature of the decorations was a large chandelier in the center of the floor. Part of the background was a southern mansion. Pictures were taken on a swing, with sky as a backdrop.

Glenda Payne and Mark Soderberg share their enjoyment of the Senior Prom, "Gone With the Wind."

1968 Archives Shows Time, Effort Put Forth

One of the final climaxes of the school year, especially for all Seniors, was the presentation of the 1968 Archives. The new Yearbooks were delivered to homerooms during the Awards Assembly in June. Approximately 1800 books were ordered this year.

Delivery of the annuals was a week before distribution, the books being stored in the front of 213 during the week. Those able to preview the book were members of the Archives Staff. A brief party was held at the home of the editor, Nancy Archambeau, at which staff members were given their copies and celebrated. The book was officially presented to the school at the Awards Assembly.

Casual, Dress-Up Day a Fun Time for All

All set for Dress-Up Day are Beth Harkins, Jerry Podany, and Terry Dunlap pausing before going to classes.

This spring, around the end of the school year, a fast and furious change took over Everett's halls and classrooms. On one day passersby saw students as casual as they dare get. In a tradition at Everett, this was known as Casual Day, on which students wore clothing of a casual nature.

The next day, one saw a quite different picture: students were dressed to the hilt. Boys had on ties and suits; girls wore hair up and heels. This was Dress-Up Day. It was also on Dress-Up Day that senior students took over classes as temporary teachers for the day, with the permission of the regular teacher.

Hark! Is that John Hornus trying to hide beneath the great sombrero?

Chris Fuhrmeister and Phil Rock take Casual Day seriously as they practice playing the guitar for a concert during lunch.

JA an Achievement for All Involved

During the last school months approximately forty Everett students learned about Junior Achievement. These students learned to operate their own companies, sell stock, manufacture products, sell products and services, keep books, pay salaries, wages and taxes, and prepare annual reports.

Everett students helped to make the first year of J.A. in Greater Lansing a success. Clyde Baldwin, Boyd Bronson, Barry Dalton, Gary Everett, Randy Lanty, Marvin Lynch, and Doug Simons were presidents of their companies. Other Everett students held executive offices and worked in one of 18 Lansing companies.

In May these companies were liquidated after 85% of them showed a major profit. For these people, Junior Achievement was an achievement.

Experiences, Knowledge Revealed

Through Time

Learning . . . a developing of skills and the increasing of knowledge . . . a part of school life and a part of life's school. Youth . . . the time for the forming of impressions which burn deep within your personality . . . remembering your first teacher who reached out to guide you through the doors which led up the long stairway of education . . . your first day of junior high and the feeling of being a part of the world, but oh so small a part . . . entering high school and being a smaller grain of sand in a larger existence. Through your experiences, education never stopped, as time revealed its mysteries and its immense knowledge, gained only from the living ages. Slowly you discovered some of its proud possessions and you painfully made them your own . . . for use now and in the future.

Mr. Partington Heads School Board

While the Board of Education lost one of its able leaders, they gained a capable administrator with the appointment of Mr. Stephen Partington as superintendent of the Lansing Public Schools. Mr. Partington replaced Dr. Manning, who resigned to accept the position of superintendent in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Partington came to Lansing 18 years ago as the first head of the Department of Pupil Personnel. He held many positions previous including high school principal at Wyoming Park, professor at Hope College, and assistant superintendent of public instruction.

Elected by the voters from each school district, the seven school board members managed to set a very fine record. They controlled the school activities and co-ordinated the curriculum schedule.

New superintendent of schools, Mr. Stephen Partington dictates business letters with the help of his personal secretary Miss Martha Heidel.

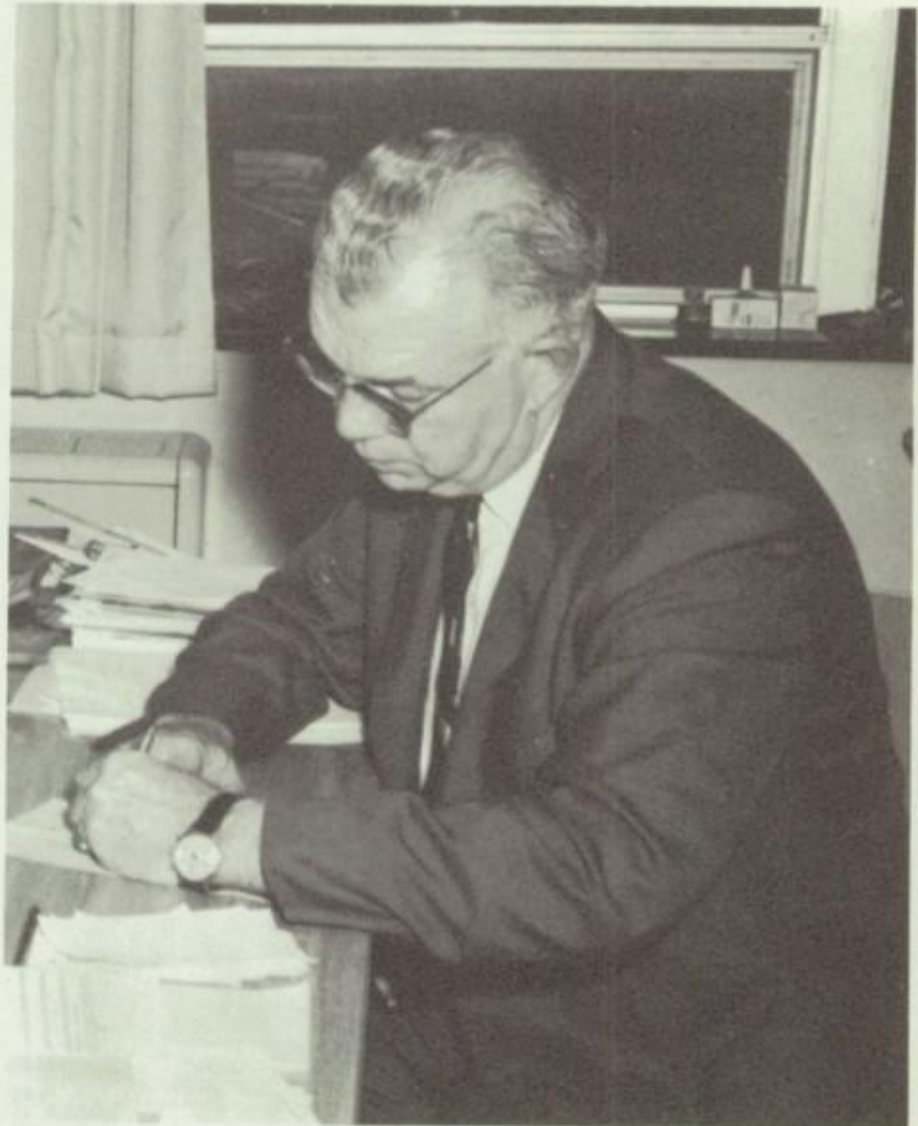

Time Is Loyalty From 'The Big Three'

Supervision of over 2300 students was an immense job, but it was one which our administration handled willingly and with great skill. Helping students with problems, complaints and suggestions required a combination of patience, understanding, and a sincere interest to make Everett an outstanding high school.

Our principal, Mr. Benjamin Leyrer, was Chief Administrator. Miss Elfie Christenson, assistant principal, performed her duties as Dean of Girls, Girls' League Advisor, and Honor Society Supervisor with sincerity and understanding. Another assistant principal, Mr. Archie Ross handled Everett's discipline and truancy, issued permits and passes, and was in charge of students parking.

Together the principals of Everett High School worked hard to make Everett a school for the past, present as well as the future students to be proud of.

Acting as our distinguished principal for fourteen years, Mr. Benjamin Leyrer.

Dean of Boys, Mr. Archie Ross knows how to handle them.

Miss Elfie Christenson, our Dean of Girls is an understanding friend to the girls.

Busy Office Staff Adds Their Time to Everett

Working diligently to benefit the school is our busy office staff.

Mrs. Kathryn Woodland

Mrs. Marilyn Warner

Miss Marie Clegg

Miss Alice Hefton

The main office of Everett was in the good hands of four very capable secretaries. As well as typing up weekly bulletins, their jobs included such things as keeping office records up to date, sorting mail, and answering any questions that the faculty or students might have had.

Mrs. Kathryn Woodland, secretary to Mr. Leyrer, was a graduate of Leslie High School and Lansing Business University.

Marie Clegg was a graduate of Tri-County High School, Howard City. She also attended Ferris State College and the Davenport Institute.

Alice Hefton and Marilyn Warner are both graduates of Everett.

These four ladies worked very hard to keep the main office in top running order.

Everett's cooking staff consisted of Mrs. Mary Beth Pardo, Mrs. Sylvia Goodman, Mrs. Joyce Gibbs, Mrs. Helen Sinke, Mrs. June Moening, Mrs. Dora Mollitor, Mrs. Blance Robbins, and Mrs. Myra Scholl.

Lunches for students and teachers at EHS were prepared daily by the cafeteria workers of Everett High School. The cafeteria ran on a four week cycle so that the same meal was only served once in a month. Special parties and banquets also relied on the expert skill of cafeteria workers.

We were extremely fortunate to have had so many fine custodians. Mr. Darwin Coy, head custodian, had the responsibility of seeing that everything functioned smoothly and properly. He was assisted by Mr. John Peck. Special functions which were cared for with skill were the heating and cooling systems, outdoor facilities, and the swimming pool.

Able Senior Girls Give Their Time

Mr. Ross keeps an orderly office with Sue Smith, Linda Johnson, Denise Gamel, Barb Petersen, Elaine Urban, and Joan Bosheff as help.

Miss Christensen is provided help by Ingrid Worgul, Marcia Myers, Annette Gibbs, Lynn Lyon, Sharon Kot, Linda Wilkins, and Barb Marlin.

To Assist Principals

Practicing their secretarial talents this past year in the office were Annette Gibbs, Sharon Kot, Lynnette Lyons, Marcia Myers, Linda Wilkins, Ingrid Worgul, Linda Terry, Joan Bosheff, Sherry Smith, Denise Gamel, Linda Johnson, Barb Peterson, and Elaine Urbon.

They learned that even though a secretary's job sounds glamorous and exciting, it isn't all fun. Among various jobs the girls filed, typed, stapled, sorted, and answered the phone.

The girls work during their study hall if their grades were good enough during a regular class period. But in order to be chosen by Miss Christenson, they had to have a B or better grade average.

Picking up attendance cards is a daily chore for Chris Beaudoin and other helpful senior girls.

Helping to manage a school is a big job as Virginia Kennedy, Gretchen Freeman, Chris Beaudoin and Jo deVries help Mr. Webb in his daily duties.

Studying news articles makes correct word usage familiar to students.

Techniques Improved With Journalism

Journalism class, under the direction of Mr. James Faulkner, combined the skills of good writing with the art of journalism. Correct composition, interviews, and various ways of expressing both facts and fiction were stressed.

Students not only gained knowledge of the journalism style, but also interest in a career centered around it. Practical application was seen as students toured WILS and the State Journal. They were also given a chance to write a TV newscast and present it over our WEHS Television.

Mr. Faulkner, in his only Journalism class, is very busy sorting papers before handing them out.

While studying Spanish speaking countries Karlyn Black and Grace Infante show Mrs. Riddle what they learned.

Students Tend To Conquer Language Barrier

International scientists have overcome the distance barriers and now it has become the duty of Americans as international citizens to overcome the language barrier. Everett was fortunate to have a language laboratory which aided in the instruction of French, German, Latin, and Spanish. Along with the lab aid we were privileged to have qualified teachers who were willing to share their knowledge of language.

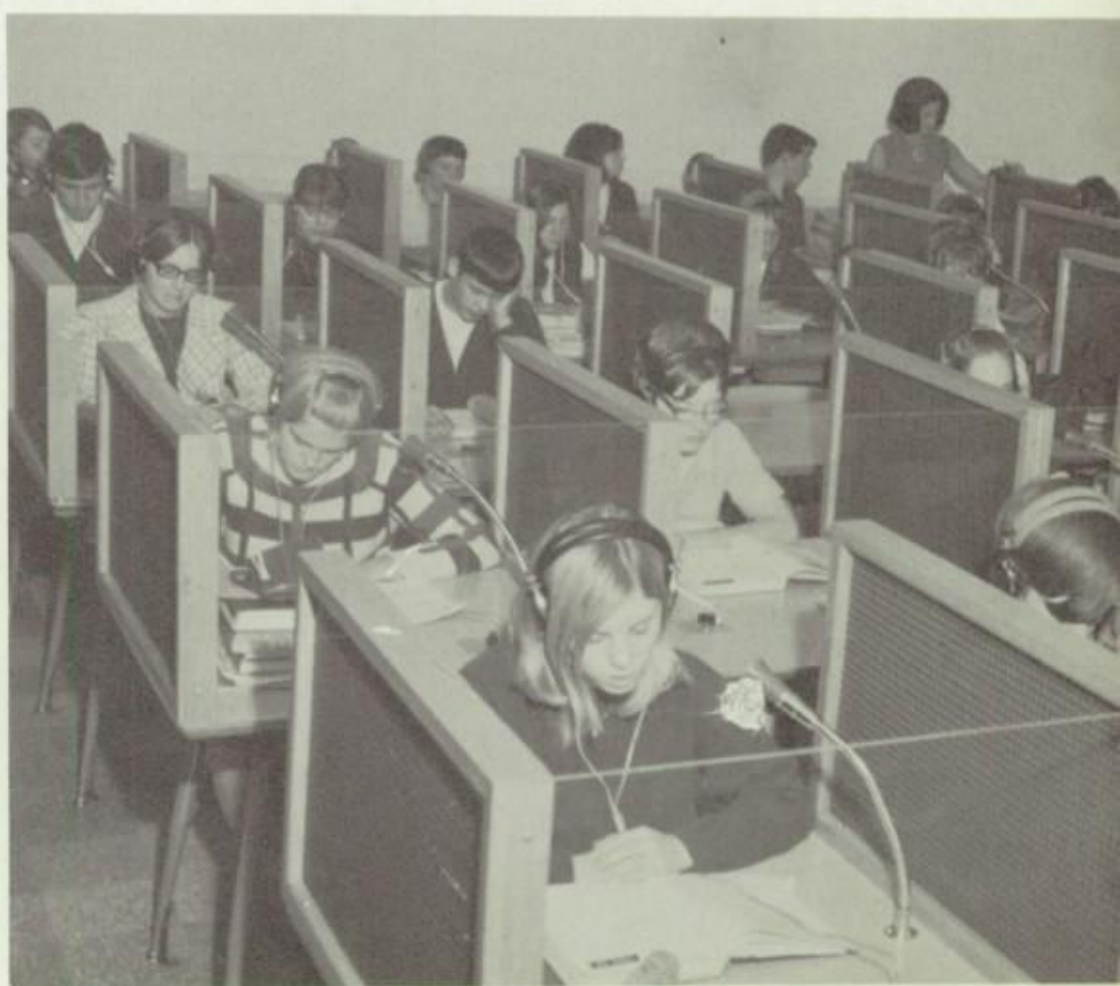

French classes were taught by Mrs. Carol Brown and Mrs. Caroline Young. Both classes covered French history and required a French project.

In Latin, Mrs. Sweeny taught basic grammar and translation.

Mr. Humphrey had weekly spelling tests and stressed memorization and translation. Games in German were also employed to teach simple basics and make the course more enjoyable.

Spanish, taught by Mrs. Riddle, entailed a great deal of culture and a depth study into the history of Spain and the Spanish people.

The laboratory aids Mrs. Brown's class in pronunciation.

Time Brings Reward in Honor Society

Sylvia Husband, Jo deVries, Barb Petersen, Virginia Kennedy, Lynn Lyons, Kathy Hall, Sharon Kot. Top row: Ann Fowler, Debbie Gidley, Linda Wilkens, Cheri Smith, Carol Towns, R.D. Woell, Barb Marlin, Kris Soderberg, Carol Weisenberg, Annette Gibbs, Gale Lycos, Debbie Ebersole, Mary Todd, Joan Bosheff.

Character, service, leadership, and a B average scholastically led the list of qualifications for Honor Society members. Character was based on the teachers' ratings of the pupil while service and leadership were determined by the students' participation on committees, in clubs, and activities.

The clubs officers were: President Marcia Myers; Vice President Bob Sealock; Secretary Carol Ballmer; Treasurer Pat DeWald; and Program Chairman Linda Johnson.

Assistant Principal, Miss Christensen acted as the advisor of the group.

Conducting a regular honor society meeting is the president Marcia Myers.

Radio Supervisor, David N. Wise showed Doug Simons, Ron Conley, Phyllis Clement, Vickey Mosley, and Ed Hude teletype.

Everett Participates in Pre-Cadet Co-op

A new pre-cadet co-operative program was started this year between Everett and the Michigan State Police headquarters in East Lansing. Five Everett students, 3 boys and 2 girls, comprised the first group.

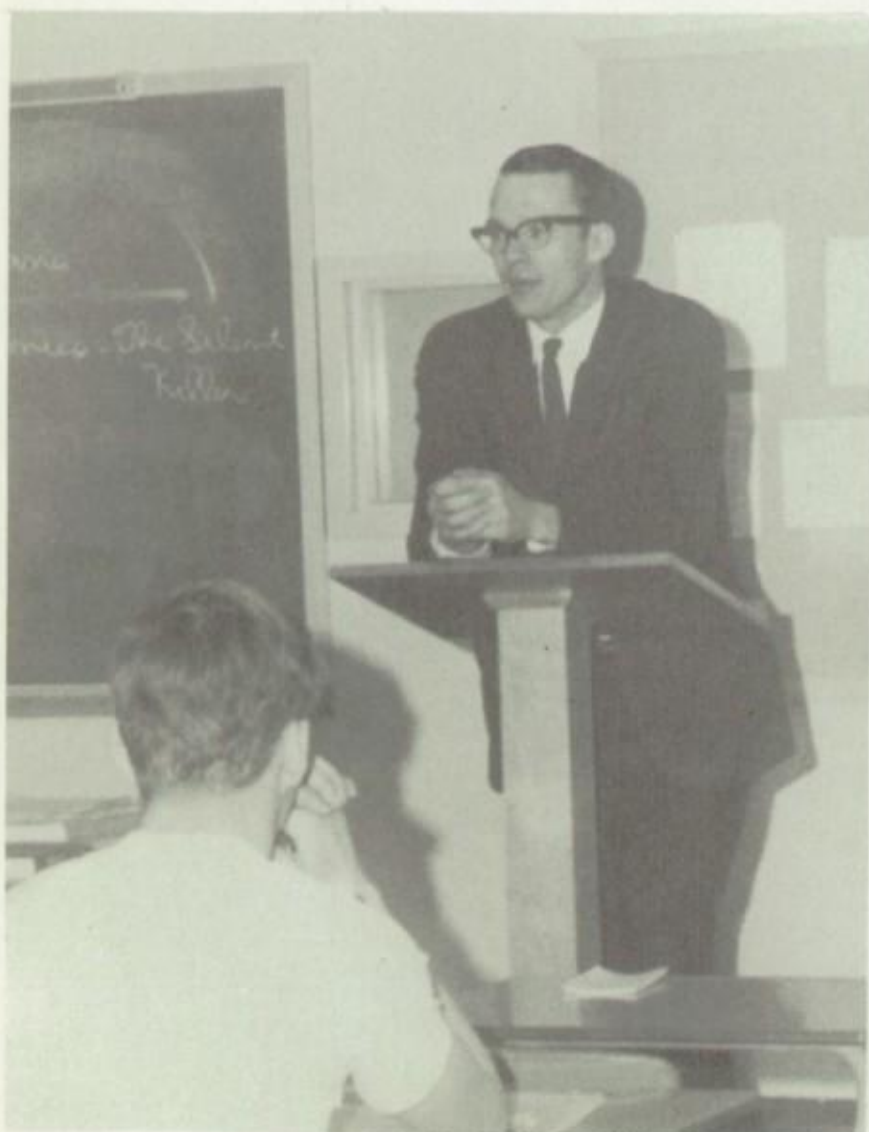

Sergeant William Carter, of the State Police was supervisor for the pre-cadets. Students spent half their day at Everett High School on academic subjects, and the other half at the State Police headquarters in the program.

Phyllis Clement found being a police women takes a lot of paper work.

Economics Stresses Trends of Time

After a year of absence, State and Local Seminar returned to the Social Studies Curriculum, along with the newly added course, Psychology. This was taught by Mr. Robert Wilson and Mr. Robert Townsend, and discussed the behavior of man and related problems.

The two-hour afternoon State and Local Seminar course was offered to seniors with a B or better grade average. They discussed the problems of state and local interest and visited many places in connection with the functions of our government.

A deep respect for American Government and the democratic way of life was stressed through the U. S. History and American Government classes. Economics dealt with the trends of time which affected the business life of America, while Comparative Government derived much from the situations today to supplement the studies of the development of political philosophies of the major governments of the world.

World Geography developed students, a world wide sense of directions, and problems of democracy which went deeper into the difficulties of the free world.

Mr. Wilson explains the knowledge of the behavior of man.

English Class, a Time To Broaden

Literary Insight

Mr. Harold Heins as chairman of the English Dept. and Mrs. Manning as his assistant, helped to make English a more prominent part of education at Everett this past year.

Sophomore classes began with a study of the appreciation for our American heritage. Team teaching was used in this class to correlate English with history. Juniors read and interpreted English literature and learned to express their feelings. Seniors in advanced composition mastered the essentials in structural arrangement of compositions, in order to prepare for college.

In the future English teachers hope to start a humanities course consisting of literature, music, and art combined.

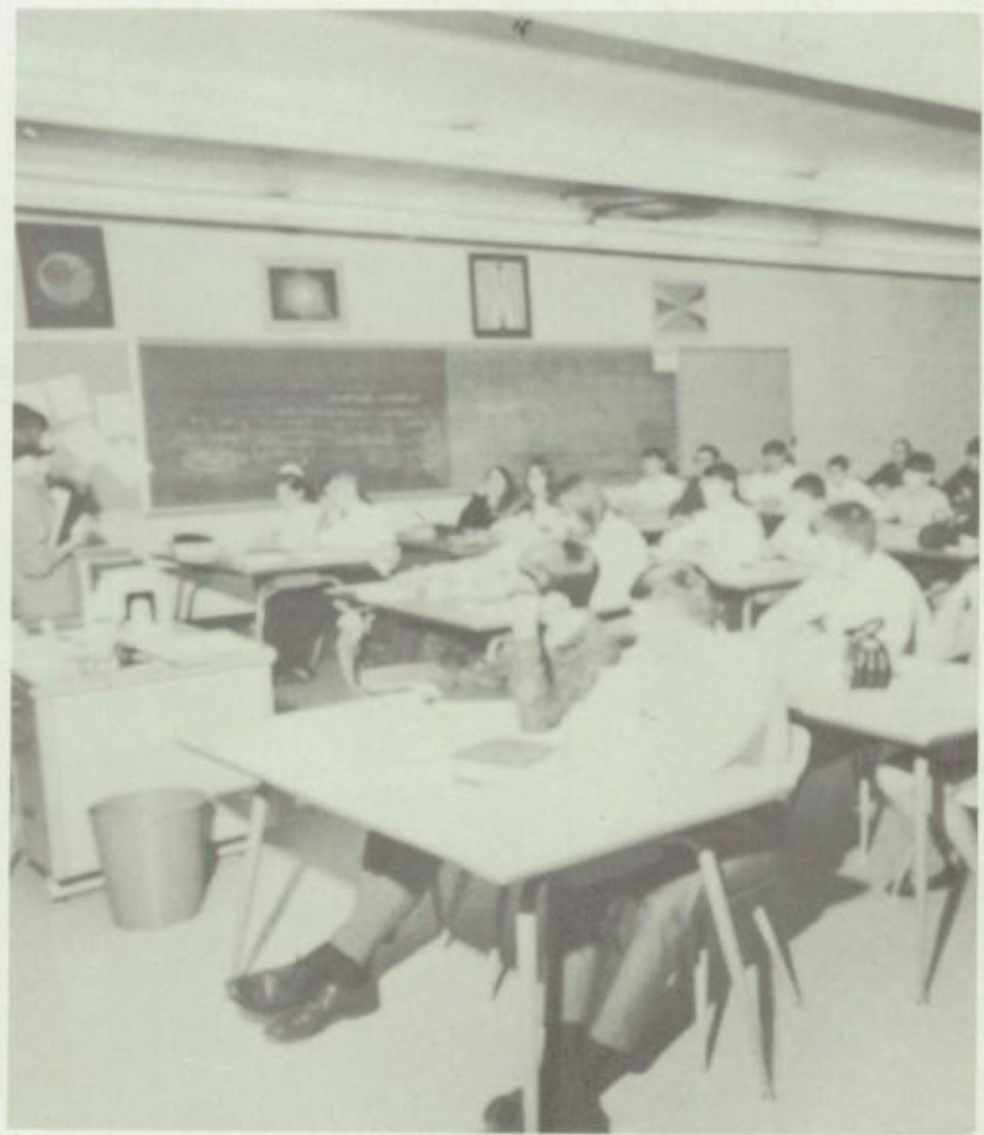

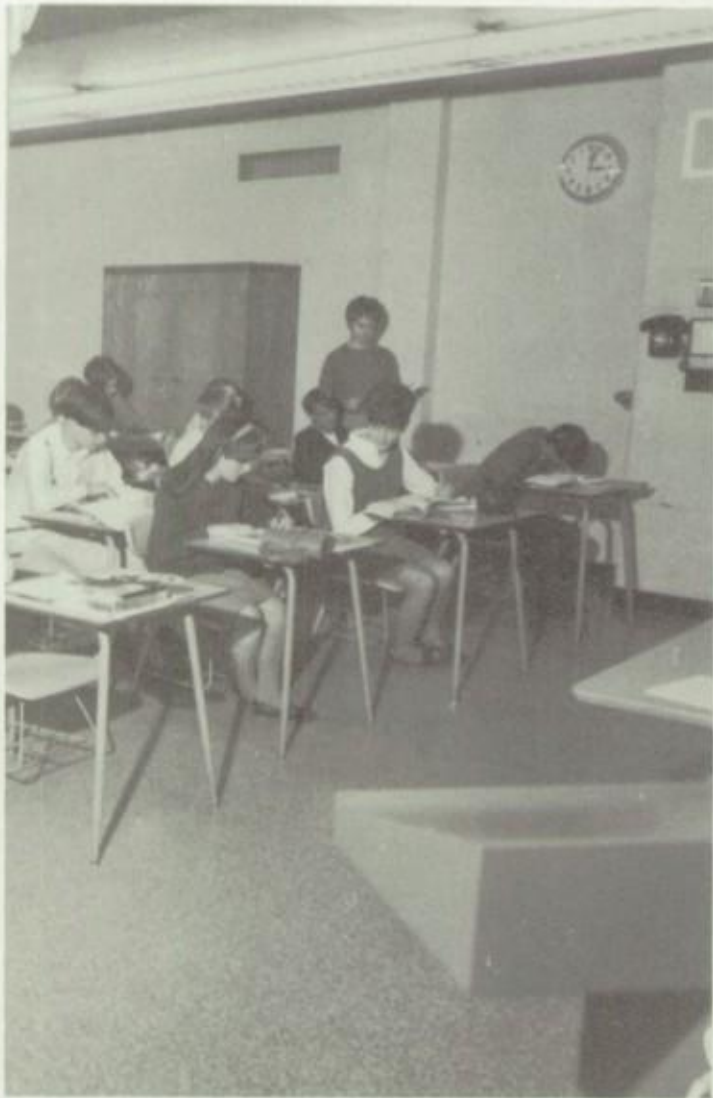

Mrs. McKenna talks to students on literary composition.

Instructing students in the reading of MacBeth, Mrs. Guro stresses the use of expression.

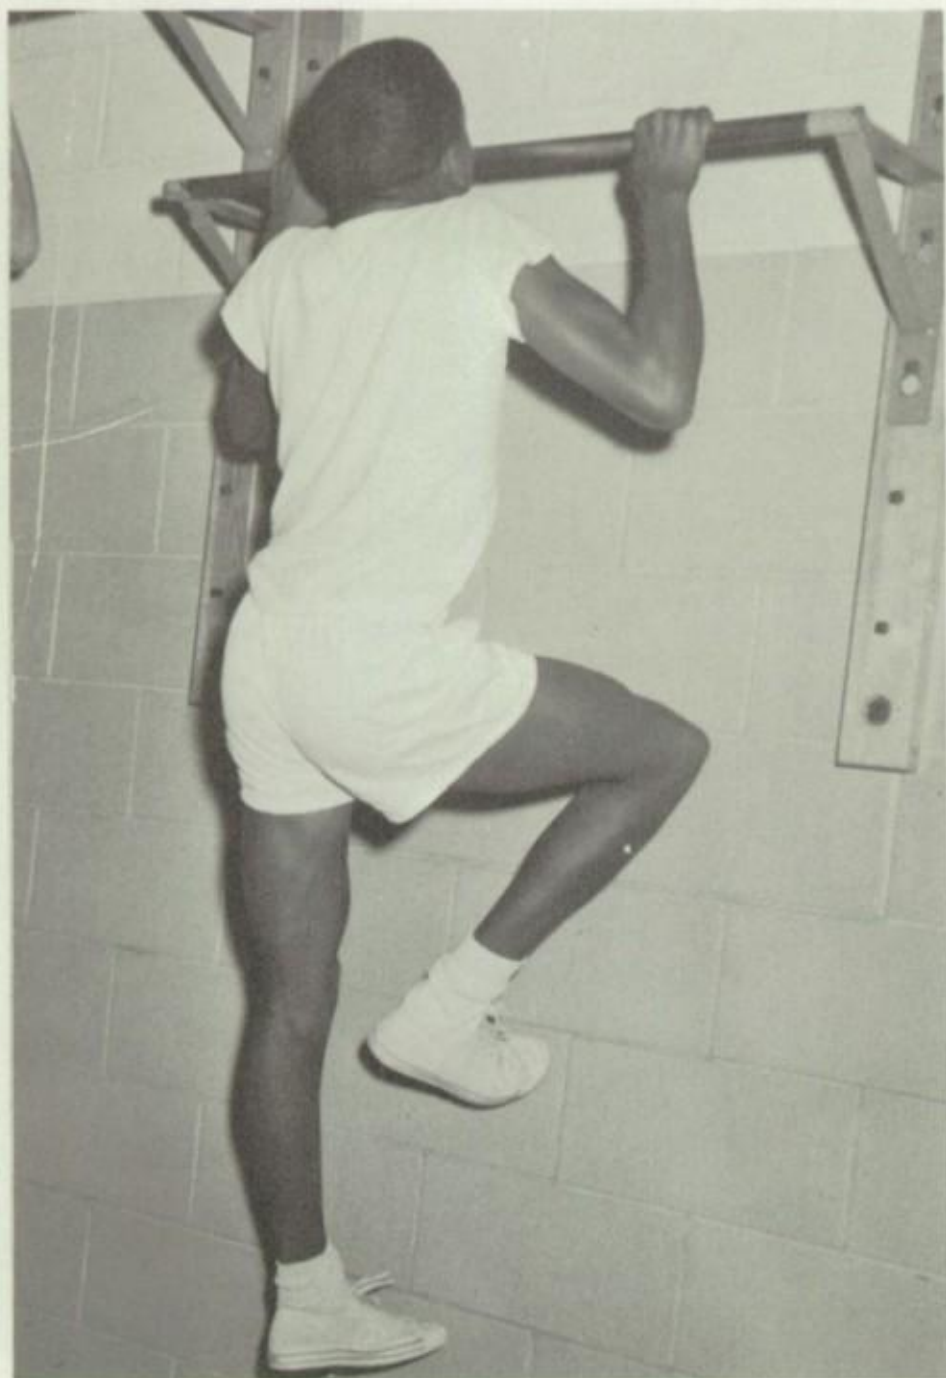

Oral reports were an important element of Mr. Faulkner's Advanced Comp. classes.

Physical Fitness and Mental Health Stressed

Many new innovations were added to the Physical Education Department this past year. Among these were the addition of two new teachers, Miss Barbara Jaquays and Mr. Tony Angel.

Besides the regular physical ed. activities, which revolved around the same basic activities every year, emphasis in the girl's department was placed on modern dance and exercise. It was felt that this would give the girls a chance to put their emotions and imagination to music. The swimming portion of the semester was also well emphasized as many of the girls learned speed and synchronized swimming.

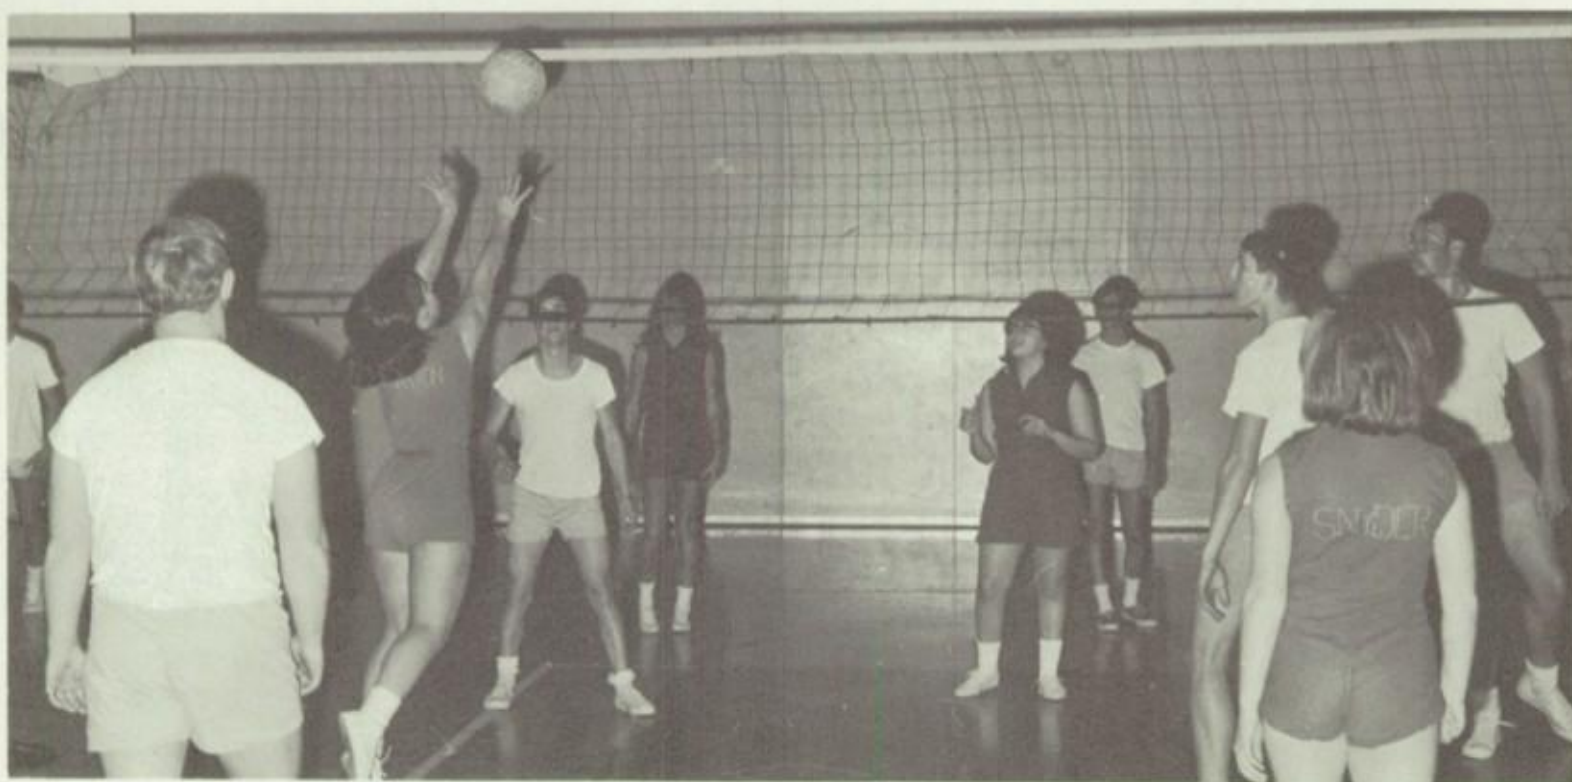

The basic goal of the boys department was to provide the boys with a program of physical fitness. Different activities such as swimming, wrestling and basketball became an important part of this goal.

"Keep going, you'll make it yet."

Boys physical education is more than a jumping class.

Scientific Investigation Deepens With the Expansion of Time

From Archimedes to the modern day Barnard, science has progressed so greatly that people say, science controls the world. The science courses at Everett this year helped prove this statement.

Biology started out with the learning of the basic structure of life; the cells processes and functions.

Atoms and molecules, the building blocks of all matter were studied in Chemistry. Test tubes, bunsen burners, and the Periodic table helped explain a little more about the mystery of Chemistry.

Physics was the last sequence of the science courses offered at Everett. This course covered such areas as light waves, color, motion, and energy.

Larry Arnett and Dave Bennett aid each other in an experiment for chemistry.

New physics teacher, Mr. Eric Pierson lectures his classes in the use of levers and balances.

Math Opens Doors to Future of Understanding

Mrs. Gallick watches on as student explains problem to the class.

This past year Everett's Math Department had three new classes added, and over 100 more students enrolled in the math classes. They included Concepts, Analysis, and Algebra 4.

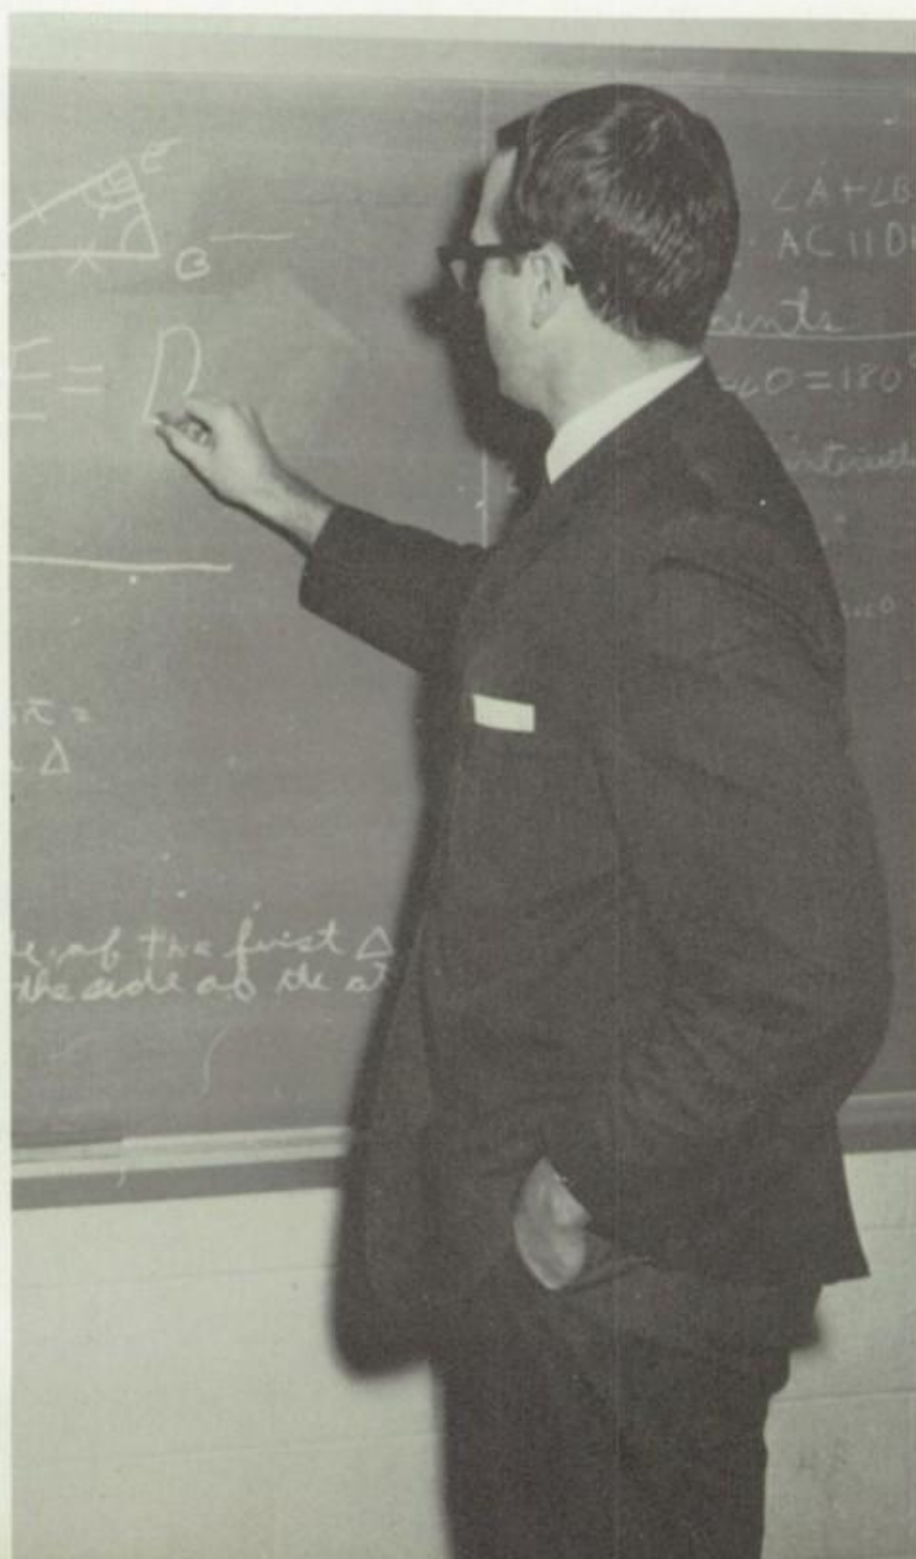

Concepts, a pre-algebra course was to be followed by three semesters of Algebra.

Analysis 1 and 2 was designed for students planning to go on to math in college. It included pre-calculus and analytic geometry.

Algebra 4 was also for students college bound for social science majors. Advanced algebra and probability was the topic of studies.

Mr. Lott, who was the head of the Math Department was also part of a team teaching course of Geometry and Algebra with Mr. Dunham. Algebra 1, 2 and 3 worked mostly with sets, equations, graphing, exponents, and story problems. Geometry 1,2, worked with definitions, proofs, triangles, areas, and constructions.

In an attempt to explain certain problems to students, Mr. Jacobs relies on the board as a number one asset.

Vocational Education Gives Students

Bright Outlook

Mrs. Cottom, Matron of the Special Education Department is always near to lend a helping hand to a student.

A very unique section of courses offered at Everett High School was contained in our special education department of which Mr. Pence was in charge. The students were able to express themselves at their own levels in many of the same courses available to regular students.

These students, in their sophomore year, attended school for a full day. In their junior year they attended a half day of school and work the rest of the day. Then in their senior year they worked full time and came to school one night a week. One year of full time working was required for seniors to graduate.

Everett's Special Education Department was not only a work training program for slower students, but it was a department that meets the physical needs of Everett's orthopedic students as they attended regular classes.

Mrs. Jones guides her students on the proper way to size and cut a pattern.

Cooking teaches the importance of precise measurement.

Future Homemakers Learn Important Skills

Everett's Home Economics Department was divided into four courses this year. The curriculum included family living, foods, home management, and clothing.

Mrs. Judith Woodland taught the Family Living course, which was for seniors only. It was designed to prepare young people to grow into maturity and responsibility and to deal with all the areas of living that the family faces.

Clothing and home management were taught by Mrs. Audrey Reist. Sequence courses in clothing were offered so that students could develop their skills and abilities. Clothing courses covered clothing needs for all members of the family as related to occasion, season and occupation.

Home management offered an insight into what it takes to become a good manager of time, energy, and money. Its aim was to inform students of what was new in equipment, products, and trends in home building.

Foods was also offered. It taught the young homemaker how to plan a well balanced meal as well as how to prepare it.

The operation of a modern sewing machine is part of clothing skills.

Mr. Olmstead guides his students in setting up type on a printing press.

Industrial Arts Provides Skill and Knowledge for Future Craftsmen

In the Industrial Arts Department at Everett this year students learned the basic fundamentals of the trade they planned to enter.

Drafting introduced the student to mechanical and architectural drawing. Mechanical drawing was designed for the student with an interest in day trade while architectural drawing covered the drawing and planning of homes.

The primary purpose of woodshop was to teach boys to think for themselves by having them think of projects to build and then to carve out these assignments.

In general mechanics, the student was exposed to many different areas of metal work and mechanics with the idea in mind of helping him choose a vocation.

The use of the printing press, type setting, silk screening, and offset printing were some areas covered in the printing classes.

Drafting teaches architectural drawing as well as mechanical drawing.

Mr. Miller stresses that exact measurement is essential in designing a house.

Mechanics teaches students the fundamental structure of automobile engines.

Repairing old cars is a frequent task in Auto Mechanics.

Band, Choir, Broaden Everett's Cultural Horizons

Mr. Leroy Clemens assists Janice Isatella in the selection of a musical composition for a current assignment.

Mr. Leroy Clemens instructed students studying band and orchestra instruments as well as theory, cadet band, and ensembles. Instruction was done on a class organization basis, but individual help was provided when the need arose. During Mr. Clemens's ten years at Everett he placed emphasis on different organizations due to concerts, football games, and musical assemblies.

Teaching five classes plus rehearsing for "Carousel" and working with the Glee Club, Chorus, and the Chorale kept Mr. Tom Thompson busy during the past year. Mr. Thompson organized the Vi-Kings and the Vi-Queens. New jumpers for the girls group and blazers for the boys were earned with the help of Mr. Thompson.

Girl's Glee is instructed in voice vibrations by Mr. Thompson.

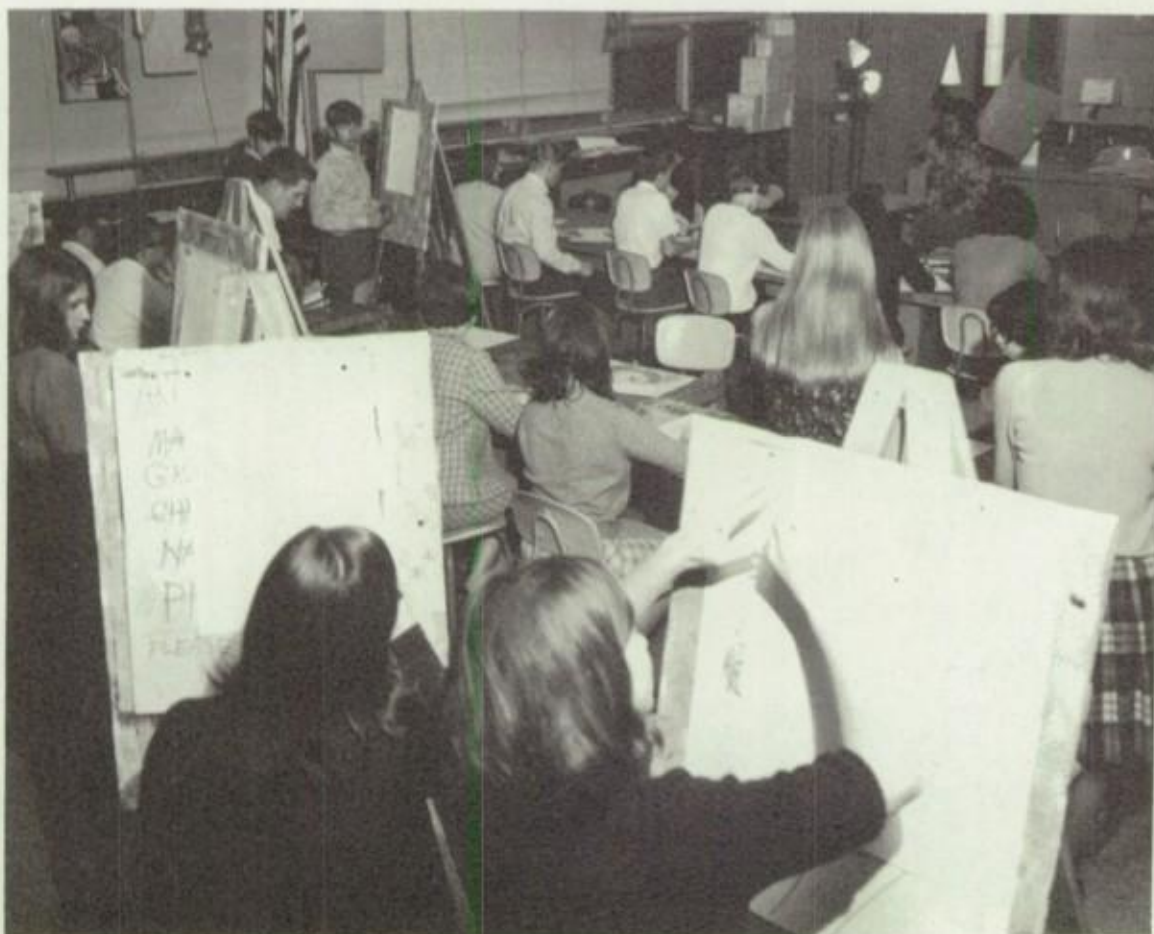

While instructing Jennifer Hidecker on the correct way of sanding, Mr. Neely shows the position of the hand.

Art Develops the True Emotions of Time

"Nature is but art unknown to us" (Popes Epigrams) was what Mr. McNitt tried to get across to his classes. He taught students that art was all around them if they'd take time out to realize it. He stressed the point of this theory by getting students to develop their own skills on certain activities.

Commercial Art prepared the student who was planning to use art as an occupation, and gave him a chance to practice the skill.

Sketching a painting brought out the ability to draw what is seen. General Art gives a student basic art rules to guide their talents by.

Drawing set ups brings out ability of students.

TV Techniques

Increase Skills

Television techniques acted as a training ground for those students who wished to enter the broadcasting field professionally. The class was also for students who simply wished to learn more about the media so they would be a more knowledgeable viewer.

Programs were broadcasted weekly, on Wednesday mornings starting at 7:50 and ending at 8:15. Classes were also put to work during the day as the need arised. The programs were made up of student productions in class, network shows, and other teachers who had a project or a guest speaker that they wished to share.

Radio broadcastings were produced every day from 7:50 to 8:15. School disc jockeys played hit tunes for the students' entertainment.

Learning to operate a movie camera is a valued technique as learned here by Kurt Holsopple.

John Frye, one of Everett's disc jockeys, entertains students with records and tapes.

Members of drama class put their knowledge to work as they portray scenes from history.

Drama Widens Realm of Students

Through the entire year the drama and speech class, taught by Mrs. Jan Harris, prepared a one act play which was presented January 18, 1968 before a selected audience. The play was entitled "Two For the Money." The entire class was involved.

Drama class showed potential and interest in acting. The eighth hour drama group was an experimental one, in which the values of theatre "behind the scenes" were observed. They did a tremendous amount of work on the senior play using the knowledge they had gained in this area.

Speech class was found to give the student self confidence and control in speaking in front of a class. Through the year students prepared and gave speeches using proper techniques.

Props are a vital necessity in order to promote the mood of the play, as shown here by a few Everett students.

Attitude Is Stressed in Drivers Education

Drivers Education students were trained to develop better driving skills for better safety. The main things that were emphasized and the purpose in emphasizing, were the improving the image of young drivers, and trying to help teens recognize their potential as good drivers and citizens so they would live and drive safely, with pleasure.

Each student attended class two days, and drove on the range two days, while spending one day per week on road driving. Some items impressed upon students were the fundamental knowledge of insurance, maintenance, and laws. Also basic driving skills such as steering, turning, and parking were taught. Residential, freeway, and downtown driving were also experienced by the students. Many things were taken into consideration before allowing a student a permit, such as the attitude, judgment, and mental maturity.

Drivers Ed. students, Fonda Highfill and Jerry West learn the parts of the engine from Mr. Shandor.

Students experience actual driving situations on the driving range.

Along with business classes Mr. Spiess classes took care of G.O. collections.

Business Classes Learn With Experience

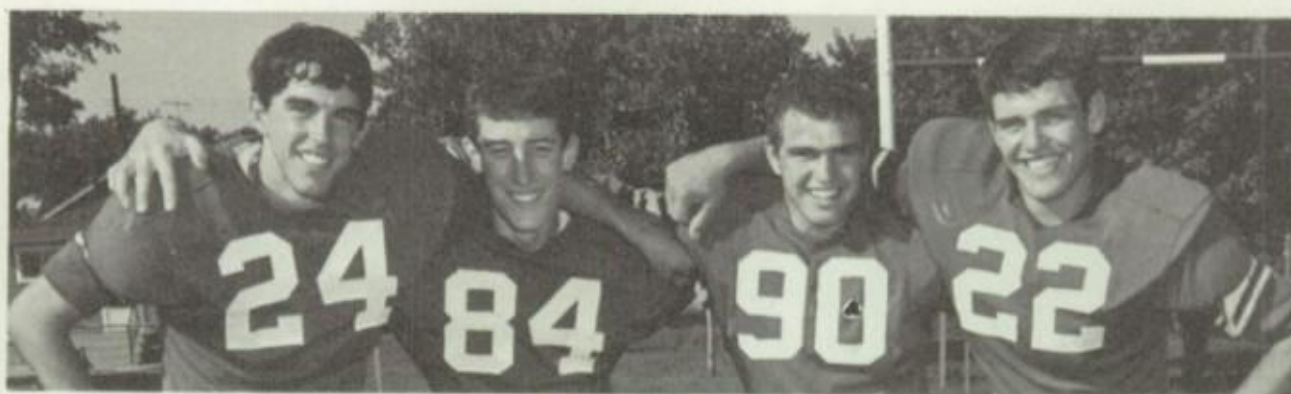

The goal of the business education department was to prepare young secretaries and clerks for future jobs in offices and stores.

Bookkeeping, joined with Accounting, taught the students the how of keeping records for businesses. While learning to increase speed in Typing and Shorthand, they also taught the students how to operate and to take care of office machines, which will be used in the future.

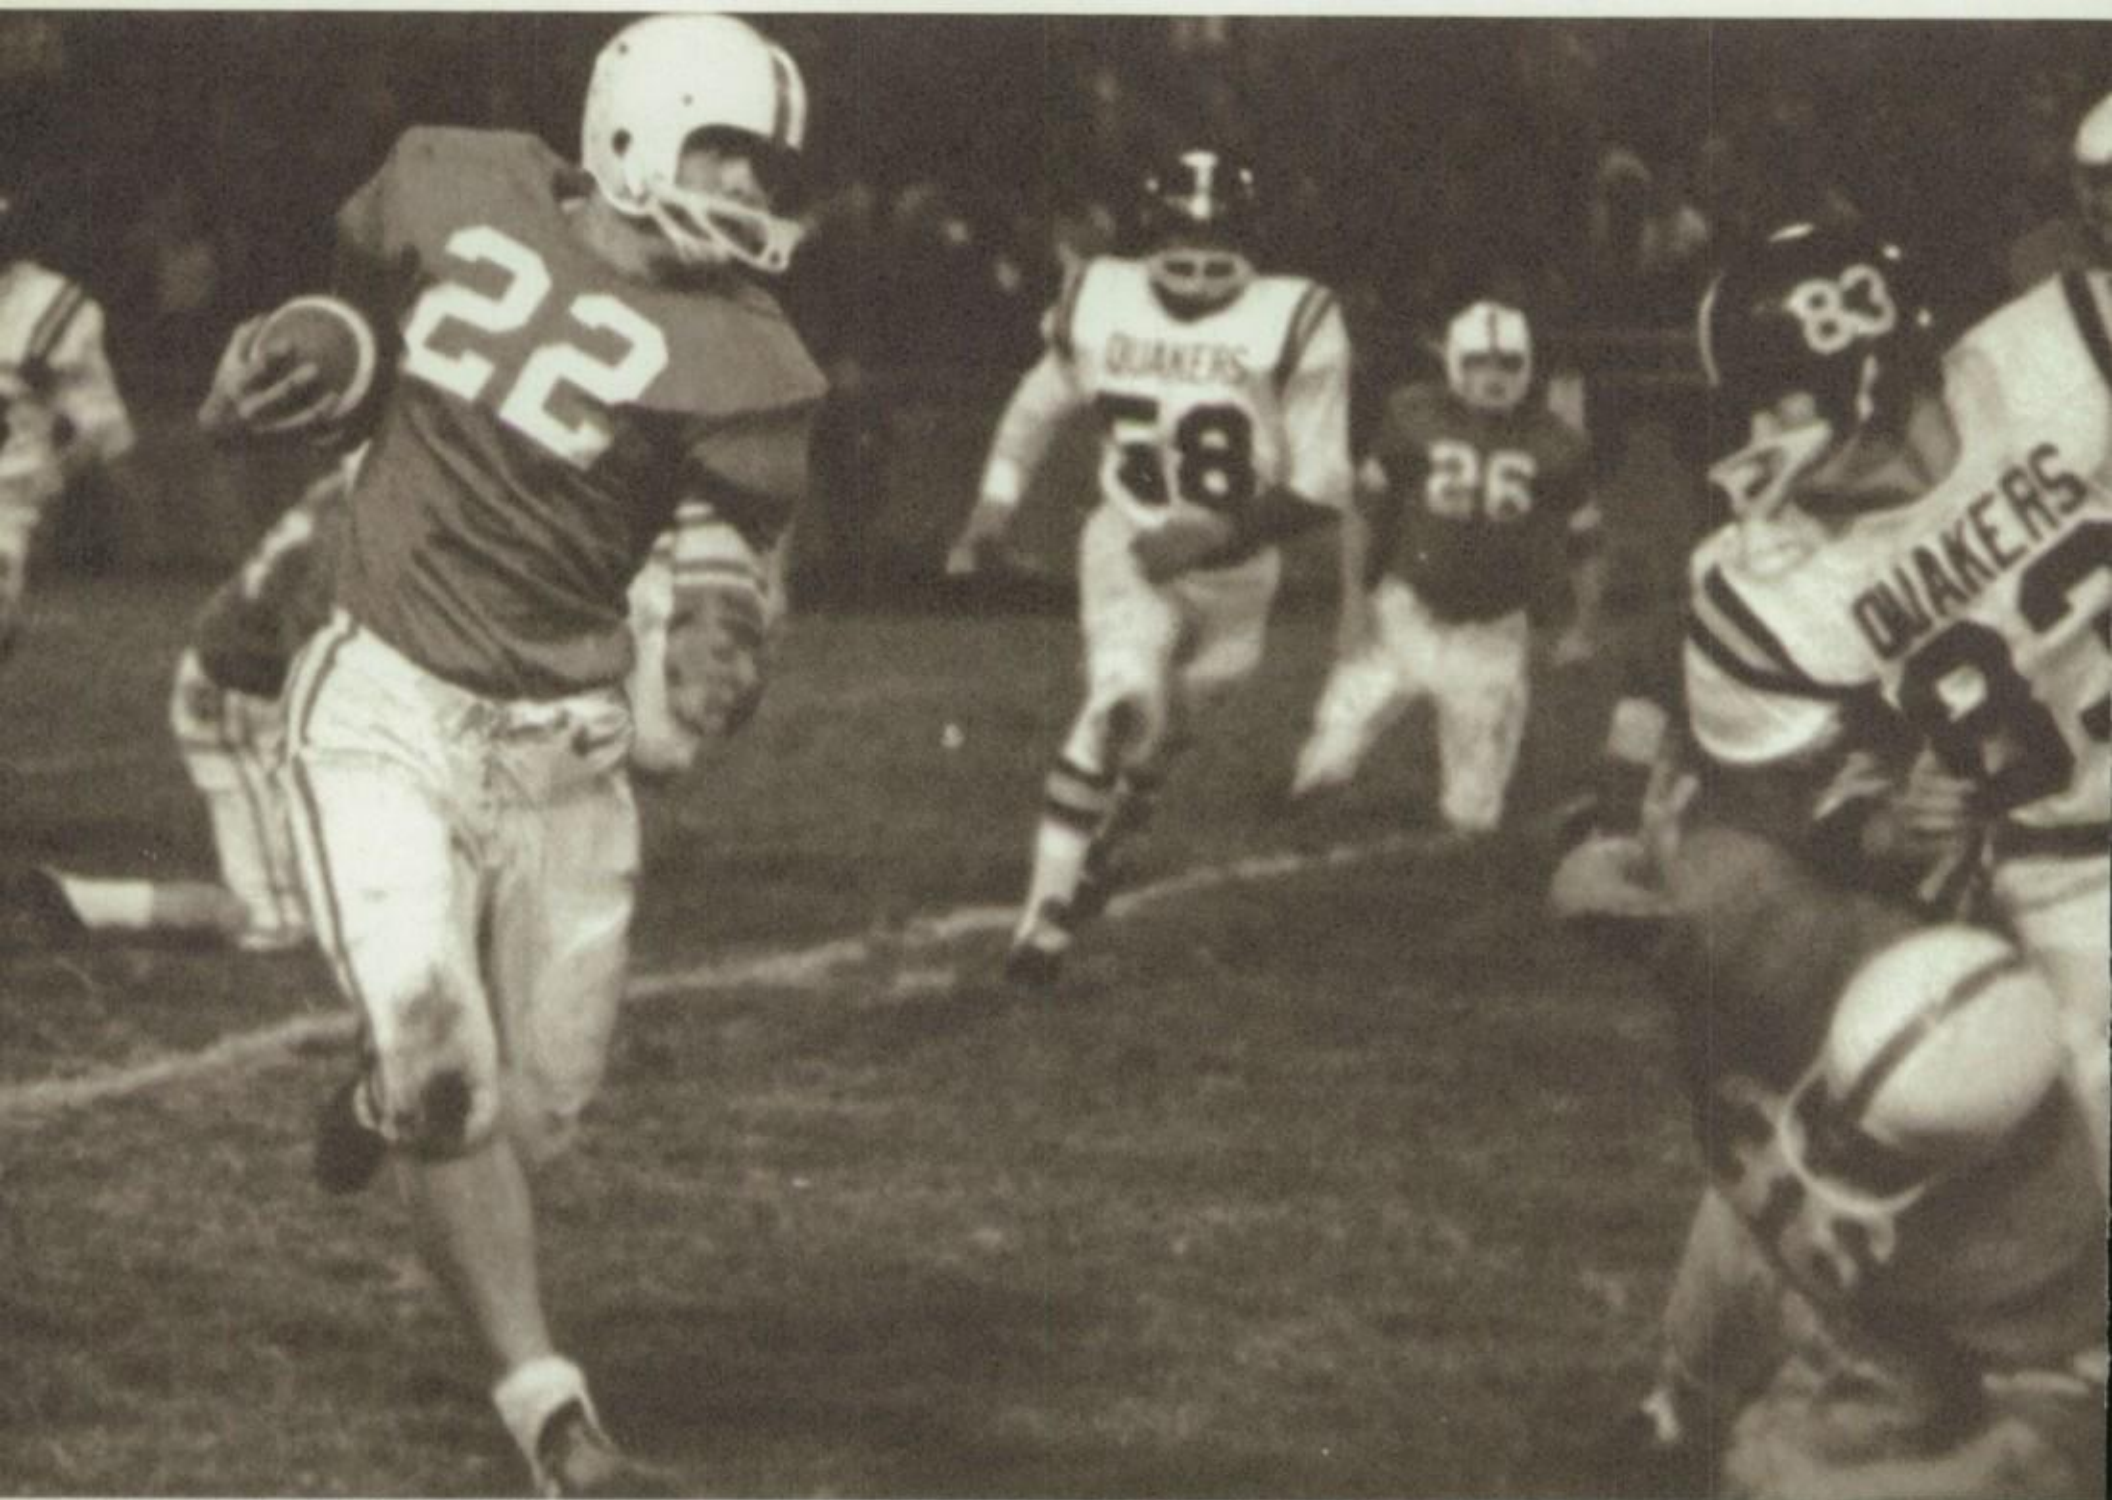

Along with these specific items, Mr. Spiess also taught the procedures of taking care of school expenditures.

Students learn correct usage of modern business machines.

"The best golf team that I can remember," was the memorable comment of Coach Gordan Thomas, as he described the 1967 Everett golf team. Mr. "T", as he was affectionately referred to by the golf team, led Everett in a highly successful season of twelve victories and two losses. The team was undefeated in city competition and placed second in the South Central Conference. Their record in this competition was six wins and two losses.

In his one year as golf coach, substituting for Mr. Cushman, Mr. Thomas proudly watched as team member Mike Viane broke the school record with a par 72 for the course. The team also set a new school record of 309 at Grosbeck Golf Course, and at the same time, broke Jackson Parkside's winning streak of twenty-seven straight matches.

Jim Heriford was our only returning letterman but the team was backed up by a strong reserve squad. They held a record of four victories and one loss. Their support gave this year's team high hopes of success.

The league championship, Lansing area championship, and the Capital City Diamond Classic were awarded to Everett's 1967 Varsity Baseball team, coached by Mr. Myron Smith. Diamond Classic Championships also went to Everett in 1962 and 1966. They had also claimed League Championships in 1958, 1959, 1960, 1962, and the current 1967 title.

Gil La Haine, Chuck Schram, and Dan Smith, three of twelve players to win their Varsity Letters were named to the All-City team. John Blanchard, Vaughn Gamet, Verril Gamet, Bob Leyko, Larry Martin, Chris Whitmore, and Jim Hulteen, seven of the returning lettermen, received the Varsity Reserve Awards.

The batting record for the five top batters ranged from a .422 to .238. Dan Smith with the .422 hit 27 out of 64.

JV's Take Second in Lansing Tournament

Baseman Steve Houser reaches for a grounder and helps Everett defeat an archrival.

Taking second in the Lansing Sophomore Tournament was a reward for the Junior Varsity team as it slowly improved throughout the year.

Pitching was the team's strongest asset. Jim Walker held the best pitching record of the season and was backed by Jim Hulteen.

Hitting tended to be the major weakness for the team but they always seemed to come through in a pinch.

Mr. Bud Lawrence has been the Junior Varsity coach for the past seven years and plans to coach again next year. He expected a "pretty good ball club" next year if Mr. Smith takes only a few boys up to the Varsity team.

Last fall Mr. Lawrence was quoted as saying, "I watched several of these sophomores play ball during the summer and they look fairly good and will be fine prospects for the 1968 team."

The favorite part of coaching for Mr. Lawrence was getting to know the boys in a situation other than in the classroom.

Rebuilding Necessary for Determined

Like the sky that brightens after a storm so went Everett High School's Tennis season. After 16 losses and zero wins the team took second place in the regionals held at Battle Creek Central on May 26, 27, 1967.

The coach, Mr. John Cook, who also coaches football and teaches Driver's Education and Boys' Physical Education, credited Mark Rittenger, a junior with his aggressiveness as being the best player.

Besides playing first singles in tennis, Mark also plays football and basketball. He claimed the team's many defeats were due to the lack of experience. He also thinks this next year will be a better one because the inexperienced sophomores have become more experienced juniors.

A lot of the teams that beat Everett's team have had some of their top players graduate, including the team that took first place in the regionals, East Lansing.

These good omens and the hope of interest among the sophomores, we leave to our 1968 tennis team.

Track Team Breaks 3 School Records

Everett's 1967 track team broke three school records this last season. Marv Lynch broke the 880-yard dash, Ken Baker the two mile run, and Jon Smith broke the pole vaulting record. Jon was not able to place in the State track meet because of a broken pole but is considered one of the most valuable players, along with Stanley McMillan one of five sophomores to win their letters.

The team won one, lost three, and tied one of of their five Duo Meets. Together with the seven juniors and five sophomores who won their letters, there were eight juniors who received the Varsity Reserve Certificate and sixteen sophomores who received their numerals.

In the opinion of senior John Thomas, the most promising members of the 1968 track team were: Bob Higgins, Stan McMillan, Carl Strickland, Kurt Branson, Greg Cramer, and Harold Leek.

The 1968 co-captains were John Wheeler and Marvin Lynch.

Lark Foster had high hopes while putting the shot . . . she also placed in softball throw contest against Eastern and Sexton.

Everett's Girls Track team placed second in the city championship against Eastern and Sexton. Of thirty-one girls interested, fifteen competed and nine placed. Each girl was allowed to compete in two running events and two field events.

Of the running events, Paula Fairchild placed fifth in the 50-yd. dash. Wendy Stanley placed third in the 100-yd. Eva Orr came in second in the 180-yd. dash with Lark Foster placing fifth. Eva and Lark took third place in the 440-yd. relay.

Of the field events Charlotte Williams placed third in the softball throw with Lark Foster placing fifth. The bright spot of the meet was the standing broad jump's city record being broken. This was accomplished as Michele Swabash of Everett jumped 8' 2".

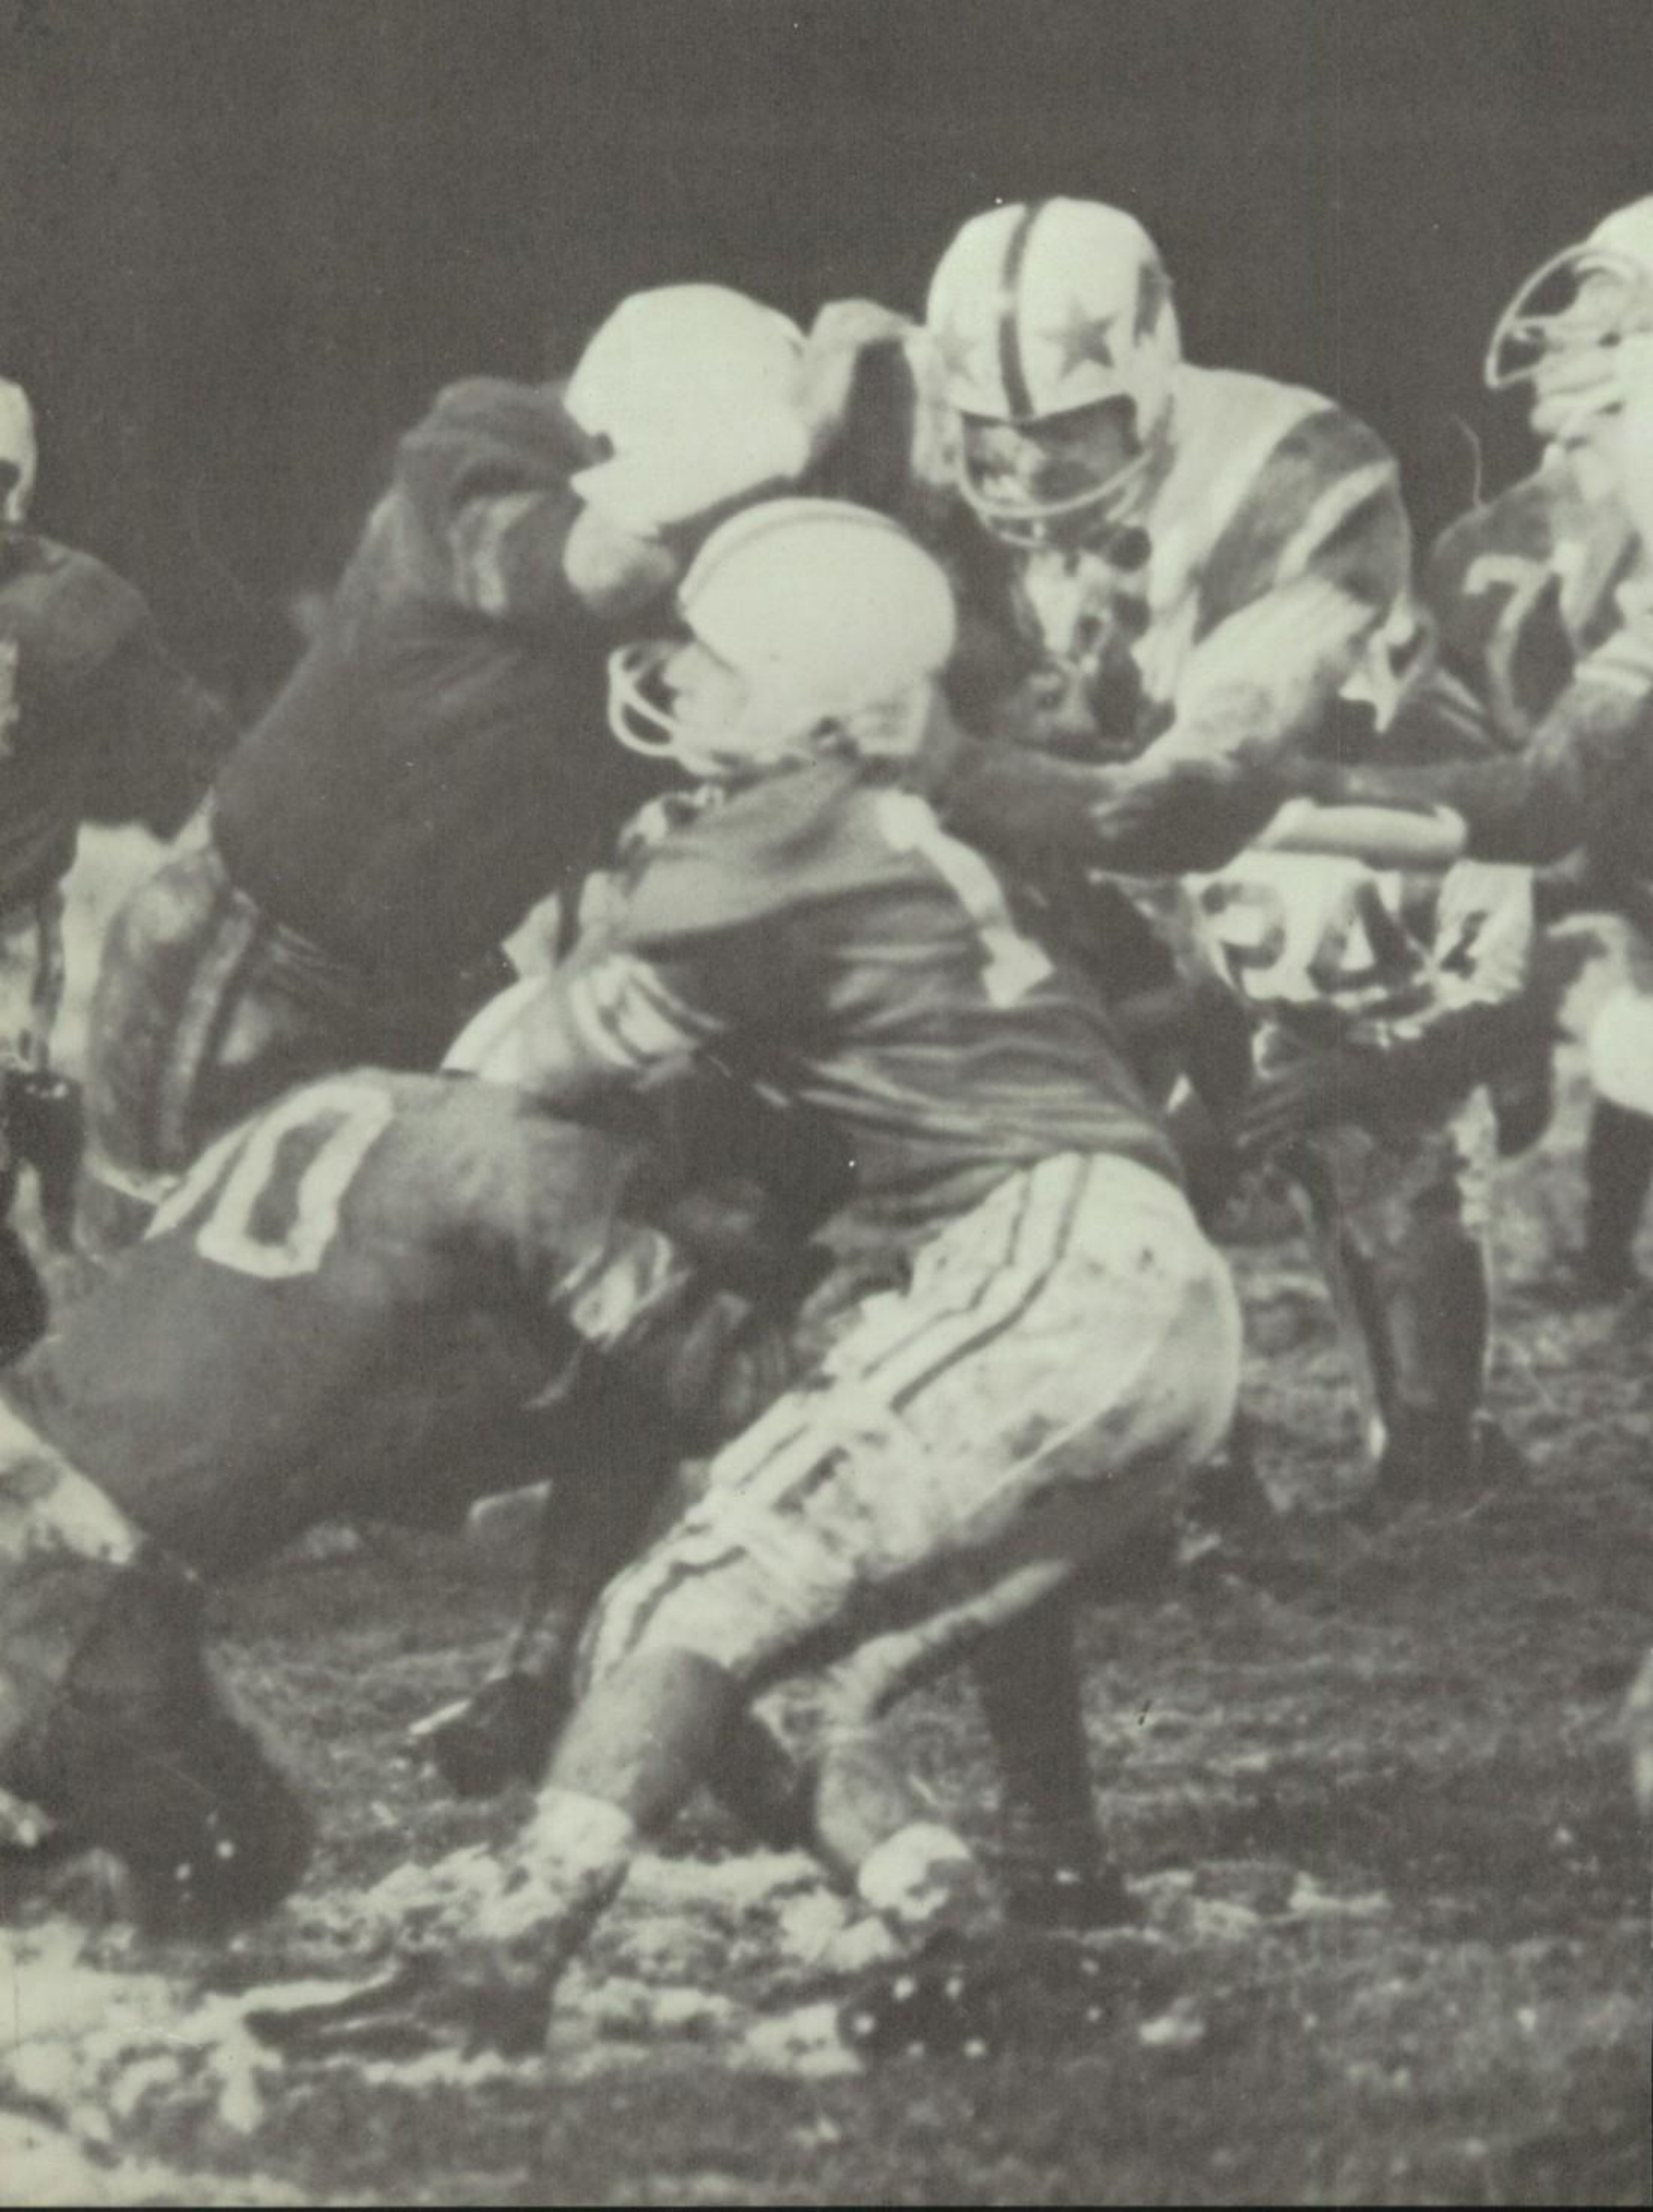

Other girls competing on the team were Jackie Tucker, running broad jump; Sue Shaver, high jump (scissors style); Lark Foster, high jump (western roll); and Vickie Edwards, standing broad jump.

Performing the high jump in the scissors style is Lark Foster, who placed second in the city.

Neither snow nor freezing rain can stop the mighty Vikings.

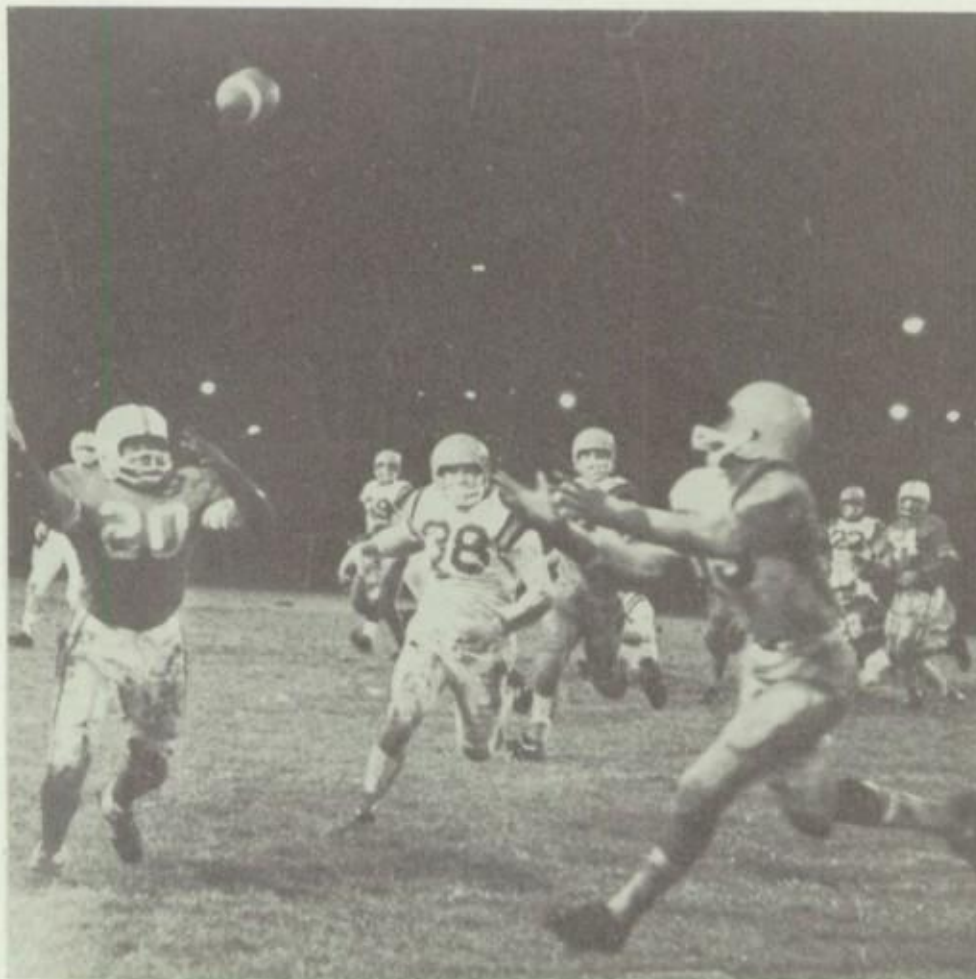

The 1967 Vikings placed third in the city of Lansing after losing their final game to East Lansing on November 10, 1967. The team was cheered right to the end by students and parents who stood vigil in the cold and wet rain and watched as their team was defeated in a 12-7 fight to the finish. By losing to East Lansing the team also lost the South Central Championship and their city title not to mention the state ratings.

Carl Strickland, one of the twenty juniors on the team scored the largest amount of points of anyone. He scored 13 touchdowns, the equivalent of 78 points.

Together with the 20 juniors there were also 23 seniors and one sophomore, Gary Wickman.

At the beginning of the season everyone thought the homecoming game with Jackson Parkside would be the most difficult. They were proved wrong when the team tallied up a 46-0 victory at the "mud bowl".

When asked about improvement, Junior Carl Strickland quoted Coach "Uncle Ken" Eckman as having said, "There's always room for improvement. When you stop improving, you stop winning!"

Everett players made miraculous catches to take the ball over that line.

Chuck Schram Places on All-State Team

The United Press International thrilled Everett students with their announcement of the All-State football team. Everett senior Chuck Schram was chosen as the quarterback on December 2, 1967.

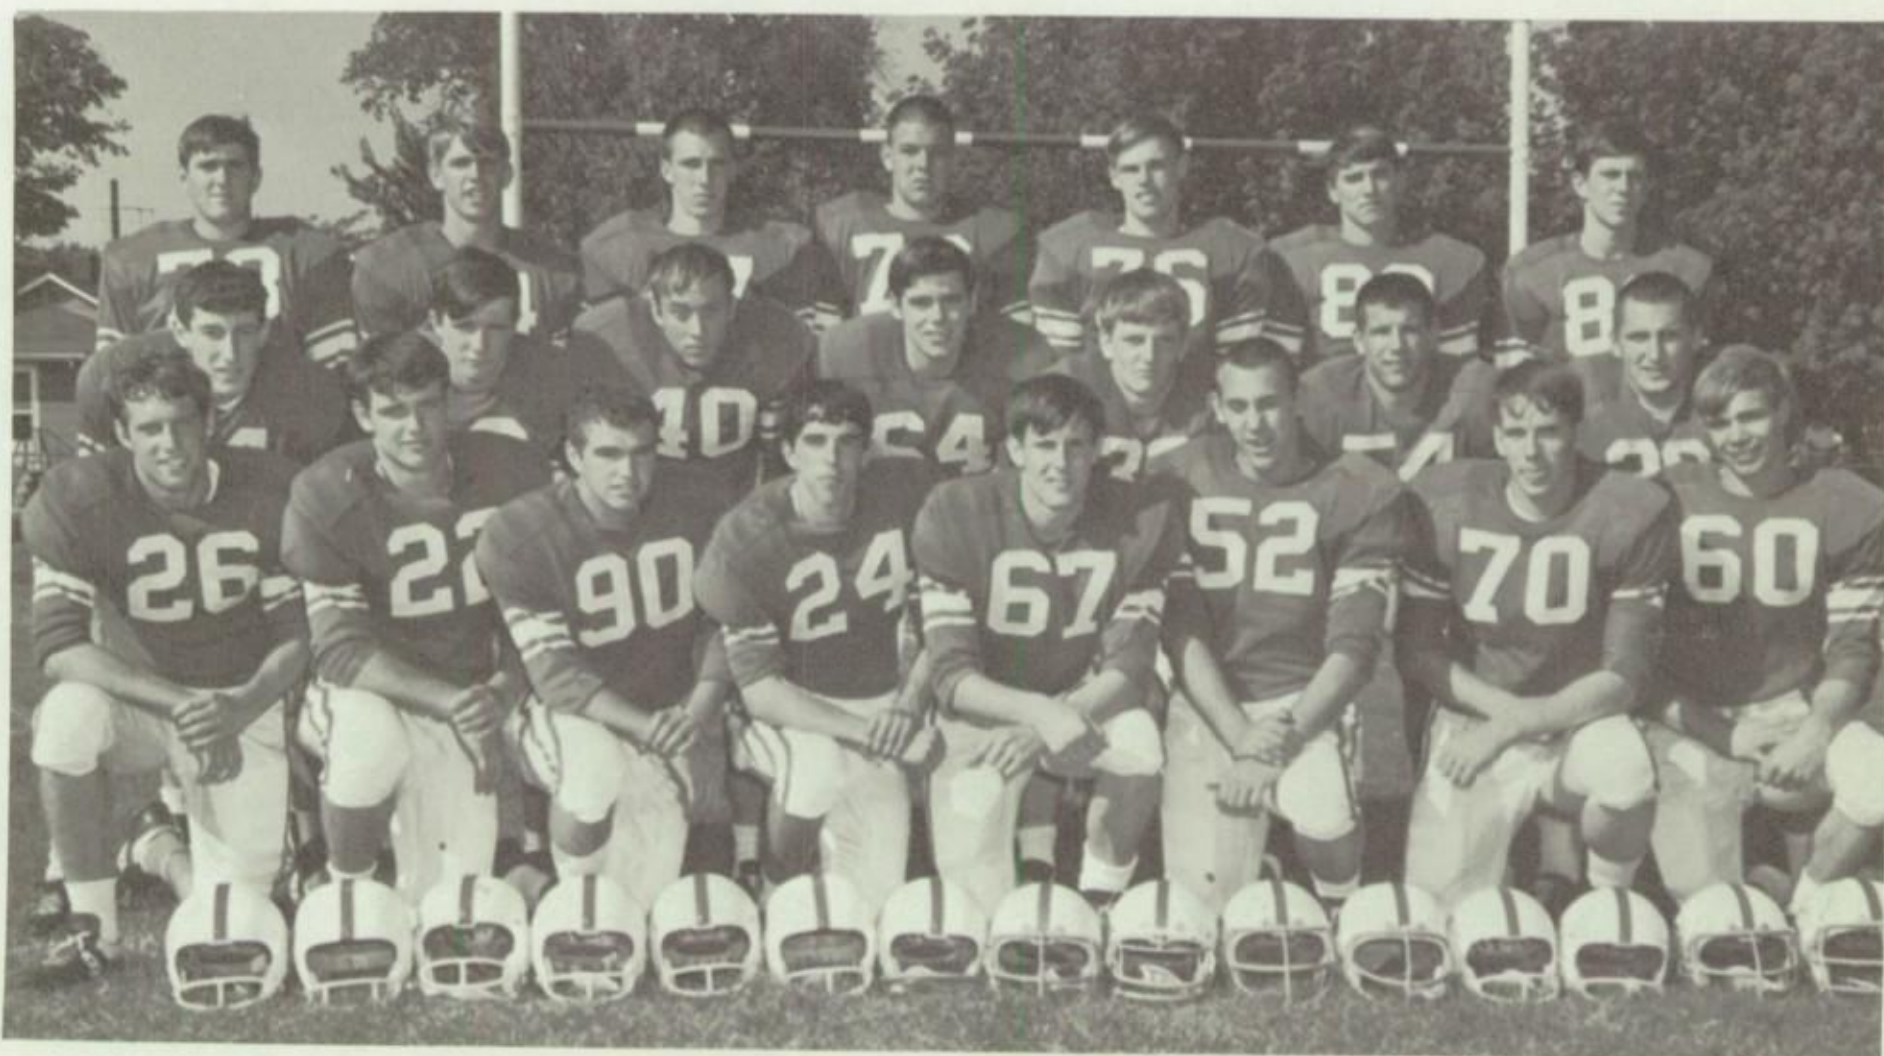

Junior Carl Strickland and quarterback Schram were selected to participate on the All South Central Conference team.

Representing the All-City team from Everett were: Tom Majdeski, tackle; Dave Kantlehner, guard; Bruce Robbins, guard; Carl Strickland, half-back; and Jon Smith, end. Of six schools represented, and twenty-two positions to be filled, Everett was proud to have five of their men chosen.

At the Football Banquet, November 16, 1967, Mr. Ken Eckman announced the special awards. Co-captain positions went to Bruce Robbins and Chuck Schram. The Most Valuable Player award went to Carl Strickland. Dave Kantlehner and Jim Dohm received the Most Improved award. Tom Majdeski was named most humorous player of the 1967 football squad.

Senior quarterback Chuck Schram was named to the All-State and South Central Conference League teams.

After a season record of three wins and four losses, all players were rewarded by receiving their Sophomore numerals. Honorary Awards were given to Bill Beck and Bruce Hulteen for their services as co-captains, Greg Kelly for being the most valuable player on the team, to Bruce Hulteen for being the most improved player, and to Bob Bibbs for being the most humorous player.

As if the disappointment of losing to Adrian wasn't enough for the team, the bus broke down on the return trip and the boys had to wait for a bus to come and pick them up ten miles south of Jackson. They did not return home until 1:30 a.m. The team was coached by John Cook, who is a boy's physical education teacher and a parking lot supervisor. Assistant coach, Tony Angel is also a boy's physical education teacher.

Pay a Tribute to Coaches

The Everett Viking football season of 1967 was a truly great season. Yet, even the most expert of teams cannot exist without a leader — the coach.

Although Varsity coach, Ken Eckman was rather humble in his self-acknowledgment, he earned a big round of applause. Having worked "his" boys hard and prepared them well, "Uncle Ken" was able to present the team with pride.

Also assisting in bringing our Varsity Vikings to a final 7-2 season was the coaching team of Mr. William Webb, Mr. Paul Powers, and Mr. Ted Shandor.

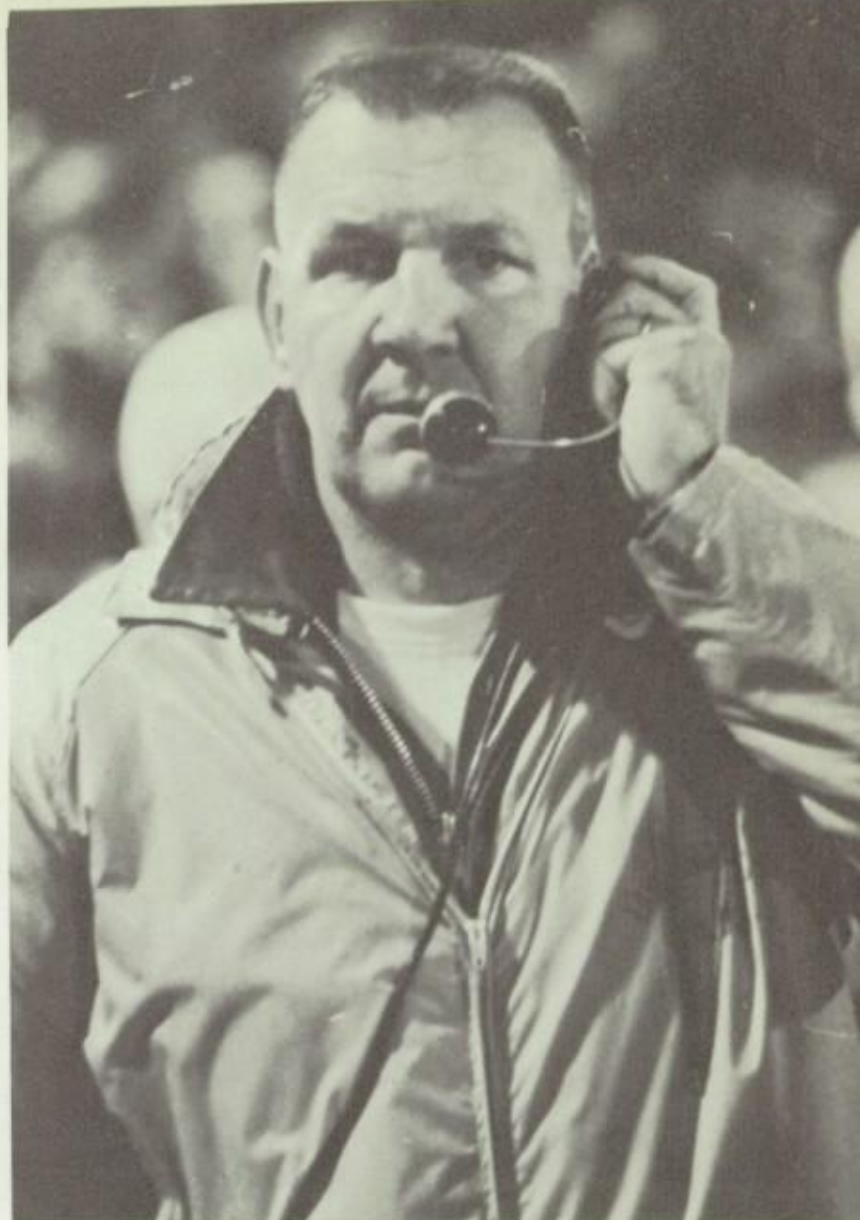

A group that often got little notice at all was the Junior Varsity Football team. The training and coaching of our future football heroes was handled by Mr. John Cook with the co-operation of Mr. Tony Angel.

Much dedication and often heart breaking failures go into the job of coaching. But now is the time and here is the space to say "Thanks" for a job well done.

Mr. Ted Shandor and Coach Eckman cheered the boys on during a cold night's game.

Mr. John Cook and Mr. Angel coached the junior varsity team.

Varsity football coach, Mr. Ken Eckman had a look of apprehension at the Parkside game.

All three of the 1967 Everett girls' volleyball teams placed first and took the City Championship title. The three teams also received trophies. It was the first time in seven years that Everett's seniors received this honor and it was unique that all three teams placed at the same time. The sophomores went undefeated until they met with Eastern. Juniors and Seniors had been defeated earlier but still gave the final games everything they had.

Under the direction of Miss Barbara Jaquays the teams had two practice meets, the first with Sexton, and last with Eastern's teams. Then, on December 5, 1967 the city meet was held at Everett High School, determining the championship.

Coaches Instill the Necessary Spirit To Key Players

A major complaint heard around the halls of Everett High School was the lack of spirit. The coaches of the teams cannot be blamed for not instilling spirit as they, as usual, again this year tried their best to bring pep to Everett.

Mrs. Natalie Olson's four squads of twenty-four cheerleaders helped a great deal in adding spirit not only at basketball games but also at wrestling matches. The girls were able to start a cheer and control the response of the crowds.

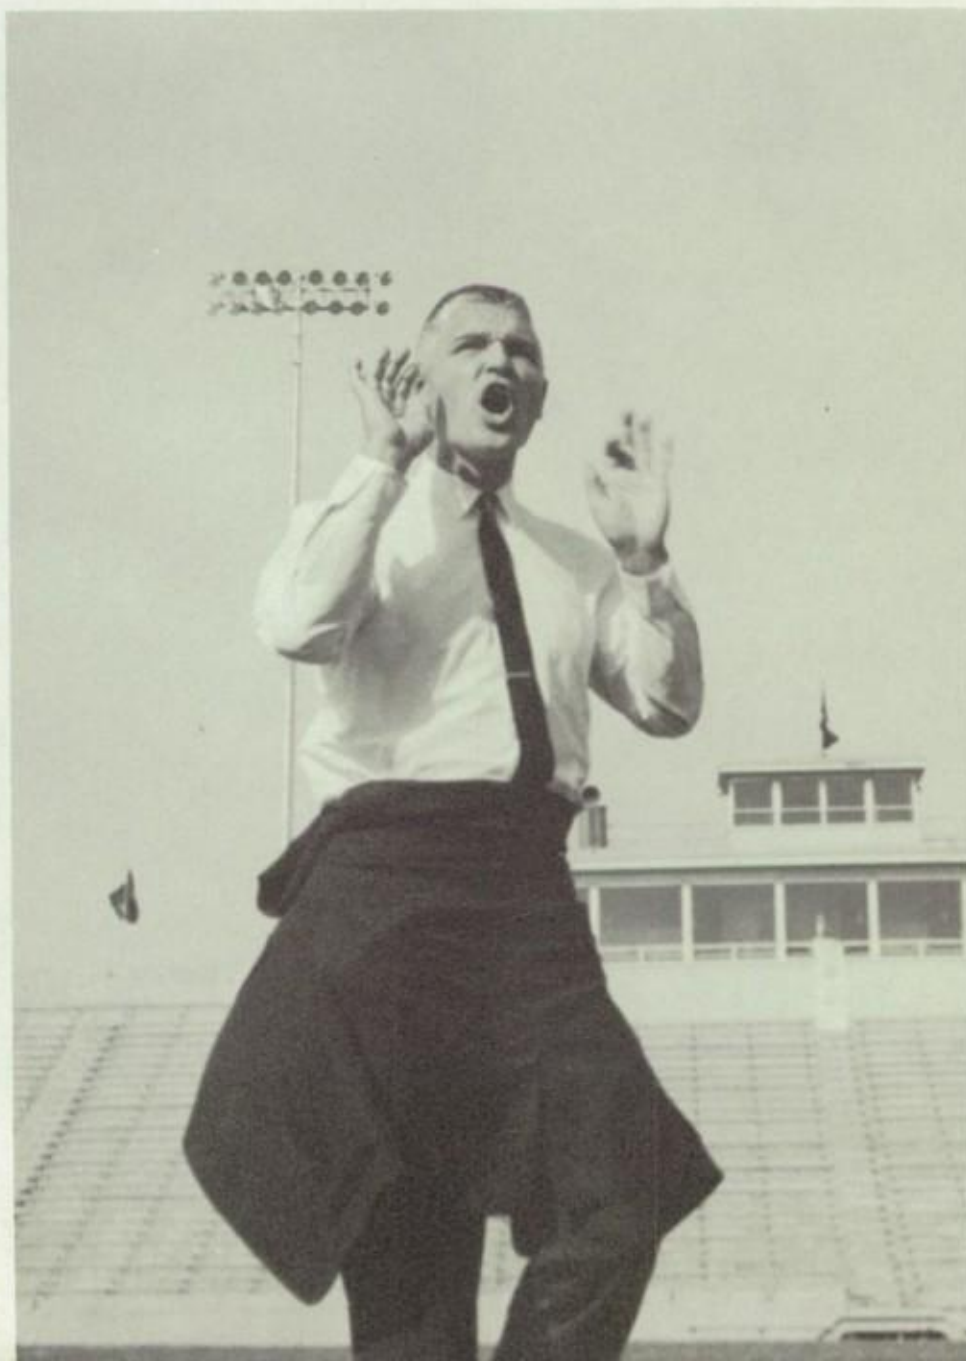

Spirit was truly high during the March basketball tournaments when Everett confronted Waverly. From the very beginning the stands were filled with joyous screams which no doubt helped Everett's basketball players put Waverly down 72-68. A switch in tradition came about when the spectators began the cheers and the cheerleaders followed.

Coach of swimming, Mr. Ron Pohlonski sings for an audience of one — himself — as Chris Whitmore, diver, accompanies "Allie".

Everett Cross Country Team Takes Third in All City Meet

Coach Ron Barr said that this year's Cross Country team had a much improved season from that of last year.

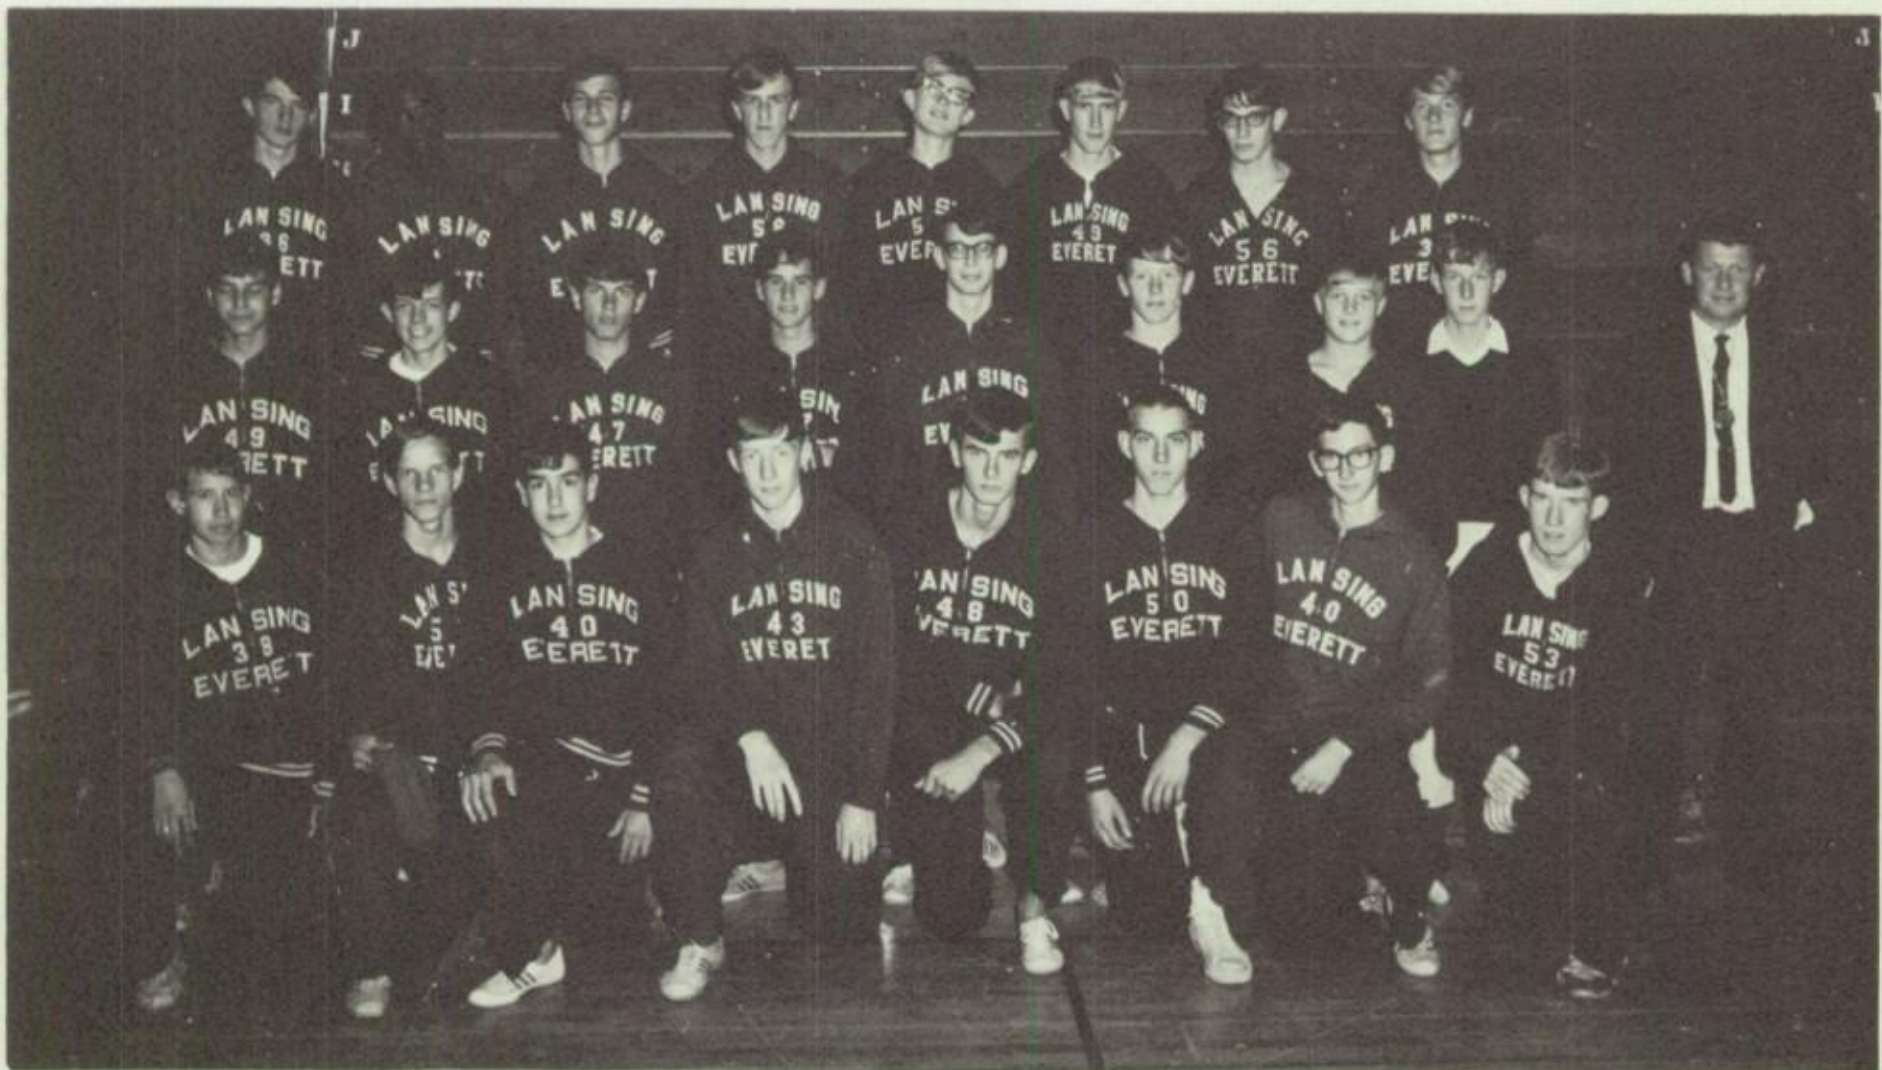

The Vikings would have been much stronger but Marvin Lynch was injured with a cracked tibia and was out all season. This year the team was led by George Churchill as the most valuable runner.

The Everett team came in third place in the South Central Conference of six schools. They placed fifth in the Albion Invitational and third in the All City Meet. The Vikings tied for sixth in the Vicksburg Regionals. During the regular Duo-Meets the Everett Cross Country team won three, lost three, and tied one.

Varsity letter winners were George Churchill, Boyd Bronson, Ken Baker, Al Hnatiw, Wayne Robinson, Jerry Riggs, and Ken Whenner.

The Everett Wrestling team was in an unfamiliar role at the beginning of the 1967-68 season. A perennial powerhouse in the Class A state ranks lost five top wrestlers from last year's team which finished fourth in the state.

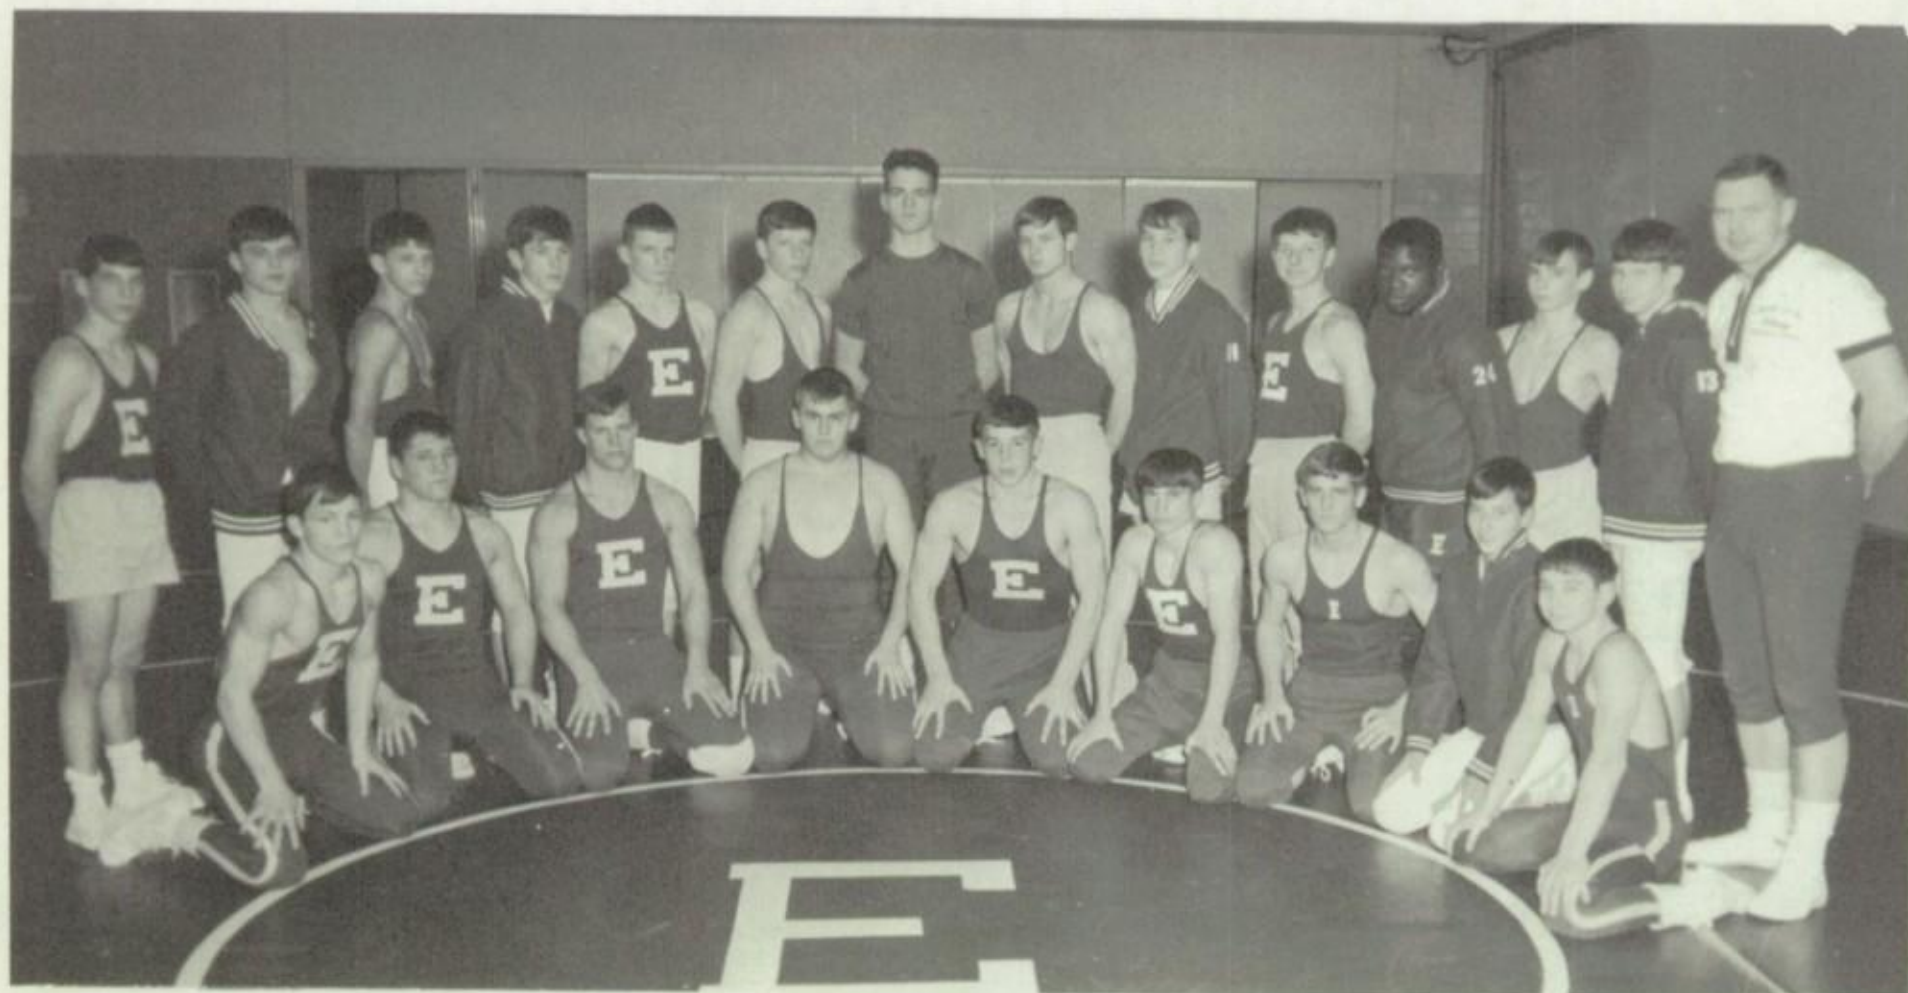

Coach John Rollins stated, "Even though we do have seven men returning we do not have any depth in our upper weight classes."

At the South Central Conference match Everett took first place but was dropped to a second behind Battle Creek because of a lack of conference points. Gar Pettit, Jim Blair, and Jeff Campbell took firsts to help Everett add points.

Everett advanced five grapplers, Jim Ulrey, Gar Pettit, Jim Bair, Jim Sleight, and Jeff Campbell into the regional championships. Gar Pettit was the only champ from Everett. Jim Ulrey's second place helped Everett to finish in third place.

At the State finals Jim Ulrey took a third place in the 103-pound bracket as Eastern took its seventh state title.

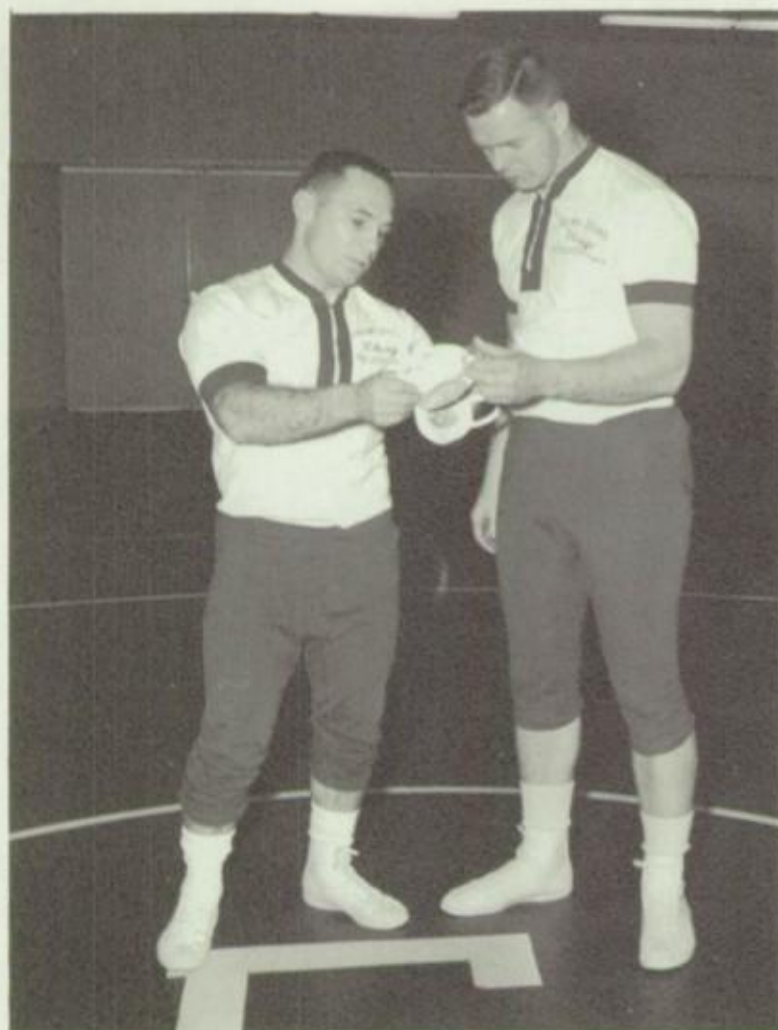

Rollins indicated that he had a good, young bunch of wrestlers, including five junior high champions, to start next season so Everett was not "down" as some people might have figured.

A swimming orientation program and initiation of a first year coach, Ron Pohlonski, helped to stir up interest in swimming. Returning for the 1967-68 season were Tom Toman, Gary Pung, Steve Houser, Dave Sims, and Gary Trudeau.

Gary Trudeau was the only double winner during the season with firsts in the 200- and 400-yard freestyle races at the last meet of the season against Eastern.

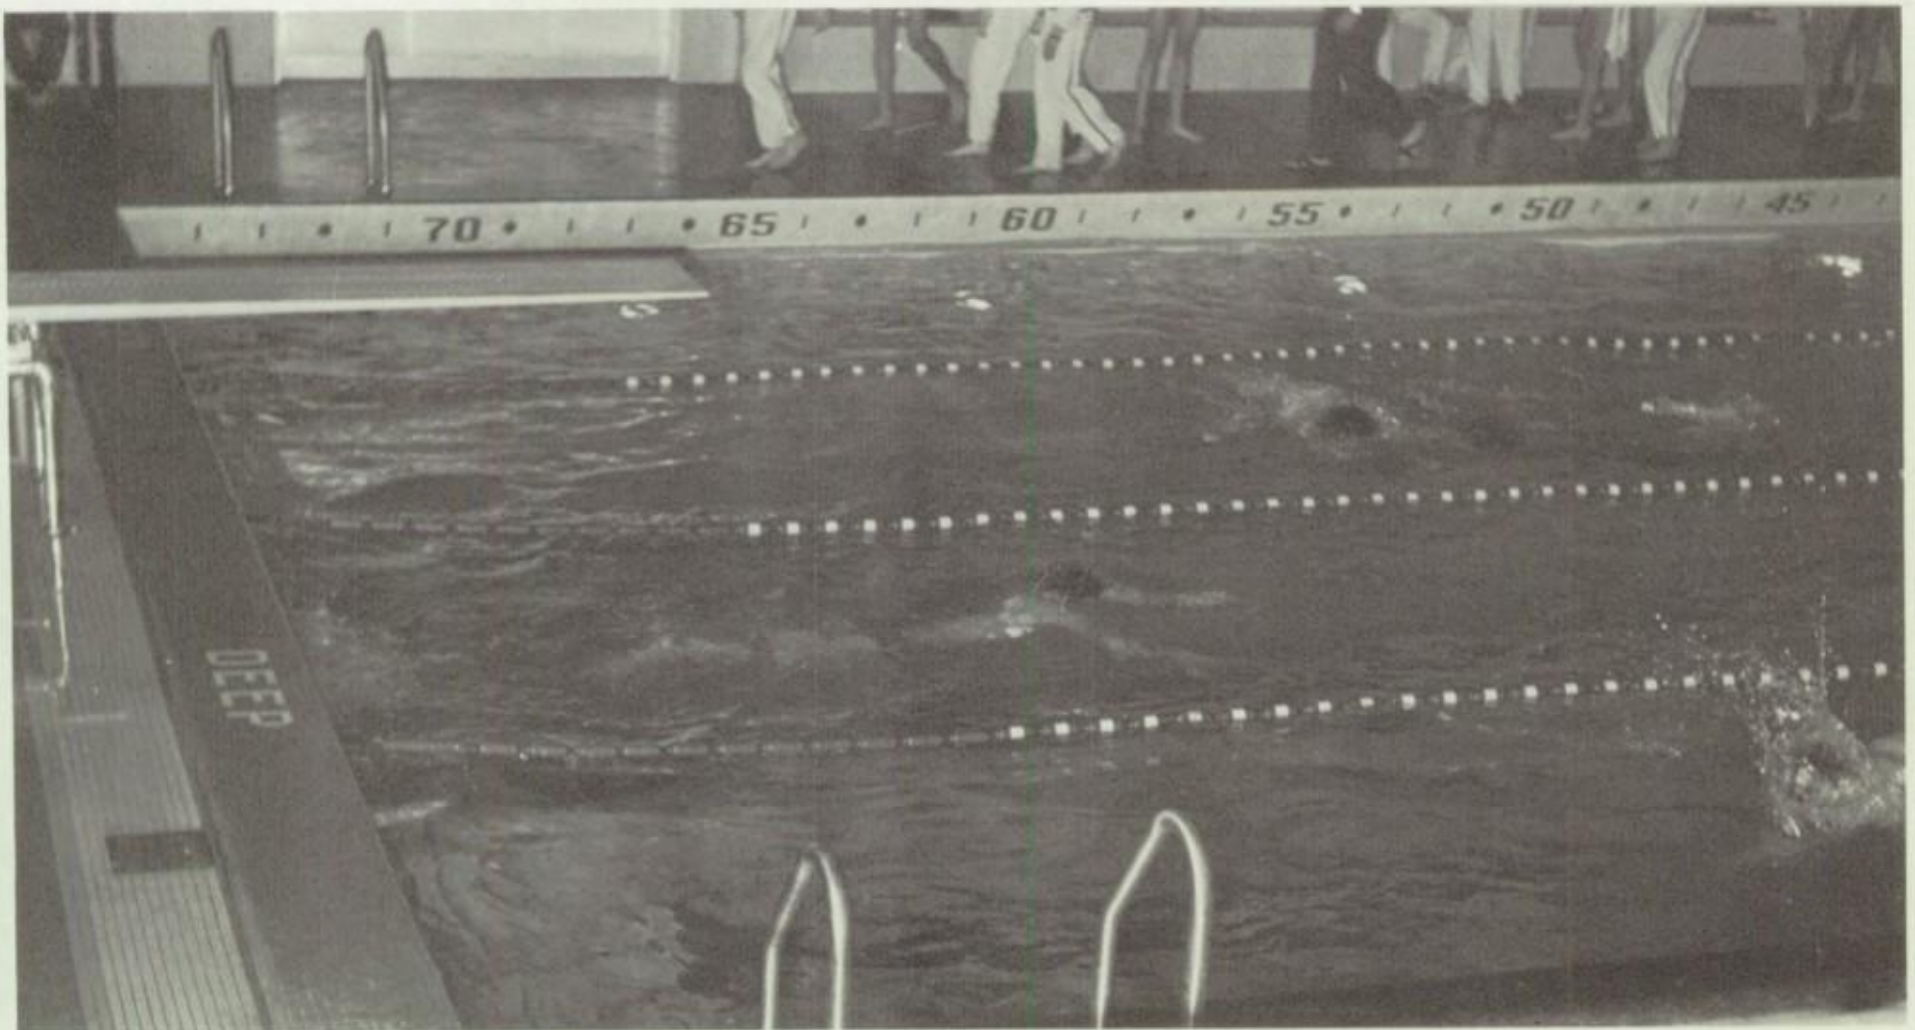

Senior Tom Toman set the school record and tied the city record time at 1:06.8 at the All City Meet. Toman placed first in the city and first in the conference. He also qualified for the state finals along with senior diver Chris Whitmore.

Everett improved over the previous year with an overall record of three wins and nine losses. Of the conference meets, Everett had one win and five losses.

Whitmore Places 4th In Conference Meet

Senior Chris Whitmore was a varsity diver for three years, lettering as a sophomore. As a sophomore he combined with Michigan State diver Jim Henderson to set the Greater Lansing Diving relay record at 224.7 points. This past year Chris took three first places, four seconds, and four thirds in dual meets. By placing fourth in the conference Chris qualified for the state meet which was held at the University of Michigan, March 15, 16, 1968.

Mark Bullion and Bob Raven shouted encouragement to Gary Trudeau as he competed in the 400-yard freestyle.

Disheartened looks of discouragement were on the faces of the Senior Basketball players as they dejectedly left the gymnasium floor after losing the traditional Senior-Faculty Basketball game Monday, February 5, 1968 in Everett's gym.

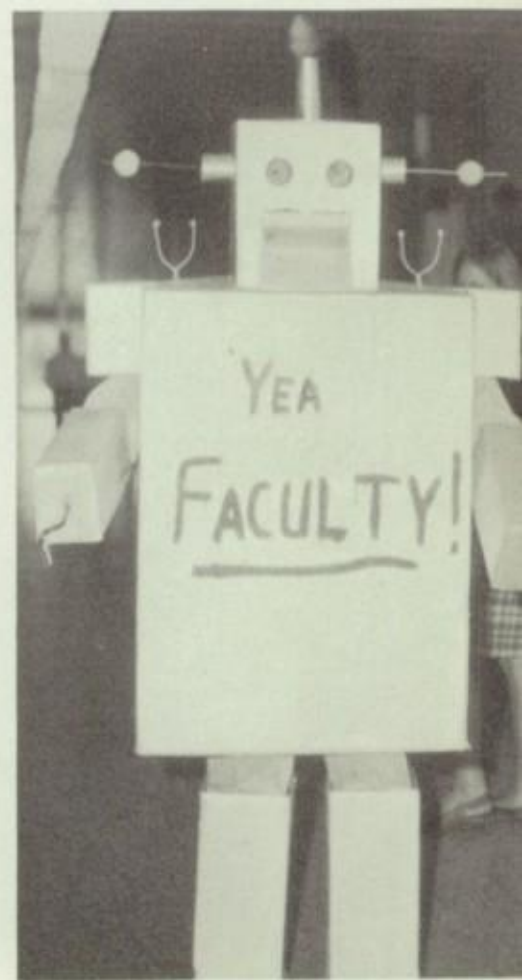

The gym held 650 spectators as the faculty battled closely with a half-time score of 20-20, and a final score of 50-39.

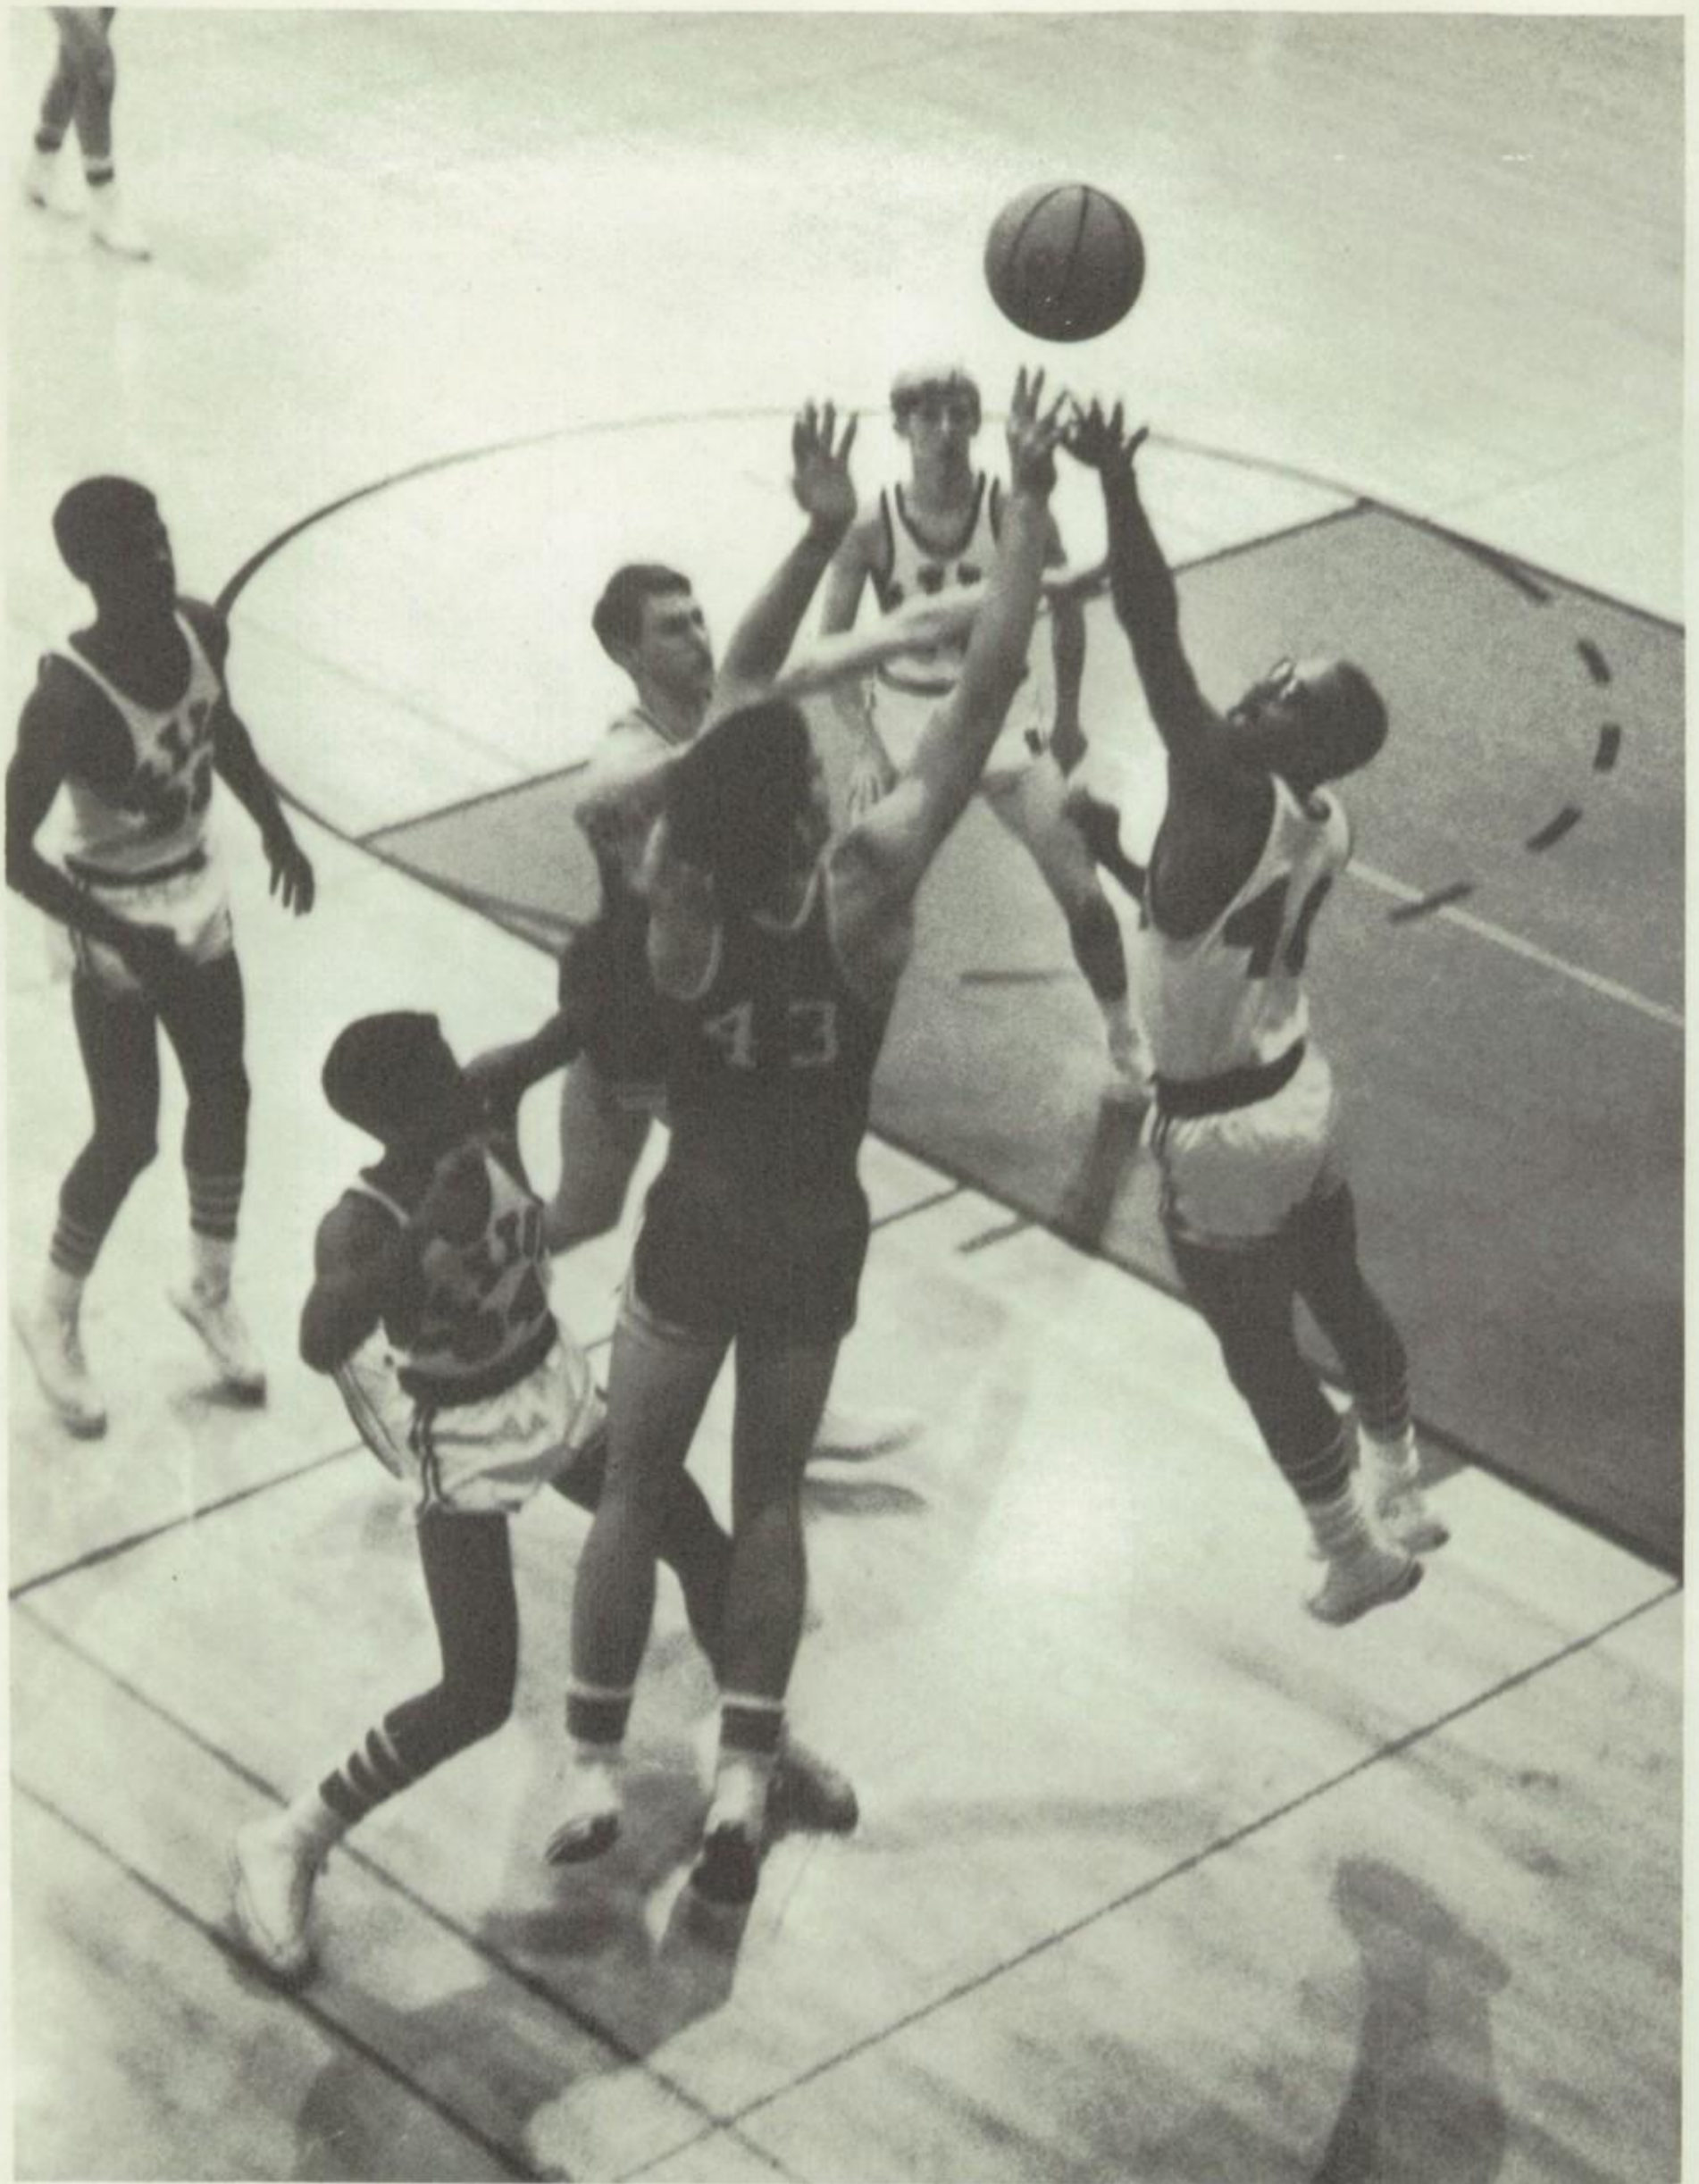

High point members on the faculty team were Mr. Tom Thompson and Mr. Bill Webb. Other players were Pat Holland, Gordon Thomas, Bud Lawrence, Howard Neely, Roger Ridley, Troy Pence, Bob Wilson, Harris Webster, Tony Angel, Victor DeRose, John Rollins, Dave Miller, and Ted Shandor. Their coach was Mr. Jerry Cushman.

The Senior "Beavers" team was led by Tom Majdeski, John Brown, Bob Sealock, Doug McGraw, Rick Lilly, John Thomas, and Mark Winters.

Marty Underhill, Jim Hulteen, Kurt Branson, and John Hamilton wait and watch with Coach Bauer as Eastern gave the Vikings a scare during the tournament season.

Jim Heriford and Mark Rittenger go in for the rebound from John Wheeler, 22's, toss during the Jackson Parkside game to tie up the score.

At the beginning of the 1967-68 basketball season Coach Ted Bauer stated, "We're very short on experience, but I have a lot of confidence in these kids. We're going into this season with the idea of winning as many as possible."

John Wheeler, 6' 3" senior forward, was the only letterman in the Viking cast and he was slowed in practice by his football injury.

John Hamilton, 6'2" senior, and Jim Heriford, 5'10" senior ticketed for the guard spots. Hamilton's starting role was only temporary as his family moved to Ohio at the semester break. Juniors Mark Rittenger, 6'4", and 6'2" Dave Koshork started as center and forward, respectively.

Sophomores Brad Miller, Gary Wickman, and Jeff Burger gave the backing needed by the Vikings. Jeff Burger swished a 10-foot jump shot from the side with a mere one second to play, propelling Everett to a come-from-behind 65-64 nod over upset-minded Adrian. That night Rittenger and Koshork enjoyed the most productive night of their careers with 25 and 21 points.

The first tournament game with Eastern proved to be Jim Heriford's best game as he came through with 27 points over his previous record of 13. Then two nights later against Waverly, Heriford hit 100% of his fifteen free throws.

A high spirited crowd gathered for the last game of the season against East Lansing in the District Tournaments. The Vikings put up a big fight but were overpowered by the Trojan's rebounding strength, crushing defense, and spectacular offensive work to lose 77-52.

The Everett Vikings finished the season with eight wins and twelve losses. They had everything to win and nothing to lose this season and really surprised everyone with their playing.

Memories of the Past, a Glimpse of the Future:

a Senior's World

How different it seemed . . . the day we entered school and the night of graduation. Together we grew, through endless adventures . . . from roller skates to class rings . . . from childhood into the world of adults. Cherished are the memories we hold within our grasps forever . . . of high school days we shared . . . the wonderment of knowledge which only time and patience reveal . . . the excitement of growing up . . . up into a world which some day will be shaped by our very existence. As we approach a threshold of life, we stop to ponder . . . what lies ahead? College, service, marriage . . . for some the paths are clear, for others, it is fogged with doubt and uncertainty. But there is no room for wishing of the past, for we have a job to do . . . a better place for our children to inherit . . . a battle to fight. Slowly we turn from our carefree childhood and our faces become luminous with the knowledge that we are free to fulfill our dreams . . . dreams that will become reality . . . and we have inherited a vast space of time in which to achieve it.

Sharon Harman and Burt Watkins talk over past memories and future plans.

Time Expands Experiences, Friendships

for Underclass

Life . . . knowing that you belong to the generation emerging into a new future . . . yet you are so young, and feeling it you look towards the upperclassmen with awesome expressions. Realizing that time would bring with it the world of adulthood, you turn to look behind . . . for security of past events . . . remembering the first days of confusion and frustration at losing your way in the vast halls . . . cramming last minute details for the Amer. Lit. final . . . the thrills and excitement which ran high during fall homecoming . . . pink liquid and shattered glass on the floor in chemistry. Friendships and broadening horizons became entwined as each day added experience to your life. Through it all, you . . . maintaining a shaky poise and sophistication of a high school student.

Modern Community Built With Time

and Guidance

Traffic and people . . . the pulse of a city, and Lansing . . . the pulse of a state. While it is a city of conventions and politicians, it is also one of youth. Teenagers . . . a buying power of America . . . wearing the mini-skirt from San Souci . . . buying a pearl at Fox's for that special girl . . . climbing into your first used car at Jack Dykstra Ford, wishing it was a new Mustang . . . shopping for your formal at Knapps while he rents his tux and buys flowers at Barnes Avenue. Youth enjoying the privileges of a capital city . . . growing up into a time more complex than your parents, but your atmosphere preparing you as you go.

This is the way it is: Olds Cutlass S

who said we need graduates at MBT?

whoever it was...
is right.

We need lots of them all over the state. Because they're very important persons at Michigan Bell. And handle a lot of responsible jobs . . . like Telephone Operators, Typists, Key punch Operators, Service Representatives, and many more.

We're sure you've got the special talents these jobs require. So if you want to be involved in the exciting field of telephone communications, now's the time to take advantage of a good opportunity. Be sure to stop by and see us soon.

I look out upon the ocean, into the vast wilderness of untamed waves, which break against my ship; each one hoping to detract from its beauty. In search of comfort, I turn to watch the land in its familiar entirety, slipping away. Comfort there is but little, so I look towards the trying seas and proudly raise my face into the salty breezes, as if to say, "I have strength and courage. I can face your angry storms," and but pray for the peaceful seas to creep back into my life again.

I wish to express my deepest appreciation to Mr.
 James Faulkner, the yearbook advisor, who has given his time and energy in helping young people.
 A special thanks goes to my associate editor, Debra Hawks; the assistant editor, Jane Klepac; and to all the section editors. I would also like to thank Modern Yearbook Co. for being so patient, and finally a wonderful staff for being truly dedicated.

Heaven - what can I say except that
I'm going to miss you next year.
I thought ~~that~~ at least you would have ~~been~~ here for graduation, but that's life & I guess that you are going on to better things - huh?
I guess all of my talking didn't help.
Good luck in your marriage & your job -
I know you'll be successful! Be good to Don - he's great & he's yours for the rest of your life. Thanks for everything - it's been an experience knowing you. Be sure to write to me this summer & all of the time after - I want to keep in touch - okay? Love

Jean,

Thank for saving me a page
I'll try to fill it but I don't know will Jean It's a real honor to know someone like you I'll never forget all the good times that we had like the 9th and playing pool at my house and all the goofy things that were done like delivering those pamphlets for the - if that one day we got back to the house and don't forget the good old steak fry we had for H.E.-Y. Sitting Serious now. I hope that all your dreams of the future will come true and that your life is never filled with sorrows. Jean I'll tell ya something someone told me one - Live each day on earth as if was your last and ~~try~~ live life to the fullest. Good luck as a married woman and have fun being a mom. I'll always remember you Jean and I hope that you

I can wish you
the "good luck"
with your marriage.
and hope you have a great wedding. and hope to see you some time in the future.

Jean
we've been great friends and remember our slumber parties! Good Luck in
New York and stay happy
Love ya
April

Jean,

To a real fine looking girl. I hope you have a real pretty wedding. I wish you the best of luck from there on. I'm sure everyone will miss you at Everett!
But all that matters is that you're happy. Good Luck always.

Jean,
To a real sweet girl. It's been nice knowing you. Be looking for your picture in the mod. magazines
Hope you marriage is a happy one. Best of luck.
You a swell girl and I know ~~the~~ you'll want out of you
Mar

Jean,
To the finest girl
at Everett with a great personality. I wish you & Don all the luck in the world. Have lots of fun. Good Luck in everything you do.
